BEST WAY TO CLEAN FLOORS

Petroleum Alone or Mixed With Paraffine Oil Will Keep Them in Perfect Condition.

The less water used on floors the better. Painted, varnished and oiled floors may be cleaned with crude petroleum. Use a woolen cloth, and rub the boards to clean them. After this close the room for a few hours, then cover an old floor brush with a piece of woolen cloth and rub the floor hard. This will polish and remove all superfluous oil. Occasionally, add half pint of paraffine oil to a quart of petroleum. This will keep the floors in a fine condition. Be sure to get all the superfluous oil off or it will take up dust and make the floors dingy.

Painted, varnished and oiled floors can be wiped with a cloth wrung out of water; but it removes the luster. Waxed floors should be wiped with a soft cloth or dust mop, and if any real soiled places remain, a rag dipped in turpentine will efface them, after which it will be necessary to rub over the spot with a cloth moistened with the wax.

Achieved by Planting the Seeds From a Grapefruit.

An effective centerpiece for the dining table and secured without a cent of cost, is made from planting the seeds of the grapefruit. The fruit must be ripe to obtain the best results. As they germinate very slowly, it is well to soak the seeds over night, or slit the outer covering with a knife and plant about a half inch deep. quite thickly. If all of them do not come up, some more may be shoved into the bare spots. Keep the soll well watered, but be sure there is plenty of drainage, and the prospective fernery must be kept in a warm place. Several weeks or maybe months will sometimes elapse before the plants are more than an inch high, but when they get past their infancy the showing will be beautiful and will make a centerpiece that will stand even a small amount of neglect, and still be a fresh piece of house greenery for the entire season.

Nature never intended woman to be delicate, ailing, or a sufferer from "nerves." Women in middle age complain of "hot flashes." A celebrated doctor was sometimes inclined to sleep in church during the sermon and a friend who was with him in the pew one Sunday joked with him about nodding now and then. The doctor insisted he had been awake all the time.

"Now then," said his friend, "can you tell me what the sermon was about?"

"Yes, I can," said the doctor. "It was about half an hour too long."-Columbia State.
