WHY THE YOUTH'S COMPANION SHOULD BE IN EVERY FAMILY

"If I could take only one paper," said the late Mr. Justice Brewer of the Supreme Court, "it would be The Youth's Companion—a little of everything in a nutshell, and unbiased." The Companion is a family paper in the completest sense. It provides reading that, without failing to interest the young, still interests the mature. It unites young and old through their common enjoyment of delightful fiction and agreeable miscellany.

So carefully is it edited in every portion of its contents that it would easily supply a family with entertaining fiction, up-to-date information and wholesome fun, if no other periodical entered the house.

If you are not familiar with The Companion as it is today, let us send you sample copies and the Forecast for 1915. New subscribers who send $2.00 for the fifty-two issues of 1915 will receive free all the remaining issues of 1914, besides a copy of The Companion Home Calendar for 1915.

GILBERT

The new school house is being pushed as rapidly as possible. Every week shows a marked change and advancement in the work.

Mrs. C. H. Bateman, who lives on the sunny side of Wilson hill, is honored by a visit from his brother, Mr. D. Bateman of Michigan. The brother has friends waiting to meet him for he wears the G. A. R. button. There is probably not a loyal citizen who does not touch his hat to that button. May he enjoy his visit here, not only at his brother's home but with many other homes who will welcome him.

Mrs. Carrie Valentine came here about the first of August from near Edmonston bringing her little boy with her. About two weeks ago her oldest boy, Elsworth, came, but Sunday the people were surprised when her three remaining children, Cora, Elsie and Cortes, came by the morning train. We have already formed a splendid opinion of Mrs. Valentine and her children and sincerely trust this community will give them that cordial, hearty welcome which is worthy of a widowed mother with such children as they have every appearance of being. Mrs. Valentine is already building a new house at Gilbert station.

CHERRYVILLE

The agony is over.
And somebody is elected.
Lots of money gone and anxious time spent and then a lot of them lost.

At this writing, before election, it looks like the state is going dry. One thing certain, the Mt. Scott Herald fought a good fight and deserves credit.

A Mr. Schendler of Portland was in town last week and says he is a direct descendant of Miles Standish of old colonial times, his forefathers coming over in the Mayflower. This gentleman has lived in Oregon over forty years and formally lived in Illinois, but much prefers this state on account of its even climate, and absence from storms and the good health enjoyed by all. He further said he is acquainted with the history of the Lads and Pitlocks of Portland and says they are greedy grabbers who have taken the advantage of many persons when they were in bad shape financially.

N. V. Thomas and wife of Pendleton are staying at Rugs this fall and may remain all winter as he is thinking of locating in this part of the state.

The entertainment at the school house last Friday night was well attended and a good deal of amusement was derived from the old wives prophecies about the future of some of our people.

Any one with just a little bit of sense ought to know that no priest or preacher can add to, or subtract from any penalty or reward connected with their future destiny.

COME CLEAR THE WAY
(By Edwin Markham.)

Come, clear the way, then, clear the way;

Blind creeds and kings have had their day;

Our hope is in the aftermath—

Our hope is in heroic men,

Star-led to build the world again.

To this event the ages ran;

Make way for brotherhood—make way for man.

Probably one of the most profound intellects, and certainly one of the best characters that ever lived on this earth was Francis E. Willard, Founder of the W. C. T. U. During the last days of her early life she became a socialist and laid but little stress on the orthodox religion as it exists today.

This lovely Indian summer is hard to beat and can't be beaten anywhere.

Don't suppose for a minute that we have a lot of rotten booze joints at every street and road corner in order to have prosperity. You know better if you know anything.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE PLANS PROGRAM

Farmers of Oregon are to be entertained at the Agricultural College this winter from November 30 to December 5 and January 4 to January 30.

A new point of view: a new type of program.

Big problems with big minds to help solve them.

Conferences and conventions of some of the greatest industries of the State. The Newspapers.

The State Dairy Association.
The Breeders' Association.
The County Agriculturists.
The County Food Inspectors.

The Joint Committee of the Farmers' Organizations—The Grange, The Farmers' Union, The Farmer's Society of Equity.

Representatives of many of the leading economic organizations of the State, such as the Consumers' League, to discuss pressing economic problems—the relations between the consumer and the producer.

Speakers of National consequence, specialists with expert information and broad vision, to discuss the issues of the hour.

Entertainments, especially arranged for each of the big convention days, bringing to Corvallis some of the choicest talent available on the coast, in addition to presenting the most fascinating of College festivities—musical, dramatic, and athletic.

Excursions, from all Oregon towns, as well as special excursions from valley points particularly interested.

WINTER SHORT COURSE

The Winter Short Course is not a mere repetition of courses from year to year. It is not only cumulative but progressive. There is something new, as well as something old, each year, for both the men and the women in attendance. Some of the courses, notably those in Horticulture, are carried through two years, the first year's work being a prerequisite of the second. Many of the courses are entirely new each year, offered in response to a timely demand on the part of the public, or as a result of fresh conclusions that have been derived from Experiment Station investigations and experiments. All of the courses are vital to practical and successful farming and to a large and wholesome enjoyment of rural life. They are designed especially to give practical and scientific instruction to those farmers, or students of farming, who cannot devote their time to a full college course, but who aspire to keep abreast of the best thought and practice in the profession.

ADMISSION

The courses of the Winter Short Course are open to any person sixteen years of age or over. There are no entrance examination, and tuition is free. A fee of one dollar is charged for enrollment, however, and a small laboratory fee is charged in some courses to cover the cost of material used.

RAILROAD RATES

Efforts are being made to secure excursion rates from the railroads, the usual one and one-third fare for the round trip, on the certificate plan. In coming to Corvallis, buy a full-fare ticket, securing a receipt from the selling agent; after having your receipt validated at the College, present this to the ticket agent in buying your return ticket paying one-third of the regular fare.

The sale dates for tickets to Farmers' Week and to the Winter Short course begin two or three days before the opening of either session, and the return limit extends two or three days beyond the close of the session.

Moses Harper, Who Isn't in on It, Invokes Against the Bafeul Influence of the Circus Poster, but He Takes Back All He'd Said.

By M. QUAD.

(Copyright, 1914, by Associated Literary Press.)

MY Dear Mr. President—As the town of Jericho elected you by a majority of seven votes and as it will have much to say whether you get a second term or not, it will be wise for you to post yourself a bit about the people.

It was Moses Harper who begun it. Some one told him that a circus advertisement wagon was slowly but surely approachin' the town of Jericho, and he let it be known that he would show up at the postoffice in the evening and have sumthin' to say to interest the hulk United States. The crowd was holdin' its breath when he showed up. Moses put his spectacles on and said:

"Citizens of Jericho—The tocsin has sounded, and we are here tonight to counsel together in the cause of morality. Last year, as most of you know, Jonas Teachout, whose barn faces the highway a mile outside of this town, allowed the circus wagon to paste up pictures on three sides of the buildin'. How many tickets for the circus he got has nothin' to do with the question. What I'm sayin' is that them pictures, in my solemn belief, shocked the morals of this community far worse than if ten saloons had been opened. The circus wagon is again creepin' along its insidious way, leavin' the blight of destruction in its path, and if sumthin' ain't done Jonas Teachout's barn will ag'in be entraped in the allurin' colors of vice and degradation."

"It appears to me," said Deacon Spooner, "that a pint has bin made. I'd like to hear from Silas Lapham."

"I ain't blamin' Jonas 't all," said Silas. "He got twelve deadhead tickets for the use of his barn, and I don't believe anybody was the wickedder fur it. Did my wife run away from her husband because of them pictures?"

"That's a pint, I says; it's a pint!" exclaims the deacon as he hustles about.

"CITIZENS OF JERICHO"

"I ain't sayin' that any families was busted up," continues Moses, "but I'm talkin' 'bout the general influence on general morality. A circus picture suggests lemonade and peanuts and whisky and poker and bein' out late nights. They are like pizen ivy. I hope this meetin' and this community air with me."

"Enos Williams," says the deacon, "you driv by that barn twice a day all summer. How did them pictures affect you?"

"Not much different from a huskin' bee," said Enos. "I didn't feel no feelin's of wickedness stealin' o'er me. I'm thinkin' that hard cider has more general influence than circus pictures."

"It's a pint!" shouted the deacon. "It's a pint nobody kin git over. Moses, have you got any more arguments?"

"Of what use?" says Moses. "Wasn't Sodom warned? Did Sodom heed it? When vice stalks rampant through every household in Jericho and innocence is driv' to the fields to sit under a blackberry bush and weep, then remember what I have said here tonight."

"I'd like to hear from Lish Billings on this matter," says the deacon. "It's purty late," says Lish.

"How purty late?"

"Jonas has rented his barn ag'in and got twenty-one tickets, and here's one he give me."

The meeting stood appalled, and then Deacon Spooner says:

"Jonas has got twenty tickets left, and that means he has sixteen more to give away outside his family. Fellow countrymen, do you take it this meetin' has pledged itself?"

"No, no, no!" shouted the crowd.

"Then I'm offerin' the followin' resolution: Resolved, That circus pictures on a barn may or may not affect the moral standard of a community, but we are willin' to chance it this year. All in favor or ag'in will manifest it in the usual way."

The resolution was carried with a whoop, and the crowd piled out to look for Jonas Teachout and beg for deadhead tickets, and Moses Harper wasn't one of the last!

Tremont, Kern Park and Arleta

C. E. Eddy returned last week with his bride, Miss Katherine Benefiel of Firland, from a visit to Sound points.

J. E. Hawkin has opened up the barber shop in the Lent building at Gray's Crossing.

The Young Campaigners helped Wm. Joyce celebrate his birthday Monday night.

Joy Gould has opened up a flower and seed store at 4535 Sixty-seventh street that is proving a fine attraction.

The Wilberg-Oppgaard company have begun a new house at Sixty-Seventh street and twenty-sixth avenue. They just sold one to Clarence Hillat 2911, Sixty-second street.

The Methodist ladies served a business men's lunch Friday noon and a chicken supper in the evening, at the church. The ladies of the Christian Church entertained at a dinner Thursday evening.

Cecil Sulzer, 18 years of age, head of the Creston School ball team, and Walter Gilmore left Tuesday evening for Los Angeles. The boys have been wanting to quit school and go to work for some time, and finding their parents opposed to their plans they ran away. They had ten dollars in change. It is expected that officers will intercept them.

Try This For Your Cough

Thousands of people keep coughing because unable to get the right remedy. Coughs are caused by inflammation of Throat and Bronchial Tubes. What you need is to soothe this inflammation. Take Dr. King's New Discovery, it penetrates the delicate mucous lining, raises the Phlegm and quickly relieves the congested membranes. Get a 50c. bottle from your druggist. "Dr. King's New Discovery quickly and completely stopped my cough," writes J. R. Watts, Floydale, Texas. Money back if not satisfied, but it nearly always helps.

Deaf Mute Church Work.

Religious work among deaf mutes was established in 1849 by Dr. Galaudet, who started a small Bible class for them in a room in the University of New York. The Churchman, an Episcopal weekly, says that at the present time there are thirteen ordained clergymen, twelve of whom are themselves deaf, ministering to the spiritual needs of 35,000 deaf mutes in the United States of whom there are fully 20,000 in the southern section. The salaries of the missionaries to the deaf range from $1,000 to $1,800 annually, and a very few of them have their expenses, in addition, provided.

They Seldom Do.

A half witted fellow living in one of our country villages makes it his business to attend all funerals and comment on them for days afterward. Recently he received an invitation to the wedding of a relative. The next day after the wedding a neighbor asked, "And how did the wedding go off, Jim?"

"Oh, there was a pretty fair crowd turned out considerin' the weather," Jim answered solemnly. "Mary, she looked right nice, but I didn't think Bob looked very natural."—Indianapolis News.
