THE Oregonian is working itself black in the face because Dr. Smith, nominee for governor by the Democrats, has stated that he spent $565 in postage, cards, etc., and that his visible collections amount to $3000. That he sent as high as six communications to many voters and hence must have had the disposition of more money. We are glad to see the Oregonian taking notice of these things. It shows a disposition to favor political if not moral improvement. Two years ago the Oregonian backed a senatorial campaign in which the average daily expense must have been as much as Dr. Smith has spent in his entire campaign and yet the Oregonian never whispered. In fact it helped to spend the money. It probably got more of it than Mr. Smith spent in his entire campaign and yet never complained. On the other hand it maintained to the very last that their man was conducting an absolutely clean and fair campaign well within the limits of the corrupt practices act.

These are tight times we are told, but there are a few things that might be done anyway. Lents and other parts of Mt. Scott could attend the numerous little things that would help in the improvement of our own suburb and still cost the residents very little outlay. There is a great need of improved doorways, lawns and small shrubbery. There is too many places where indifference is shown. The ordinary front yard can be spaded up as an "odd job" in a week. This if done in the fall will show a fine seed bed in the spring. Plant it to grass and you will soon have an inexpensive improvement that will add very materially to the value of your property.

Along with this don't forget the back yards. Back yards were not intended for dump grounds. They are the kitchen laboratory of your outdoor estate. Their healthfulness and convenience and tasteful condition will add considerably to the general welfare of the community. The tin cans, scrap heaps and slop holes all contribute foul and nauseating odors and ultimately develop disordered health.

The disposition to cure all evils both local and political, by resolution, is one of the mistakes of most organizations looking to public improvement. A better result would be attained by a study of social and political conditions, the improvement of the members intellectually and endorsement of competent honest men for public trusts.

NOTES OF THE W. C. T. U.

The president of Mt. Scott Union, Mrs. Dunbar, is visiting friends in Newberg.

The regular meeting of the Union will be held at the Evangelical Church on June 23. The calendar gives the program as follows: Bible study; gospel lifting; The mountain pattern; psalms 121; report of civic committee; report of special committee on summer vacation camp; W. C. T. U. social work illustrated.

The people of Mt. Scott district are greatly honored in that they have in their midst the only woman in the state entrusted with a place upon the state ticket of any political party. The prohibition party selected as their candidate for the office of state labor commissioner one who has for years lived within this district, one who has daily been inspired by the beauty of the contour and the constance of the verdure of old Mount Scott. The office of labor commissioner is one calling for unusual abilities. The one woman in the state of Oregon whose research and constant study has prepared for acceptably filling so difficult a position is Mrs. L. F. Addison, who lives on Main street, Lents, and we all hope she may be elected. As state worker and a national lecturer for the labor department of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Addison has acquired a knowledge of labor conditions which is rarely accomplished by busy women.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.

BUCKWHEAT has more heat giving elements than wheat. It should be used, then, in cold weather. As it is a trifle hard to digest, after eating buckwheat cakes one should exercise a little. These griddle cakes are all right for those who work hard or exercise a great deal, but sedentary persons should partake of them sparingly.

Nice Brown Cakes.

Buckwheat cakes brown better when prepared with boiling milk instead of water. To make them light and tender the cakes require the addition of baking soda just before they are baked.

If you wish only a moderate quantity of the griddle cakes try these proportions:

Mother's Buckwheat Cakes.—Take a pint of boiling milk and pour it on half a cupful of yellow cornmeal which has been sifted fine with half a teaspoonful of salt. Stir well together and allow to become lukewarm, then add half a cupful of sifted flour and half a cupful of buckwheat. Then mix well with a cupful of yeast. Cover the bowl in which the batter has been mixed and stand in a warm place to rise until morning. When ready to bake mix in a saltspoonful of baking soda.

A Hasty Breakfast Dish.

Quick Buckwheat Cakes.—These are mixed with water and so are less expensive than the others. The molasses used in this recipe is supposed to make them brown. Take a pint and a half of buckwheat, a cupful each of yellow cornmeal and flour. Stir these together, then add three heaping teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of molasses. Mix to a batter with water, not too cold. The cakes should be mixed just before they are needed for baking.

Toothsome Pancakes.

Buckwheat Pancakes.—These proportions will provide enough for a large family. Take a quart of buckwheat flour, add to it half a pint of cornmeal and a tablespoonful of salt. Mix a cupful of cold milk with three cupfuls of hot water and when lukewarm stir it slowly into the dry ingredients to prevent lumping. Beat till smooth, add a yeast cake dissolved in tepid water and continue beating five minutes. Put aside to rise. Before baking in the morning mix an even teaspoonful of soda in a cupful of warm milk and beat into the batter, which should form in bubbles. Pour the batter on to a hot greased griddle in small, round cakes. They should be a rich brown when baked. Serve with fresh butter and hot maple syrup.

Light Desserts.

Banana Custard.—Make a rich custard and add mashed bananas flavored with orange, lemon, pineapple or vanilla essence and sweetened to taste.

Bananas cooked or baked with tapioca give a nice flavor to the pudding.

Banana Mold.—Take the yolks of two eggs and beat them with two tablespoonfuls of sugar and a teaspoonful of cornstarch. Thicken a pint of milk with it, cool and flavor with vanilla. Slice two or three bananas into a dish, pour the custard over and drop meringue on top, ornament with bits of jelly and serve.

With a Cereal.

Bananas and Tapioca.—Take a pint of sweet milk, scald and stir into it a tablespoonful of fine tapioca. Let it cook until dissolved. Remove from the fire and add the beaten yolks of two eggs, then set on the fire until it thickens. Take off and when cool add the beaten whites of the eggs, folding in carefully a little at a time. In the serving dish have two bananas peeled and sliced thin and pour over them the tapioca cream.

A Fruit Cream.

Banana Cream.—Take a pint of cream, some bananas, two oranges, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, three-quarters of a cupful of powdered sugar and one tablespoonful of pulverized gelatin. Soak the gelatin in an eighth of a cupful of cold water, then dissolve it in an equal quantity of boiling water. Whip the cream and stand it on ice. Peel the bananas, slice and rub them through a sieve. Add the pulp and juice of the oranges, the lemon juice and the sugar. Blend thoroughly and mix with the gelatin. Stand in a cold place until it begins to stiffen. Add the whipped cream and stir all lightly together. Put into a mold and stand on ice until it is served. Turn out on a flat dish and serve with plain or whipped cream.

All sorts of pets will be allowed and from all over the city, provided they are the property of the children, and provided, too, that they are muzzled—that is the dogs. The chickens need not be muzzled. But if there are any knockers they had better be muzzled.

BANANA DAINTIES.

NO desserts in which fruits are ingredients are so easy to prepare as those made with bananas. Therefore it is a wonder, considering the cheapness and general availability of this wholesome fruit, that it is not more widely appreciated.

Several ways of preparing simple desserts with bananas are given here:

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

Deafness cannot be cured, as they cannot reach the inner portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is severely closed, Deafness is the result, and as the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever, and this is the only way to cure deafness.
