Business men of John Day are organizing in an effort to secure new enterprises in that valley. According to a statement issued by them there are exceptional opportunities for a roller flour mill and for an up-to-date creamery. They say that all flour used in Grant County has to be hauled in from distant outside points while grain of all kinds is shipped out of the valley, and that in John Day and Bear valleys a large amount of milk is produced, a large part of which is hauled 40 miles to Prairie City, the nearest creamery. Business men and property owners are ready to lend all possible assistance to the establishment of these industries.

COUNTY GRANGE HEARS SOME GOOD TALKS

The quarterly meeting of the County Grange was held at Orient Wednesday. Several of the Granges were not represented. The afternoon was taken up with addresses from Prof. Wilson of the Agricultural College, R. W. Gill and Prof. French of the State Farm and Field extension work. Prof. Wilson gave an impractical talk on "Insects Not Our Own," and recited a lot of etymological history that interested no one. It lacked point. Mr. Gill drove home some good points about the new public market in Portland. He very clearly showed how the market was benefitting all connected with it.

Prof. French gave an instructive talk on the new government movement for farm extension instruction, county farm demonstration work, etc. H. G. Stark-weather was to give a talk on his experiences as commissioner to Europe in the study of agricultural credit systems of that country, but owing to the length of the program he consented to appear at the next county meeting and present his topic.

The evening session was taken up with a short program and the initiation of a class of seven into the fifth degree.

How to Reduce Flesh.
As a change from the strenuous exercises usually advised for obesity by expensive specialists why not embody these gymnastics in the everyday task, thereby adding interest to the tasks and grace to the body? If your waist is inclined to thickness you can incline it to suppleness by always washing your hands in the bottom of the bathtub. Do this, if possible, without bending the knee. If faithfully pursued this little practice will accomplish as much as ten minutes of bending exercises.

Have you a desire to improve your carriage and add weight to your appearance? Have the hooks in your wardrobe almost beyond your reach so that every time you go for your hat or a garment you will have to stretch your arms upward and stand on tip-toe.

Do not sit down to put on your shoes and stockings. You may have to perform all sorts of queer antics to accomplish your purpose, but the bending exercise you go through in doing so is worth more than those of the gymnasium, because you will work harder with a tangible object in view.

Hairbrushing is a wearisome task, but if the desire to move with grace is put into every stroke and if the wrist is held firm the action is certain to be an excellent hand and wrist exercise. If you do your own marketing walk to and from the market briskly, taking long, even strides and swinging the limb from the hip without bending the knee. All the bending and reaching exercises of your household work may be transformed into benefits if they only will be considered in that light and if the mind will work with the body in tabulating them as beneficial exercises instead of physical exertions.
