VALE, OREGON, SATURDAY, JANUARY 25, 1919

IMPORTANT MATTER UP TO FARMERS. IF YOU WANT AN AGENT, SAY SO.

Every farmer we have asked about a county agent the past week or two recognizes the need for a live wire along this line in Malheur county. "I cannot possibly see how Malheur county can afford to do without the services of a good agricultural agent" is the way one of the prosperous valley farmers answered the question. The question is do they? If they do they should have one and will undoubtedly get one if they make known their wishes.

The following story is illustrative of thousands of similar cases throughout the nation, proving "There's a difference when a county has an agent" There was no county agent in Rankin County, Miss., last year, and the farmers individually could not successfully market their produce. In fact, only one carload of potatoes was shipped out of Star during the season. Conditions at present are very different. Rankin now has a wide-awake agent who believes in cooperative shipping, as is evident from this information received by the United States Department of Agriculture:

"This year our county agent organized a cooperative club and looked after the marketing of our produce. Also he gave us information as to treating seed and necessary fertilizer. This year our agent marketed 22 cars of potatoes cooperatively for us and secured the top market price. Some of the farmers in this community made over $100 per acre. This increase of 21 cars is due to the efforts of our agent, as we could not market our produce alone at a profit.

"Mr. Burk's information given on the proper use of fertilizer has been worth many dollars to me alone. We have secured over 100 bushels of seed wheat through our agent to be planted this fall."

NEED OF COOPERATION, AND OBSERVANCE OF REAL ESTATE ETHICS

We preach teach and believe in many excellent things that we are too weak to practice, and one of these greatest recognized principles is co-operation. Human selfishness is the biggest bother to common sense. Selfishness causes ninety percent of all crime and one of its worst indictments is that of community murder. Too often we all lay down because some one else is laying off, and too often we try to make development conform to our personal notions and advantages rather than shaping our personal affairs to the best interest of the entire community.

In one field especially will this principle make a considerable difference with the settlement of the improved lands in Malheur county. Unless the Real Estate men determine to establish a certain essential working agreement and cooperate with one another to bring in homeseekers, instead of fighting for one another's prospects, they will be able to render the country a mighty little service of value. There are a number of reliable and capable real estate firms in the county and to these the value of co-operation and the cost of unfair competition is well known. But there are apt to "pop up" from time to time "curb stoners" and outside grafters and for this reason the strong and reliable agencies in the county must be on the lookout to prevent a general loss of prestige to the profession. There is nothing that can better help a community than a bunch of live real estate men and there is nothing that can land a knock out to a town quicker than a pack of land fakery.

H. C. L. PROBLEMS HAS MANY ANGLES

Almost anybody, except the farmer, can settle the most important food problems off hand.

Any city editor can prove that milk prices are outrageous, and that bacon should come from the fabled golden calf instead of a mere hog, considering the price it is selling for.

BUT it really is not so simple as it looks. One wouldn't imagine that milk, cheese, butter, bacon, lard, ham, fresh pork, sausage, condensed milk, veal and ice cream all must advance materially when the nation goes to eating whole wheat bread. But the family patent flour, that used seventy per cent of the wheat and left thirty per cent as bran and shorts, gave the dairymen, the cattle feeders, and the hog raisers a concentrated, cheap winter feed that was the mainstay of these industries.

Along came the war, and 100 per cent wheat flour, and no mill feed, or else mill feed at 100 per cent advance.

At one fell swoop the dairy interests, and hog growers, and likewise the big poultry plants, faced a 100 per cent boost in their winter feed bills, and the result has been that the breeding stock of the country has been rushed to the packers this winter, and no matter how feed prices drop the price for dairy products and for eggs and for pork will stay up because there will be more demand than supply.

The much cursed patent flour, and the much scorned by health advisors white bread was the mainstay that preserved cheap milk, butter, eggs and pork products to this nation in the wintertime.

Almost any dairymen knew this. So did the millers. But they were not running the legal machinery, nor fixing flour standards and prices.

The farmer gets stung frequently but finally the consumer in town pays for the salve that greases his stings. Because the farmer can quit feeding.

REPRESENTATIVES WELL PLACED

Senator Julien A. Hurley and Representative P. J. Gallagher have secured important places in the legislature and will make a team that should get results. Have the people of Malheur and Harney counties anything in mind that they want from the legislature. Malheur county wants an appropriation for the county fair. Harney county wants an appropriation for the prosecution of the land fraud cases. Both counties want a lot of good roads and should insist that the highway commission and the state come thru with what is due. We are sure that our delegation at the legislature will do their part.

SELF AID IN ROAD BUILDING

An account is printed elsewhere in this issue of the Enterprise of the Malheur Good Roads Association, which has been organized at Malheur for the improvement of the roads in that district. Another district known as number eighteen in the Dead Ox Flat section has made a special levy of $1,500 for road building. Where is the next progressive district?
