

As sure to rise as the Sun

You can't always make everything "just so." Sometimes you will get in more shortening than usual; or make the batter a little thin; or it may not be convenient to put a cake in the oven the moment it is mixed; or your oven may not bake evenly and it is necessary to turn the pan around—none of these little uncertainties make the slightest difference in results if you use

KG BAKING POWDER

This modern, double-raise baking powder has unusual strength and is absolutely certain to raise your biscuits, cakes and pastry light and feathery. It generates an abundance of leavening gas both in the mixing bowl and in the oven. The raising is sustained until the dough is cooked through.

Housewives who use K C never have "bad luck" with their baking. Try K C at our risk. Your grocer will refund your money if you are not pleased in every way.

"There's a delivery wagon driving up to our door," said hubby. "Been shopping again."

"Well, I didn't have anything to do" replied wifey, "so I went down to Wanacooper's and listened to the concert in their auditorium. It was just splendid, too. After that I went up to the grocery department and tried some new cereal they're demonstrating. I managed to get three helpings, so I didn't need to spend any money for luncheon. Then I looked at the fashion parade and spent the rest of the afternoon in the art gallery. After that I didn't feel as if I ought to leave the store without buying anything, so I had them send me up a spool of thread."

The farmer, wearing a long face, entered the country drug store. "I've got something wrong with my stomach," he announced, "and I want you to give me something for it."

"All right," replied the apothecary, cheerfully; "what are your symptoms?"

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSENG, Box 8, Allyn, Wash.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Finkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

WARSHIPS IN DUEL

British Dreadnaught Drives Turkish Cruiser From Strait.

Salvos of Monster Shells Sweep High Over Ridges of Gallipoli at Dardanelles—Aviator Directs the Fire.

By LOUIS EDGAR BROWNE, (Correspondent of the Chicago News.)

Mudros, Allies' Near Eastern Base.—The Queen Elizabeth and the Goeben have been engaged in battle with each other. The great British dreadnaught, the most powerful battleship afloat, attacked the Goeben under most extraordinary conditions. Although the Queen Elizabeth fired salvos of gigantic highly explosive projectiles, the Goeben escaped unhurt.

Since the allies' forces landed at the Dardanelles late in April the German-Turkish battle cruiser has seriously hampered the advance toward their goal—Constantinople. It has supposedly a base at Chardak, an auxiliary naval port, on Gallipoli strait, 25 miles above the narrows. Nearly every day the Goeben has taken a position between Malto and Cape Nagara, just above the Narrows, and has supported with killing fire the Turkish troops facing the Australian-New Zealand line running in a semicircle from below Suva bay southward toward the line of the English and French forces advancing up the peninsula.

Turkish engineers have established a line of communication between posts of observation and signal stations somewhere east of Malto. Because of these the fire control was made so effective that, although the Goeben was firing over a ridge of mountains, its officers were quickly informed just where each shell hit and what damage it did to the enemy. So constant became the fire of the German battle cruiser and so seriously did it hinder the movements of the allies that it was decided to attempt to destroy it even at considerable cost.

The Queen Elizabeth was selected for the first chance. A ridge of fairly high mountains runs down the Gallipoli peninsula and a battleship firing across it from the Gulf of Saros to a point above the Narrows would be unable to see its target. The Queen Elizabeth could not see the Goeben. An aeroplane was needed to observe the fall of projectiles and to direct the fire.

It was somewhat after noon when a big naval aeroplane mounted and circled over the mountains. A naval observer occupied a seat beside the pilot. Far below him was the Dardanelles winding along like a distorted letter S. Several Turkish antiaircraft guns were hurling shrapnel skyward at a terrific rate.

The observer easily found the Goeben. The aeroplane sailed back to the Australian lines and communicated the Goeben's position to the Queen Elizabeth. The aeroplane then again mounted and flew eastward until it had a commanding view of the Goeben and yet was within easy signaling distance of the Queen Elizabeth.

Suddenly one of the 15-inch guns of the Queen Elizabeth belched forth a great sheet of flame, followed by a roar that could be heard at Mudros, 60 miles away. The spotting officer, leaning far over the combing of the fire control post, picked up the giant projectile with his glasses and kept it in view until it disappeared below the ridge of hills. Like a flash his glance turned to the aeroplane soaring high above the mountains. Some distance below the aeroplane there popped into being three black dots. An instant later three more black dots appeared. These were small smoke bombs dropped by the observer to signal where the shell had struck relatively to the target.

"Up 300—left three!" shouted the officer to a sailor standing at his elbow. The first shot had fallen 300 yards short and 300 yards to the right of the Goeben.

An instant later a salvo from the Queen Elizabeth's entire broadside of eight 15-inch guns crashed out. Eight monster shells, each weighing 2,000 pounds, went careening through space at a speed of 2,500 feet a second.

The Goeben took alarm after two or three salvos and fled at top speed northeast to the base at Chardak.

WEDS ON A DOG LICENSE

"Alibi Frank" Tells in Chicago of Marrying Blind Woman for Her Money.

Chicago.—"Alibi Frank," a confidence man now under conviction and recently brought back from the Joliet prison to testify in police graft trials, asserted in the criminal court that he had used a dog license to marry a blind woman, whose money he afterwards stole.

Frank had testified he had paid large sums to the police for protection, and Assistant State's Attorney Nealato asked him:

"Isn't it a fact that you got a license, framed a marriage with a blind woman, then got all her money and ran away?"

"Yea, I did that trick, but only once."

Rebuilt Federal Trucks

A Safe Used Truck to Buy.

A REBUILT FEDERAL is as good value for the money as a new truck. By rebuilt we mean that the truck is entirely taken apart, each part examined and if necessary replaced by a new part made at the Federal factory, the entire truck repainted and refinished, and everything necessary done to make the truck practically as good as new in every detail.

When you buy a rebuilt Federal you are protected by the same policy and interest that we give to all Federal owners. We operate a repair department in which the workmen are specialists on Federals, our supply of Federal parts is complete, and the stock room organization high class, which insures the prompt filling of all parts orders. We also operate a service department, which is open day and night, "always at your call." The Federal being a good truck in the first place and protected by a company which is equipped and has the disposition to give you service—its consequently.
