

OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

In Pilot Rock, the railroad terminal of the southern part of Umatilla county, the housing problem has become so serious that its jail, vacant for months, has been rented by the city as a dwelling house.

Portland won highest rank among class B cities of the 12th federal reserve district in the victory loan campaign and has been awarded the captured German cannon announced as the prize for this achievement.

Three hundred and fifty thousand dollars for work in Umatilla county is included in the bill reported favorably by the senate irrigation committee, according to word received at Pendleton from Senator McNary.

E. H. Price, who lived at Illabe on Rogue river in Curry county, reports that a prospector named Collins has found, near the Price ranch, a rich gold deposit. It is claimed that the pocket of gold will yield $40,000.

Clinton Bartness, 21 years old, who recently returned from army service, was found shot dead, apparently by accident, in the stable yard at the home of his father on a ranch up the Grand Ronde river, near La Grande.

Rumors are current in Klamath Falls regarding a new railroad project down the Klamath river canyon from Klamath Falls to Crescent City or Eureka, Cal. It is reported that surveyors are at work between this city and Yreka, Cal., on the proposed line.

There is very little chance for the completion of the Natron cut-off to Eugene, or any other railroad construction in the neighborhood of Klamath Falls in the near future, except the Strahorn railroad, which the people are assisting to finance, according to Robert E. Strahorn.

Portland steel shipyard owners have been advised by Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the United States shipping board, that they may take on foreign or American contracts, the same to be submitted to the shipping board on the assurance that the board's approval will be granted.

Fifty ranchers have formed a new company to build a creamery to replace the one burned, which was owned by the Coos Bay Creamery company and under lease to L. A. Blanc. The new company will be capitalized for $15,000 and the structure will be erected either on Coos river or Catching inlet.

In Oregon there are over 300 aliens who canceled their first citizenship papers in order to evade the draft and military service, says the committee appointed by Portland post, No. 1, of the American Legion to take care of problems in connection with the employment of returned service men during the period of reconstruction.

The state democratic committee at a session elected Dr. J. W. Morrow as democratic committeeman for Oregon over Newton W. McCoy. This action was expected to end a contest which has been waged since the resignation of National Committeeman Will H. Hornbrook, who resigned when he went to Vancouver, Wash., to reside.

The Lin county pool of more than 12,000 fleeces, which was offered for sale at the office of County Agricultural Agent Smith in Albany, was not sold, as no bids satisfactory to the managers of the pool were received. The highest bids were 56 cents for medium wool and 42 1/2 cents for coarse. The growers voted to hold for higher prices.

License fees payable annually by corporations in Oregon are due July 1 and are now being received at the office of Corporation Commissioner Schulderman at the rate of about $3000 a day. About $50,000 in fees has been received by Commissioner Schulderman since June 1 and it is estimated that upward of $100,000 will have been received by July 1.

Four Albany judges of good whisky and reputed judges of human nature were separated from $350 in exchange for 30 gallons of colored water. Bootleggers produced several kegs of presumably good whisky and the samples are reported to have been good, but by some clever device each keg contained only a small sample of whisky, the rest of the contents being water.

Social workers from all parts of the state will be interested in the Oregon Conference of Social Workers that will convene June 25 to 28th, inclusive, in Portland. "Juvenile and Parental Delinquency," "Causes of Sex Delinquency," "Scientific Social Work" and other topics along these lines will be discussed by men and women who have spent years in the study of the social problems.

Only one new name appears in the personnel of the state time board for the ensuing year as announced by Governor Olcott. This is Sam H. Moore of Corvallis, appointed by the governor to succeed the warden of the penitentiary, who was removed from membership on the board by a law passed by the recent legislature. Other appointments announced were Benton Bowers, Ashland, representing the Taxpayers' league, re-appointed; John Shimanski, Crabtree, representing the Farmers' union, re-appointed; Dean A. B. Cordley, Corvallis, re-appointed as member from the state at large; B. G. Leedy, Corvallis, representing the State Grange, holds over.

Better Save than Beg or Borrow

After the Revolution, when questions of National finance were uppermost in the minds of all who desired the prosperity and success of the new government, Benjamin Franklin remarked: "A small increase in industry in every American male and female, with a small diminution of luxury, would produce a sum far superior to all we can hope to beg or borrow from all our friends in Europe."

This observation of Franklin has its application to the building of a home. A little more industry, a little denial of luxuries, and one might add, a little foresight, will combine to make home ownership a reality. One of the strongest inducements to the habit of saving is having in mind all the time a definite purpose; and of all the definite purposes one might have, none is more worthy, none sounder economically and none more promotive of happiness and security than the building of a home.

The man who to-day saves for buying a home does so because he can look a little farther into the future than the man who goes on spending all his earnings while living in a rented house, and leaves the "future to take care of itself." He lacks the imagination to project himself into the future ten, fifteen or twenty years, to a period of his life when ownership of a home would afford him the peace and comfort that no other possession can give.

The White Hussars Are Coming

Splendid Musical Organization to Present Two Big Programs at Chautauqua

The White Hussars bring to Chautauqua two of the big musical programs of the week on the fourth day. For several years they have been heavily featured in the East and are recognized as one of the genuine musical successes of the platform. This splendid organization is a singing band with a program of unusual variety. They have an ensemble seldom found in organizations of twice their size. They all possess fine voices and are masters on their many band instruments. The best in the musical library is to be found in their programs, balanced with lighter music and popular airs. Their two programs are of such excellence and variety that whatever your musical taste may be you will be genuinely surprised and pleased.

The Perfect Man

There is a man who never drinks Nor smokes nor chews nor swears; Who never gambles—never flirts And shuns all sinful snares. He's paralyzed!

There is a man who never does A thing that is not right. His wife can tell just where he is At morning, noon or night. He's dead. And that's all!

Lumber is Not High

Now is the Time for the Farmer to Build

With farm products selling at record prices, and lumber having advanced only a fraction as much as other commodities, there is every reason why farmers ought to build NOW, when the things they raise and upon which they depend for their revenue will BUY MORE building material THAN EVER BEFORE. Farm products will buy twice as much lumber today as they would three years ago.
