We Ask Your Help IN Eliminating Waste! In conjunction with the leading merchants in all parts of the United States, we have joined in the movement to obey the government request that no goods be sent out on approval. In doing this we will eliminate the waste of wrapping paper, twine, and valuable time consumed in handling these transactions, both by our clerks and office force. To the individual this saving looks negligible at first thought but if he will take in consideration the number of stores in operation in the United States and the amount of goods that are returned to each of these stores every day, it will readily be seen why the government has asked the merchants and their customers to co-operate in the elimination of this unnecessary waste. In the future, we will have a fitting room where suits, skirts, waists, corsets, and all other articles of wearing apparel may be tried on before they are purchased. Our salesforce is more than willing to devote any amount of time and attention that it may take to see that each customer is properly fitted or suited before leaving the store. In closing this letter let us say just a word in regard to the cash and credit situation: Owing to the ever increasing cost of merchandise, and shorter time allowed us by wholesale houses in which to meet our obligations, we may be forced to do a cash business only, on account of lack of capital. It is our intention to try the credit system for a few weeks longer and we believe that if our customers who are able to settle their accounts will meet them promptly on the first of every month, we may not be forced to change our present system. Realizing that it is an accommodation to many of our friends to run accounts for a few days, we do not want to go on a strictly cash basis unless forced to do so. COST OF LIVING JUMPS

But That Makes No Difference to the Millionaire With a Hobby Old High Cost of living has so jumped during the past twelve months that mere existence has become a sort of luxury.

Your groceryman tells you he simply has to charge the price asked; the clothier informs you that the same suits he sold for $20, are now $40 and $60 each, and a bargain at that; your milkman strikes you off the list in a hurry if you dare demur to $3.75 per quart a month; your wife's winter coat will be close to the $60 mark, and her shoes will be a bargain at $14.50. As to your winter's wood pile—the least said is the best.

Such are the fruits of war, and such are the burdens to be borne by the great army of the secondary defense. It's a great life—if you don't weaken.

But what would your groceryman say if you asked him to knock off his profit in these troublesome times? What would happen if you informed your shoeman, your milk man, your dry goods man, and the rest of the bunch, that they would have to let you have the goods at a reduced price? Would these gentlemen politely accede to your request? They would not. Bankruptcy would follow if they did.

You couldn't expect it—you would not ask it! These are not the good old days of old. Costs have gone up on everything, and quite naturally, too.

In view of the general condition of affairs it is a rather astonishing bit of legislation that Sam Jackson, editor of the Portland Journal would foist onto the statute books this fall. It is astounding to the persons unacquainted with the facts, but to those who understand the motives underlying the proposed measure, Mr. Jackson's scheme is petty, diabolically dirty, and as malicious as any piece of legislation that was ever framed to be "put over" on the citizens of Oregon.

You have your home paper, you believe in it, and you realize that its influence as a community builder is big. Do you know, also, that a man high in affairs of the nation has recently stated that the First, Second, Third and Fourth Liberty loans would never have been possible without the generous support of the press of Oregon and of the nation? Do you know, too, that not one cent of advertising was appropriated by the government to help the press make the loan a success.

But to return to Jackson's malicious measure. He and some Portland attorney have decided that the legal advertising rate which provides that publishers shall not be paid a greater sum than five cents per line, is altogether too high to suit his imperial taste. He therefore has prepared an initiative petition and wants the voters of Oregon to lower the rate, in accordance with his wishes.

This is Millionaire Jackson's way of "getting even" with the press of Oregon. He has been unable to dictate to the thinking editors of the state who have steadily refused to cut the threats of the country editors. Bring his advertising rates down below cost and you can run him out of the field! Isn't it a commendable work for a millionaire publisher to be engaged in?

Unfortunately for Jackson the voters are onto his little game. They believe in their own communities, they believe in their home papers, and they are generous enough to admit that the newspaper men of the state have a God-given right to live in Oregon, in spite of Editor Jackson's personal wishes in the matter.
