Mac Says

Mary had a little cold,
It started in her head,
And everywhere that Mary went,
That cold was sure to spread.
It followed her to school one day
(There wasn't any rule)
It made the children cough and sneeze
To have that cold in school.
The teacher tried to drive it out,
She tried hard, but, kerchoo!
It didn't do a bit of good,
For teacher caught it, too.
If they had taken just a box
Of "Mac's Cold Tablets" true,
Then Mary, teacher and the school,
Would have escaped the Flu.

MORAL: Take Mac's Cold-Tablets and find that a dose in time saves lots of trouble. They are 25c a box.

"I knew him when he was a boy"

What one is there of us that has not felt the glow of satisfaction over the outstanding success of a life-long friend? Often a surprise—seemingly "all of a sudden." Yet neither surprising nor sudden, when you stop to think back over each step of his progress.

THE United States Rubber Company—makers of U. S. Royal Cords—were first to conceive, make and announce the balanced tire. A tire in which there is such complete unity of action in tread and carcass that neither will give way before the other.

First to conceive, make and announce a complete line of tires—a tire for every need of price and use under one standard of quality.

First to tell the public about the good and bad in tire-retailing. (You remember the phrase "Go to a legitimate dealer and get a legitimate tire.")

First also to arouse industrial and trade minds to the need of a new kind of tire competition. (Competition for better and better values. Greater and greater public confidence.)

THESE high spots along the U. S. road to leadership indicate the intent—the will to win by the quality route in a price market.

Now that so many car-owners have given their verdict for quality tires in general, and U. S. Tires in particular—a number of dealers and car-owners whose vision has been clouded by "discounts," "sales" and what not, are beginning to remember that they "knew him when he was a boy."
