"Hay will be hay" in Owyhee this year, from present indications, and not in as great a quantity as usual, as many farmers have plowed up portions of their alfalfa and put the land into other crops, on account of the weevil.

Public Economy Motto of Republican Administration

Operating Expenses of Government Reduced Nearly One Half by Republican Congress Working in Harmony With Executive Department

U. S. REPRESENTATIVE MARTIN B. MADDEN (ILLINOIS), CHAIRMAN HOUSE COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS

The estimates submitted by President Wilson for the conduct of the Government for the fiscal year 1921 amounted to $6,150,000,000, and the appropriations made under these estimates by a Republican Congress amounted to $4,789,000,000, showing an approximate saving in appropriations for that year of $1,400,000,000.

The estimates submitted by President Wilson for the fiscal year 1922 were $5,600,000,000, and the appropriations made under these estimates by a Republican Congress were reduced to $3,965,000,000, showing an approximate saving of $1,600,000,000.

The estimates for the fiscal year 1923 submitted by President Harding amount to $3,853,000,000, and the appropriations, when completed, will probably be $3,500,000,000, or $352,000,000 less than the estimates.

The people of the United States should understand that for many years to come it will not be possible to run the Government for less than $3,500,000,000 per annum. This seems like a very large sum, but when it is realized that we have three fixed charges, consisting of interest on the public debt, sinking fund, and maintenance of the Veterans Bureau, which were created by the war and amount to approximately $2,000,000,000 per annum, it will be seen that the other expenses of the Government have been reduced by the Republican administration to $1,500,000,000.

The annual cost of the Government before the war was $1,250,000,000. Thus it will be seen that the present cost, aside from the fixed charges referred to, is but $250,000,000 in excess of pre-war cost, and at least $150,000,000 of this is accounted for by the normal increase in the business of the postal service, leaving but $100,000,000 of expense for ordinary purposes in excess of pre-war costs.

Any one who has followed the conduct of the Government since Mr. Harding's induction into the presidency must marvel at the rapidity with which the cost of government has been reduced. It is the constant aim of the administrative and legislative branches of the government, all in control of the Republican Party, to administer the affairs of the Government on a strictly business basis, expending not a single dollar for any purpose not essential to the Nation's needs.

The one thing on which all are agreed is rigid economy in Government expenditure, and nothing can more forcibly portray the story of accomplishment achieved in this direction than the statement that costs have been reduced to the extent above indicated.

One billion, five hundred and seventeen million have been expended on the care of the wounded and sick soldiers of the World War up to February 1st, last, indicating that nothing has been left undone to provide for the care and comfort of the men who gave themselves to the country in its hour of need.

The country is to be congratulated on having Mr. Harding in the presidency. The problems handed down to him from the war complicated though they are, have been solved in the interest of the people. He has had the vision to see, the patriotism to do, and the courage and ability to achieve. His devotion to the Nation's needs has been the admiration of all who have watched him. He has been zealous, painstaking, patriotic, untiring and unselfish, and he has had and will have the hearty co-operation of the Congress in his efforts to put the country on a stable basis.

Nineteen hundred and twenty-three will find America the only country in the world living within its income. The people have reason to rejoice at this accomplishment of their President and their Congress.

Cultivation Gets Morning Glories. The only way to control morning glories in eastern Oregon is to keep them bladed off deeply and often enough that no leaves get above ground, thus starving the roots. If leaves get above ground for only a few days, they will store up enough food to last for several weeks.

Clean Seed Wheat Pays. If rye mixtures and volunteer bunches of wheat are pulled out of the part of the field to be saved for seed, higher grading wheat for next year will be assured. The higher the grade the better the price.—O. A. C. Experiment Station.

How is Your Car's Electrical Equipment?

Perhaps you don't know. But perhaps your battery may run down quickly right after you have it charged. Or your generator may grind— Or one light might keep going on and off— Or your motor may be skipping and missing in spite of new plug after new wiring. If so, then the wiring and relative electrical part of your car should be looked over. Drive in some time when you are near here.
