C. J. Littlepage of Mosier was looking after his real estate property near here the first of the week.
 Miss Iva Reed spent Tuesday in Portland.
 Sylvester Evans was out from Salem Wednesday and Thursday.
 Laura Reed visited in Troutdale Wednesday.
 Miss Oza Beantmount of Portland was the guest of Mrs. L. Benfield Sunday.
 Sig Kington, recently from Gresham, opened a barber shop at Corbett Saturday.
 A large crowd was in attendance at the dedication services Sunday. Three sermons were preached during the day and Mrs. Clara G. Eason, State Sunday School missionary, gave a splendid talk on Bible school work. There were five accessions to the church by letter.
 Rev. Ford of Woodburn gave a stereopticon lecture Monday evening.
 W. H. Reed spent Sunday in Troutdale with his daughter, Mrs. Fox.

CHERRYVILLE

The spring days of last week were enjoyed by all.
 While frightful blizzards were raging in the east, spring flowers were blooming in Oregon.
 The first issue of the Sandy News, successor to the Eastern Clackamas Journal, appears this week.
 Ray Murray has gone up to Rowe to work on a road being built by Lige Coleman.
 Success to the Editor of the Herald in his aspirations as a member of the Oregon Legislature. We need sincere, honest men who are not "flim-flammers" or humbugs who are continually asking themselves while in office that miserable interrogative "Where do I come in?" without any regard to the interests of the people who they represent or misrepresent.
 Officials of the proposed railroad from Bull Run or Cottrell were out over the extension up to Welches last Saturday going over the route from Bull Run to Welches and returning through Cherryville and Sandy. On Sunday they went up in the 36 country and inspected that immense body of heavy timber which will have to be moved down a flume or logging road to the auto road. It is a cinch they will not go up to Welches on the north side of the Sandy river and come up out of the Bull Run canyon and over or through the mountain between the Little Sandy and big Sandy rivers.
 The new post office at Cherryville is now in operation and is located at the very best possible place to be obtained here, being right at the Four Corners.
 Five different varieties of spring flowers were found in one day by one of the schoolchildren one day last week. Pretty good for stormy March.
 Old-timers say that a dry summer invariably follows a winter with little or no snow.
 Efforts are being put forth for the manufactory of clothes-pins and other articles here. We surely have lots of timber and water-power going to waste.

Another good feature of the testing association is that, if rightly managed, it furnishes all the organization necessary for the co-operative purchase of feed and other supplies and for the conduct of community breeding enterprises—both of which are important factors in more economical production.
 The man who raised the great Jersey cow, Jacoba Irene, did not bother about weighing and testing and sold her for about $100—the price of an ordinary cow. Later she proved to be worth a small fortune, setting a new world's record by the production of over 1000 pounds of butter in a year.
 Daily Oregonian, Herald, McCall's Magazine and Sunset, all for the regular price ($6.00) of the Oregonian, if taken at the Herald office.
