

$230,000 ISSUE

posed it must be remembered that the John Day Highway is already financed from Brogan to Ironside, the state matching $10,000 of the county with over $50,000 and is soon to let the contract for the first eight miles of this road; and also has announced their submission to the Federal Government of their plans to appropriate $105,000 additional in order to complete this link.

Also on the Central Oregon Highway $10,000 of county money will be matched by about $50,000 from the state to build from Vale up the river about eight or ten miles.

The road from Vale to Watson has not received sufficient consideration in the bond issue but it is understood that the county court plans on improving a number of the bad places on this road out of the present road funds.

There are other important roads in the county and there will be ample county money to care for them within the next four or five years. It is expected that the highway commission will be two or three years completing the state highways in Malheur county and the market roads that will be provided for by the county funds and the $60,000 of the bond issue should be in mighty good shape by that time.

The Malheur Enterprise has always advocated a county wide program, and was instrumental in working up interest on a bond issue and stretching same to the limit which is only two per cent of the assessed valuation. We believe that the program as outlined backed up by the active interest being taken in good roads by the people generally, and the intention of the county court to make the program a success, will in a few years change the nature of Malheur county from a big awkward wilderness of disconnected communities to a progressive and united county with districts neighboring to one another and cooperating for their mutual development. Because there is no such producer of harmony and cooperation as understanding one another's problems; and they cannot be appreciated at a distance. Outside of the marketing and tourist value of good roads they are worth their while in the benefits derived from intersectional visits and communication always promoted by better roads.

The voting officers and directors at the Monday evening meeting were recorded as follows:

Robt. D. Lytle, president; W. J. Pinney, Secretary; H. C. Boyer, Treasurer; J. A. Kennedy, J. D. Fairman, George Huntington Curry, O. C. Miller and D. D. Joeclyn, directors at large; C. T. Lackey director for Arcadia precinct; V. V. Hickox, Big Bend; J. O. Thompson, Brogan; G. W. Dean, Cairo; H. F. Looney, Jordan Valley; G. S. Ridgley, Jamieson; Randall Sage, McDermitt; C. H. Morfitt, Malheur; W. G. Thompson, Rome; Ray Jones, Ontario; P. J. Gallagher, Ontario; J. R. Blackaby, Ontario; J. A. McNulty, Watson; F. M. Northrup, Snake River; A. W. Reed, Vale; J. A. Hurley, Vale; W. S. Skinner, Juniper; and G. S. Parks, Rockville.

SALES REPORTED

Warm Springs Realty Company Sell Several Tracts of Malheur Lands

The following sales have been reported the past ten days by the Warm Springs Realty company; 640 acres under the Nevada and shoe string ditches to D. E. Walker of Walla Walla; 64 acres to Trenkle and Koplin; 80 acres to Dr. Thos. C. Ohmart of Pendleton who is a good booster for this section and owns some range land near Brogan; 80 acres belonging to O. W. Porter of Weiser were sold to J. P. Dunaway, this tract lies about two and one half miles east of Vale under the extension of the Nevada ditch.

WORK LESSENS

Production work in the Red Cross will be temporarily suspended for the summer months after the present allotments have been completed, but since the need for garments in all the devastated countries of Europe will be very urgent despite all the garments that the Chapters will be able to produce, materials will be furnished free of charge to any of the Chapters that wish to continue production work. All chapter workers should enroll in a reserve force, subject to call in case of need next fall and winter or in case of emergency.

So far as practicable the rooms and work equipment will be kept intact for use the coming months if needed. Instructions regarding production have had to be changed from time to time resulting from the changed conditions abroad, and many of the chapters still have on hand a quantity of goods to be made into refugee and hospital garments which must be finished before the present allotments can be counted as complete.

STOCKMEN LOOK OVER LAND
J. R. Heuring of the Portland offices of the Oregon Western Colonization company was in Vale this week bringing with him to look over the land here, W. C. Atterton of Cusick, Washington who is interested in hog raising and Ralph Bishop of Marshfield who is extensively interested in dairying.

Attends Tractor Show
Leo Schmidt last week attended the big tractor show in Walla Walla. 33 factories gave practical demonstrations of the newest species of "farm horses". Of special interest was the Fordson exhibit and the Case Tractor display. New methods of farming were demonstrated as well as the latest models of trucks, farm lighting and water systems etc.

NEXT CONVENTION AT BURNS

Harney County Stockmen Will Be Next Hosts to Eastern Oregon Stock Growers

Burns will be the meeting place of the Oregon Stock Growers and Horse Raisers Association at the regular meeting next year according to a decision at the meeting at Bend last week. Burns was picked as a logical place to hold the meeting for it is in the center of one of the world's largest stock country's and as stated by the Burns delegation at this year's meeting, the yell of the cowboy will be heard for all the time of the world's existence in Burns.

SPECIAL MEETING ON

Wyoming Minister Holding Special Evening Meetings at Methodist Church.

Ingratitude To Be Punished
The people of Grant county are wondering why the good people of Baker are fighting the John Day Highway so hard. Down here in Grant county we look on Baker as our trading point and we think they should help us to secure an outlet and develop our country. The delegates from Baker to the State Highway meeting seem to think that their own plans were more important than our trade and development. Grant County will get an outlet in spite of Baker County and when they do, the Baker people need not be surprised if we look for another place to buy our goods.—Grant County Journal.
