Doings of Our Neighbors

BREEZY ITEMS CONTRIBUTED BY HERALD REPORTERS AT NEARBY POINTS

GILBERT

Saturday evening Aug. 29th the Gilbert Concert Band gave a serenade, going as far east as Sycamore. They are doing splendidly and are esteemed very much in this community. They could however use to a good advantage three more instruments, cornet, alto and solo alto.

A fire started on Amons acres about 6 p. m. the 29th. Had it not been met promptly it would have meant serious loss to many. Residents called up F. H. Gates, Dep. Sheriff for Gilbert, who responded and secured the help of prisoners from Kelly Butte, who did noble work in putting out the fire. The people of that vicinity wish to express their sincere thanks not only to Mr. Gates but also to those men who so nobly saved their property.

CHERRYVILLE

The Devil must grin to hear the priests and preachers in Europe praying to their God for better success in killing and destroying their neighbors property.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Botkin returned from a trip to Astoria and Portland last week and report a very pleasant time. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stone last Saturday, a fine bouncing boy.

Mrs. Charlotte Nash, of Los Angeles, Cal., has been engaged to teach the school at Cherryville the coming term. School begins about the 14th of Sept.

Last Wednesday while little Alleen Johnson was going to the spring for water at her grandfathers a mile south of town, she was confronted by a bear which raised up and looked at her whereupon Alleen ran screaming home which also started the bear and he ran in another direction.

Last week Monday, Mr. Osbourne, the Deputy Forest Ranger in charge of this section of the Forest Reserve came to this place and made a requisition for 8 men to fight a forest fire supposed to be raging up toward Wild Cat Mountain. A party was soon rounded up and about 6 p. m. the outfit started up towards the 3-6 county with tools and commissary wagon for a weeks campaign if necessary. Arriving at their destination about midnight, the party went into camp at the Government Ranger station. In the morning after hearing that there was no fire up around Wild Cat the little army went north and were soon in the jungles and canyons of Front Creek and Cedar Creek and emerged about noon at Galareneus claim 3 miles south of Cherryville where rations were issued and a line of march taken east towards Alder Creek which was reached after a desperate struggle through thick chapparal. After crossing the terrible canyon of the north fork of Alder, the party made the climb up the almost perpendicular side of the canyon, the fire was finally located about 2 miles south of the shingle mill where the party arrived about 6 p. m. and immediately went into action under the command of Mr. Osbourne and before dark its progress was pretty well checked as it had not yet made big progress and was not located in a bad place to control. After a hard march and a big battle the army began to call for ration but the camp was so isolated that the chuck wagon could not reach us. At this juncture Mr. Osbourne says I will go and get the rations and notwithstanding the late hour and hard march he started out and the next day he returned to camp with a pack weighing about 75 lbs., a stupefying load to carry through those fearful jungles and over monster logs. Fighting smoldering fires the next day the main army withdrew Thursday

Rheumatism Pains Stopped

The first application of Sloan's Liniment goes right to the painful part—it penetrates without rubbing—it stops the Rheumatic Pains around the joints and gives relief and comfort. Don't suffer! Get a bottle to-day! It is a family medicine for all pains, hurts, bruises, cuts, sore throat, neuralgia and chest pains. Prevents infection. Mr. Chas. H. Wentworth, California, writes:—"It did wonders for my Rheumatism, pain is gone as soon as I apply it. I recommended it to my friends as the best Liniment I ever used." Guaranteed. 25c. at your Druggist.

leaving a picket post to watch any fire that might break out. Every one in this command are loud in their praise of Mr. Osbourne and his kindness and courtesy and the very able manner in which he conducted this weary and difficult campaign.

Last week while Elmer Edwards a forest ranger in the Bull Run Reserve was out on his beat he was suddenly confronted with a mother bear and 2 cubs. Thinking her young were in danger the bear made an attack on the ranger who unfortunately had left his gun at home and seizing a club succeeded in beating off the bear, receiving a few scratches until his dog came up. Hastily running to his cabin he returned with his gun but the big bear had vanished but after a while he jumped one of the cubs which he succeeded in killing and said it was nearly grown and fat as butter.

ARE YOU A MATHEMATICIAN?

Then Solve This Problem and Win a Prize of $25,000.

The largest single prize offered for a scientific discovery is still going begging. The prize has been open to competition for many years. At first sight the problem for a solution of which the prize is offered looks no more difficult than those with which high school students are familiar, but many of the greatest mathematicians in the world have tried to solve the problem and given it up in despair.

It is known as Fermat's problem. Nearly 300 years ago Fermat, one of the greatest mathematicians who ever lived, stated that the equation  $x^n + y^n = z^n$  could not be satisfied by whole numbers when  $n$  is an odd prime number different from unity. The problem may be stated in another way—viz. that  $x^n + y^n = z^n$  cannot be satisfied when  $n$  is any integer greater than 2. The one follows as a logical conclusion from the other.

The Academy of Sciences of Goettingen, Germany, offers a prize of 100,000 marks (about $25,000) for proof of this assertion. This is the prize that is going begging.

Dr. Joseph Bowden, professor of mathematics, Adelphi college, Brooklyn, asked by the Scientific American to state the precise conditions for winning the prize, writes that the Academy of Sciences will not consider any manuscripts sent in, but only proposed solutions printed and offered for sale as monographs, in books on mathematics or in mathematical periodicals. The award will not be made until two years after the publication of the memoir in order that mathematicians may have ample opportunity to test and criticize the solution.

The object of these restrictions is to save the academy from being flooded with undigested manuscripts. It will only consider solutions that have stood the test of some competent editor or publisher in the first place.

"What became of that fellow who insulted you?"
Pugilist: "He choked to death."
"How did that happen?"
Cannon: "I made him swallow his words!"

Obituary

After a stroke of apoplexy from which he never regained consciousness John L. Ryberg passed away at his home on McKenzie Ave. near 82nd St. Aug. 31 at 7:20 p. m. The deceased was a native of Sweden, having been born there Nov. 1, 1856. In 1884 he was married to Anna Sophia Anderson in Providence, R. I. Here his married life spent except for the past four years, since which time he has resided in the home in which death came to him. He held membership in the Lutheran church in his eastern home. The funeral services were conducted from Kenworthy's Undertaking parlors on Sept. 2 by J. M. Nelson, pastor of the Lents Baptist church. The interment was in Mt. Scott Park cemetery.

Obituary

On Aug. 28 at 11:35 a. m. Mrs. Myra I. Franklin passed to her rest after suffering for some months. The husband of the deceased preceded her to the other world by almost eight years. She was born at Black River Falls, Wis. Sept. 6, 1856. For about seven years she has made her home in Lents. Of her immediate family she leaves to mourn her death W. W. Franklin of 997 Mississippi Ave., Portland, at whose home she passed away, and C. B. Franklin of Lents. The funeral service was conducted in the Lents Baptist church, Aug. 30, the pastor J. M. Nelson, followed by the ritual of the ladies of the G. A. R. Mrs. Franklin united by baptism with the church from which she was buried on June 30, 1912, and has tried to follow her Lord since the time she became a christian. The interment was in Multnomah cemetery.

JUST LIKE A MAN.

He May See the Advantages of a Bad Bargain, but Not Like a Woman.

"WELL," said Mrs. Caperton expectantly as her husband entered the room, "how did it look to you?"

"Bully!" cried Caperton enthusiastically. "It's just the place to spend the summer. You'll like it immensely. I know you will. I've engaged accommodations for August with an option on September."

"Is it a nice boarding house?" asked his wife.

"Oh, nice enough," answered Caperton. "The rooms are dinky little things, the windows are small, and the ceilings are low, but—"

"Well, of all things! And you engaged accommodations in such a place?"

"Listen, dearie; I'm not through yet. As I just said, the rooms are small and all that, and I'm told the grub isn't so very good—mostly canned stuff, you know—and they don't keep many cows, so the milk supply is not particularly plentiful when there's a crowd there, but—"

"Are you losing your mind, Jim Caperton?"

"Wait a bit, dearie. Don't be hasty! I'm not through yet. The rooms are small, and the food is not absolutely 'A No. 1,' and they're sort of shy on milk, and it's a good way to the town, and there are not many nice walks, and there's no water near except the well, but those are just minor considerations."

"Just ml!"
"Precisely. Here's the main thing they've got the finest ballroom and floor I ever saw in my life anywhere, and there's dancing every night and free lessons in all the new steps every morning. Free—just think of that! They keep a fellow there all season just to teach 'em!"

"You big nunny," blurted Mrs. Caperton—"yes, nunny. You know how a place like that fills up. Why didn't you reserve accommodations for July as well as August? Can't you get them on the long distance phone?"—Puck
