W. H. Donelson suggests that applications for housekeeper will be accepted at his office, anent the absence of his regular cook. He modestly hints that only one a day need apply.

Mrs. John Huntington celebrated her birthday last Tuesday by giving a bunk party to a few of her lady friends. The report is a good supper, a good bed, a good breakfast and a good time in general.

The Labor Day number of the Labor Press is the best effort yet of that worthy publication. In this connection we note with regret the intention of Mr. Harris to sever his connections with that publication. Harris has improved the Labor Press. His loss will be felt.

Vern Irish is the inventor of automobile radiator, used for heating the machine with the exhaust from the engines. It is a neat affair nickel plated, snug fitting, and adaptable to any machine. Its place is in front of the seat out of the way. It can be installed for a moderate sum.

Miss Daisy E. Davis, after spending the summer with the family of her brother on his farm, is back at the Woodmere home for a week. She will leave Monday for the work of her final year in the Baptist Missionary Training School of Chicago.

W. E. Goggins with a party of friends started to Corvallis Monday, got as far as Newberg, stuck in the mud and with the aid of a team of horses borrowed from a local farmer managed to get to the nearest garage. Here he got the information that all avenues for returning were as bad or worse than the one he had just tried, so his machine was run into a corner and left for further orders. They didn't walk back.

We Buy Bread of the Mt. Scott Bakery, Why Not You!

HALF A LOAF

may be "better than no bread" as the proverb goes, but half a loaf of our bread is only an aggravation. For it is so light and toothsome, so "moreish" in flavor, that even a whole loaf goes a very short way in satisfying the wants of those who try it. If you would know what perfect bread is try some of ours.
