CHERRYVILLE

Harbingers of spring. Birds are singing, frogs are croaking, and grass is growing.

It is hardly to be expected that spring has arrived in reality, but it looks like it in gazing around over the fields and at the bursting buds and the growing grass.

Fox & Pridemore of Sandy moved up to Government Camp the first of the week where they will begin preparations for the season's business. Their fine new hotel, finished with Alaska cedar, the finest timber in the country, contains 40 rooms and the attic holds 60 single beds for a rush or boom season. Business at this hotel is increasing yearly as more and more people are climbing Mt. Hood each returning year. Lumber is already on the ground for erecting a good substantial warm house at the snow line where guests and tourists can be kept comfortably over night for the climb in the early morning.

Petitions are being circulated for removing all the racks and hatcheries along the Sandy river as people above here complain that they are getting no more fish like they did formerly, and that the present artificial way is mostly hump. Men who have worked in these hatcheries, like Frank Stone and Joe Wall, say the salmon when released are the most helpless things imaginable. Being used to having their food given to them they soon fall a victim to starvation or to their numerous enemies.

Six different parties are expected out this week from Portland to settle on railroad land south and west of town. On some of the quarter sections there are more than $6000 worth of cedar logs and stumps and there is a down hill pull all the way to a good road along which there will be a good logging railroad built. Why do we allow these greedy corporations to continue in holding up the government?

When the Revolution began George Washington and wife were the wealthiest people in the colonies, being estimated worth $1,000,000 a vast fortune in that day and yet that noble character did not hesitate to put it in jeopardy together with his life and cast in his lot with the struggling people in their aspirations for liberty and justice. What a man he was! We ought to be proud—and we are proud—that we are the sons of those illustrious sires.

KELSO

R. Jonsrud and family, Miss Lamoreaux, R. E. Jarl and M. Kligel and family attended the entertainment at Sandy Monday night, by Della Crowder Miller. It was indeed a rare treat to listen to this literary artist's interpretations from "Ben Hur."

Our school celebrated St. Valentine's day with a valentine box, and afterwards a lively debate by Mr. Purcell's pupils on the unsettled question: "Who deserves greater honor, Lincoln or Washington?"

Jonsrud Bros. and A. Skogan are building an outlet road along the line between their land, which will open up the country in that direction.

Mrs. W. H. Hutchinson has returned home from the hospital.

Martin Mikelson was married recently.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hauglum, February 16th, a son.

CORBETT

The regular meeting for Columbia Grange was held Sat. Feb. 7th with a very good attendance. A Temperance program was presented by the lecturer, and W. R. Knight wrote a very good paper explaining the Currency Bill and the Regional Banking business was discussed. Mrs. J. T. Rea and Miss Ethel Smith played an instrumental Duet, and Mrs. C. E. Smith, Ethel and Mrs. J. T. Rea sang a trio, the Hawaiian Song, "Aloha Oe."

Rev. Ruder, of Portland, preached to an attentive audience Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. Thomas Robinson, of Fairview was calling in this vicinity Monday. Frank Reed sat in the Good Semartin hospital suffering from the effects of a sprained knee.

Miss Anna Benfield returned from Seattle Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Buxton were in Portland Monday.

R. P. Rasmussen, sold several of his Jersey cows to a man near Gresham. W. R. Knight was in Portland Monday.

Mrs. Lucy Kincaid, had a fine young sow killed by the train last week.

Mrs. Albert Fox and baby, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reed Tuesday.

F. C. Reed was in Portland on business Wednesday.

Lewis Benfield, who holds a position with the Fire Dept. was visiting relatives in this vicinity Wednesday.

GRESHAM

Miss Lella Gibbs, who has been nursing at Troutdale has returned to her home here.

Mrs. Mary Murray, of Ridgefield Wash, visited her sister, Mrs. B. W. Emery, last week.

Next Friday evening there will be a basket ball game between the Orient school team and the Gresham team.

Miss Harriet Alexander, of the Dalles, was a Gresham visitor last Saturday.

Rev. Wire visited his parents at Newberg the first of the week.

D. J. Culy, who has been working at Manzanita beach for some time, has returned and reports fine weather at the beach.

Mrs. Bernice Sedgast, of Portland, is visiting at the home of her uncle John Brown.

Harry J. Puller, former book-keeper for Lewis Shattuck has purchased Bragg and Duncan's grocery store.

CHICKEN TALK FROM MANY SOURCES

Sprout some oats for green food. The hens like them best that way.

Beef scraps get more eggs than red pepper and does not hurt the hens.

Eighty eggs per hen is the average. Better hens and thoughtful handling will raise the average.

Scaly legs is caused by a mite which succumbs to a dose of sulphur and lard, creolin, carbolineum, or zenoleum.

Begin the season well by having your coops well cleaned, whitewashed or sprayed with cresote or carbolineum.

Lice and mites are especially bad in Oregon and they will soon take a hen's vitality.

Pullet eggs are not as good for setting as those of older birds. Their eggs are usually smaller than those of older hens and as a consequence cannot supply the food for as large a chick.

Look out for rats. Rats like chicken as well as you do and a few rats can clean up a hatching in a day or so.

Select eggs from the hen that has produced the most. That is the only way to build up a good strain of layers.

The big eater may not be a big layer, but the big layer may be a big eater. Look out for that. Thin out the big eaters unless they pay for their board.

Here is where the trap nest pays for itself.

A filthy, damp roost will probably result in enfeebled birds. The chemical poisons arising from damp, decaying droppings will subject your birds to disorders, colds and disease.

Don't feed the young chicks too much. It were better to give them food oftener, and not so much at a time. Overfeeding leads to indigestion and crop troubles.

Give the hens some milk to drink. Feed them sour milk occasionally and give them a mess of clabber or curds once in a while.

A little salt and slacked lime in the chop will do them good and supply bone and shell material not found in the food usually given.

The cockerel that crows first is likely to be an early matured bird. Mark him for your breeding pen next year.

It is just as important to keep the young chicks warm as not to overheat them. There is really less likelihood of over heating than underheating. It too warm the chicks will scatter out if comfortable. But chilling develops a cold and dysentery.

A contributor to Farm and Fireside reports the death of a hen that she had had for twenty-three years and that seemed to be about two years old at the time she bought her. She estimates that while in her possession this hen laid in the neighborhood of 7,500 eggs. Rarely do representatives of the chicken family attain a greater age than twelve or fifteen years.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. This disease is the only positive cure ever known as the medical fraternity, Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address P. J. CHILDS & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all Druggists, etc. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Winter Cough

A stubborn, annoying, depressing cough hangs on, racks the body, weakens the lungs, and often leads to serious results. The first dose of Dr. King's New Discovery gives relief. Henry D. Sanders, of Cavendish, Vt., was threatened with consumption, after having pneumonia. He writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery ought to be in every family; it is certainly the best medicine for coughs, colds or lung trouble." Good for children's coughs. Money back if not satisfied. Price 50c. and $1.00. At all Druggists. H. E. Bucklen & Co. Philadelphia or St. Louis

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Ralph P. Lawrence and a neighbor by the name of Link had an altercation on north Main street Saturday evening which ended in Mr. Lawrence getting badly cut up. Mr. Link being the smaller of the two men, used a knife in self defense. They both got enough and seem disposed to regard the affair with regrets.

Tremont Items

Mrs. Svenski has been entertaining company during the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeburger of Tremont are expecting company within the next week.

Tremont Fire Company made a record run to Lents Saturday. The truck with about a dozen men, drawn by a local team, required seven minutes to cover the distance. The Tremont apparatus is much in demand since the additions have been made.

Joe Lockwood of 59th street and 72, is building a new 28x28 bungalow.

Mrs. Fred Foote has been seriously ill this week.

The Morrison Lumber Company is putting a new inclosure about its grounds.

WOODMERE

The citizens of Woodmere have constructed an excellent gravel walk on the west side of 72nd street from the station to the school house, thus supplying a "long felt want." They are especially indebted to Mr. Frank Melvin, president of the Woodmere Parent-Teacher's Association for inauguration and completion of the enterprise. The P. R. W. very generously furnished the gravel at a nominal cost, which shows that not all corporations are "souless." Eight new residences have been erected in this tract during the winter.

Rev. O. W. Taylor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will preach next Sunday at 4 p. m.—the anniversary of the birth of Washington—a sermon appropriate for the occasion. We hope to see a full house. For in this day of "graft and fraud" tis good to "look back" to the lives of Washington and Lincoln for inspiration. We wish every church in the land would observe the day in a similar manner. Pioneer.
