Social Events of Week

Miscellaneous Shower

Mrs. C. C. Burrow entertained Thursday evening with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Edna Loveland.

The shower came as a complete surprise to Miss Loveland and was a beautiful and novel affair.

It was in the form of a New Year's party. Mrs. Soward represented "Old Father Time" and little Virginia Rigby dressed as Cupid gave the Happy New Year Greetings. After opening a number of humorous packages, a basket laden with beautiful gifts was presented to the bride to be. Among them were linen, cut glass and beautiful handwork.

Each guest was then asked to write advice to the bride and groom either in poetry or prose. A bouquet of carnations was given Mrs. Thos. Jones and Mrs. Earl Neeley, the prize winners.

The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers. Late in the evening delicious refreshments were served.

Baskets made of grape fruit, the handles trimmed with smilax and tiny lighted candles placed on the side of each basket made a pretty picture, with all lights turned out and only the glow from the fire place shining.

About thirty guests were present.

Covered Luncheon

Mrs. George Davis entertained the P. E. O. at her charming home Tuesday afternoon with a covered luncheon. It was a novel affair and the afternoon was pleasantly spent in a social way. Twelve guests attended the occasion.

Ladies Aid

The Ladies Aid of the Christian Church met at the home of Mrs. Melton Friday afternoon at a business session of the society.

Dinner Guests

Mr. Harrison of Boise, auditor of the Home Lumber Company, was a business visitor in Vale last week and on Thursday evening was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Simmonds.

Seventh Grade Club

Saturday afternoon the seventh grade Girl's Club met at the home of little Miss Orpha Ager and spent a jolly afternoon playing games and deciding on club work. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Ager to the girls.

Social Afternoon

Mrs. John Hardwick entertained several friends at her home Tuesday afternoon at a social affair. Mrs. Hugh Thayer was an out of town guest.

Shrine Club

Dr. Frank Brown was host at a delightful party on Tuesday evening. Guests were members of the Malheur County Shrine Club who reside in Vale.

The living room was lovely, with baskets of roses and carnations.

In the early part of the evening arrangements were made and plans discussed for a dinner-party to be given on January 31st, at which all the members of the club will be entertained in Vale.

After the business session, a pleasant social evening was spent and cards enjoyed. There were three tables of bridge and as usual Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Burrow were the winner of the evening. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Burrow, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCall, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Speith, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Young, and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ager.

KANRED HARD WHEAT IS HIGH IN YIELDS

Variety Is Resistant to Leaf and Stem Rust.

Developed From Single Head of Crimean Wheat Selected at Kansas Experiment Station—Pure Seed Is of Importance.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Kanred is a wheat which is resistant to prevalent forms of leaf and stem rust, is less liable to winter killing than the Turkey or Kharkof, and matures from one to four days sooner than those varieties, which sometimes means escape from bad weather conditions. It outyields the varieties named in the principal hard winter wheat section by from three to five bushels per acre. The variety was developed from a single head of Turkeys and Kanred Wheat—The Latter Yields More Because of Rust Resistance, Earliness and Hardiness.

Crimean wheat selected at the Kansas agricultural experiment station ten years ago, from which source it is estimated that 2,000,000 acres were harvested in 1921.

"Kanred Wheat" is the title of Department Circular 194, just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. Kanred is a hard red winter wheat very similar to Turkey. It is bearded and has hairless chaff. The superior yields of the Kanred variety in northern and northwestern Kansas, eastern Colorado, southwestern Wyoming, and in Nebraska and South Dakota appear to have been due largely to its resistance to rust and to winter killing.

Kanred wheat may be grown with success wherever other hard-winter wheats are grown and should partly replace the Turkey and Kharkof varieties now widely grown. It shows no special advantage in the northern great plains and the Pacific northwest. It cannot compete with the soft winter wheat varieties grown on the lower lands and the richer soils of eastern Kansas or the eastern United States, and is not winter hardy enough to replace spring wheat in northern plains. Wherever Turkey or Kharkof hard-winter wheats are grown, however, the Kanred can be grown with equal chances of success.

In milling and baking experiments Kanred has compared favorably with other hard red winter wheats. For successful growing pure seed is necessary, and because of similarity of the seed to other varieties certification has been found essential. This certification is made by the Kansas Crop Improvement association with the co-operation of the Kansas agricultural experiment station.

SOME NOVEL TRIMMINGS

Hand-Made Decorations Favored by Paris Dressmakers.

Designers Are in Strong Competition to Produce Most Unusual Ideas in Ornamentation.

Designers appear to be competing with one another in an effort to create unusual trimmings, writes a Paris fashion correspondent.

Renee, who has always excelled in hand-made decorations, is offering many suggestions, particularly in self-materials. She makes considerable use of the tabs of the same material as the garment, usually massing them at the side or front in panel effect.

Another effective method of ornamentation popular with this designer is lenlike points and narrow strips of silk or cloth pasted together and then massed to form a design.

She gains an unusual effect by making flowers of the material used for the dress and tipping the points of the petals with gold sealing wax. This sort of trimming frequently is used on velvet frocks. Renee also treats tiny ribbon loops and short fringes in this way, using for these a sealing wax slightly darker than the fabric.

Lavin is lavish with trimmings. She makes unstinting use of applique designs of monkey fur in either black or brown. She is quite as prodigal in her use of trimming on garments of fur as on those of cloth. For instance, a model in Tibet lamb may be trimmed with bands of white rabbit.

An original idea in embroidery done with tiny shells has been launched by this designer. So diminutive are these shells that they present an appearance of pearl embroidery. Lavin uses this type of trimming on evening gowns and headresses.

Embroideries, particularly those inspired by the Polish Renaissance, are of prime importance in all of the fall collections. They are most effective on plain dresses, the sleeves of which carry the trimming.

News Notes of the Week at the Vale School

Editorial Staff.

Assistant Editor ..... Valeda King
Joke Editor and Cartoonist ..... Kenneth McGillivray

Editorial.
Now that the first semester examinations are over, the high tension of suspense is somewhat slackened and the students of the High School are back into an organized routine of work. Some have taken on additional subjects and others have simply changed their course as circumstances demand. There were practically no failures in the examinations, and the few which did occur were largely due to irregular attendance during the semester.

The twelve copies of the Operetta which is to be given by the High School in February, arrived Wednesday and work will be begun on some of the leading parts next week. A larger part of the work of the chorus class will be on this when the cast of characters is decided.

The basket ball game which was played Friday of last week between the seventh and eighth grade boys was won by the former by a score of 36 to 15.

The seventh grade girls and boys challenged the eighth grade girls and boys to a game of basket ball, which was played Wednesday the eighteenth.

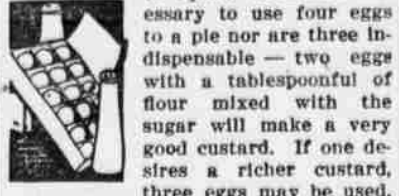

The sixth grade has challenged the seventh grade for a game of basket ball to be played next Wednesday night, the twenty-fifth. A good game is expected.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS.

A good custard pie well made and baked is a dessert which it is hard to equal. It is not necessary to use four eggs to a pie nor are three indispensable—two eggs with a tablespoonful of flour mixed with the sugar will make a very good custard. If one desires a richer custard, three eggs may be used.

Coffee Custard.—To three slightly beaten eggs add one-half cupful of sugar, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of strong coffee and a cupful of cream. Strain into cups, set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until firm. Serve cold with:

Caramel Sauce.—Melt one-half cupful of sugar in a smooth omelet pan, stirring constantly. When melted add one-half cupful of boiling water and simmer until the sugar is dissolved.

Potato Timbale.—Spread a pan thickly with butter, then cover with fine dry crumbs, roll beaten egg lightly all over the surface, then dust with crumbs again. Fill the pan with hot mashed potato, seasoned highly with salt, pepper and butter, onion juice with cream and two egg yolks to each pint of potato. Bake thirty minutes in a moderately hot oven. Invert on a hot platter and let stand ten minutes before removing the mold.

Tomato Sauce.—Brown one-fourth of a cupful of butter, add five tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until well mixed. Add one and one-half cupfuls of brown stock and the same amount of stewed and strained tomato, one large slice each of carrot and onion finely chopped, a small bit of bay leaf, a sprig of parsley, four cloves, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt, pepper and tabasco sauce to taste. Cook twenty minutes and pour over the croquettes when ready to serve.

Popovers.—Beat one egg until light, add one cupful of milk to the beaten yolk, then stir in one cupful of flour and fold in the egg white with one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt. Bake in deep granite or crockery cups, well greased. This recipe makes seven popovers which should bake about 40 minutes in an oven hot enough to bake bread.

SPREAD OLD STRAW ON LAWN

Considerable Fertility Can Be Obtained—Winterkilling of Wheat Is Prevented.

Farmers who have old stack bottoms on their farms should put this straw in a manure spreader and put it on the land. Considerable fertility can be returned by this means, and at the same time an eyesore can be eliminated from the farm yard. By placing racks on the sides of the manure spreader much straw can be hauled at a load. Where this straw is wet, of course, the rack will not be needed. New straw that will not be used for feed could be placed on the winter wheat, and this will furnish a good covering and make a good fertilizer. One farmer last winter reported that the use of straw prevented winter-killing.

Merle Noyes and Ed Griffin, who have been working in Vale several weeks past, left Monday afternoon for Ontario.

R. S. Lowe came from Payette to Vale on Wednesday and was a business visitor here several days.

Visit Here—

Mrs. C. Romph and son Wayne of Parma motored to Vale the first of the week and visited friends and Harold Romph several days this week. Wayne returned home Wednesday and Mrs. Romph left on Friday for Parma after enjoying a very pleasant visit.

Visits Friend—

Wm. Peutz visited his friend, Win Brown, of the Malheur Enterprise, this week. Mr. Peutz is a farmer and stockman of the Owyhee country and served as a jurymen in the county seat.

In Payette—

Mrs. Thos. Nordale went to Payette the first of the week because of the illness of Mrs. L. A. Sterling. She will remain there until Mrs. Sterling recovers.

From Ontario—

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thayer, who live near Ontario, visited at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rose, the first of the week. They returned home Wednesday.

Mr. Wise and Ernest Locey of Ironside were guests at the Alceve rooms last week because of court interests. H. G. Kennard made a business trip to Ontario Tuesday.
