The opportunity offered by the Herald to get a fine piano by doing a few hours work soliciting subscriptions to the only paper published in the Mt. Scott section of the city ought to be an excellent one for the boy or girl without a job. A fine piano for a few weeks work should be attractive to a hundred young people.

Lents was well represented in the fraternal parade last Friday. Quite a number of the Circle and the Woodmen joined in the Woodmen section and the old soldiers were there with a fine proportion of the local camp. The float prepared by the Lents Circle made an important part of the veteran's section and was highly creditable to the people who planned it.

Eradication of Dandelions

The Dandelion, like the poor, is always with us. To maintain a lawn free from this pest means, in most parts of the country, a constant warfare, and we have at present no methods of eradication to recommend which are easy or permanent. The following methods which are employed are more or less successful according to locality and the persistence with which they are followed.

1. Thick Seeding. Any means by which a thick vigorous growth of lawn grass is maintained will greatly aid in the control of lawn weeds. Bare spots and thin sod invite a growth of weeds. Occasional sowing of new, clean, grass seed, well raked into the bare spots, together with annual fertilizing should be practiced.

2. Digging the Dandelions. This, the most common control method employed, is quite effective in removing the large plants, if persistently followed and properly done. Unfortunately the piece of root left in the ground is capable of sending up one to six or more sprouts from the cut end, especially if not cut deeply. A one inch chisel or long-bladed knife are suitable tools, and the work is easiest done after a rain or irrigation while the ground is soft. The plants should be cut as deeply as possible, and the plants destroyed to prevent ripening of the seed.

3. Spraying. The use of iron sulphate at the rate of one and a quarter pounds to the gallon of water applied in the form of a fine, forcible spray upon the lawn has proven effective in greatly reducing the number of plants, and in some cases entirely eradicating them. Three applications about ten days or two weeks apart should be given just after the lawn is mown. No water should be applied during the next twenty-four hours. The grass will turn dark at first, but soon recovers and usually appears more vigorous than before. This work appears to be the most effective when done during mid-summer and early autumn. Gasoline applied with an oil-can at the rate of about a teaspoonful in the crown of each plant is quite effective in killing the large plants, and is useful in conjunction with the other methods.—B. O. Longyear.

Lents School News

Lents schools will hold their annual industrial exhibit next Friday afternoon. They will have a large exhibit of the products of the manual training department, cooking, sewing, etc.

The Lunch Department will serve a ten cent noon day lunch. It is hoped that this will attract quite an attendance as the funds collected from this lunch will be used to meet some of the expenses of the lunch room for apparatus.

The industrial exhibit will be open all the afternoon.

The Parent-Teacher's Association will hold its regular monthly meeting. The newly elected officers will take office and the association will be entertained by an address from Asst. Supt. Grant. A good attendance of patrons is urged.

Woodmere schools will give a repetition of the Peace Pageant they presented at the Rose Show, next Tuesday afternoon and evening. The program will be put on at the schoolhouse and will include a good many features that could not be shown in the parade. An additional feature will be music by the G. A. R. quartette. The program will be given as a benefit to meet some of the expenses incurred by the teachers and pupils in preparing for the children's parade.

Lents schools are feeling highly complimented by the prominence given them in the city papers for their part in the children's parade in the Rose show. They got a good half page illustration and feel very much gratified by the recognition.

Mr. S. J. Lockwood, candidate for director will visit schools Friday noon.

To Make Whitewash

Whitewash is usually made by slacking lime with water, adding more water and applying with a brush or boom. At least this is the way we did it down on the farm.

A whitewash that will last longer than one season on the inside of buildings and which I believe has been recommended in one of the government reports is made as follows: Slack half a bushel of lime with boiling water, keeping it covered; strain and add a peck of salt that has been dissolved in warm water, three pounds of ground rice, boiled to a thin paste, half a pound of powdered Spanish whiting and one pound of clear glue dissolved in warm water. Mix and let the compound stand for several days. Apply as hot as possible, using a brush kept especially for the purpose.

This whitewash will cost more than the other but makes a very white smooth surface and is quite enduring. Where whitewash is applied to rough boards, fence posts, etc., for disinfectant purposes a more suitable mixture is made by adding water and some disinfectant to slacked lime. The above formula is intended more for inside finishing where in some places it will be quite as satisfactory as the more expensive paint.
