PAUL REVERE, immortalized in song and story, was the "speed merchant" of his day

Remember how in a wild night of terror he aroused the Minute Men of Lexington and Concord with his cry: "The Redcoats are coming!"

The Merchants of Vale wish to arouse you to the fact that Christmas is coming—so be prepared to do your shopping early so that you can choose from complete assortments, with deliberate thought and without hurry.

It need hardly be mentioned that even in the emergencies of holiday business our stores safeguard quality and promote values.

State Monopoly of Schools would cost—
In taxes—
Over $1,000,000 a year for operation
Over $3,000,000 for buildings and grounds

THE first cost of state monopoly of schools would be something over three million dollars for new buildings and grounds. We would have to pay a yearly tax of over one million dollars for operation in addition to what we are paying now.

They propose that Oregonians pay this bill for "Real Americanism." But it is not Americanism to take away the right of the parent to control the education of the child.

They propose that we pay this bill to have "Compulsory School," but we actually have compulsory school right now under the present law.

We do not wish to get into an educational argument in connection with the bill. We are simply bringing the facts to the attention of those who may not know them.
