It is time to "cash in" on a new gas wagon tag.

Now that the castor oil has gone up, the small boy trusts that less of it will go down.

Two more days to remember and visit the Live Stock Show now on at Kenton. The Show has drawn the usual good crowds during the week.

New York is estimated to have a population of 5,498,982—(St. Louis Post Dispatch.) Bro. Hearst is there too, and naught added to 5,498,982 makes 5,498,982.

Ladies of the Lents Parent Teachers' Club will give a program at the Yeager Theatre next Tuesday evening that promises to be up to the standard of school programs. That should ensure a full house.

The Editor is glad to note that there are some people in the county who are appreciative of occasional information. Pleasant Valley Grange expresses its appreciation of our answer to the "Brewers' Association." There ought to be others.

One and 73 hundredths inches of rain fell between 5 p. m. Saturday and 5 p. m. Sunday, and that is some rain, especially when the ground is sopping wet. That is about nine and seven-tenths gallons to the square yard.

The wealth of this country in round numbers is about 200 billion dollars ($200,000,000,000.) These figures are so vast and the wealth they represent is so stupendous that the human mind cannot comprehend it. The wealth of the United States is about equal to the combined wealth of Great Britain, France and Germany.

A fellow by the name of Taylor was arrested in the Mt. Scott section this week, charged with taking a rope out of a barn some place over in Washington. Taylor declares he did not know there was a horse attached to one end of the rope at the time he borrowed it. Taylor must be "some strong man."

It is really interesting how cheap Bitulithic pavement is getting. A bid is before the city council at $1.25 per yard, same sort of stuff that has been calling for $1.85. If nothing else comes of the fight put up on bitulithic last spring we will get our tar roads cheaper hereafter.

People of Southeast Portland are casting about for a school director. They feel that school interests in this section of the city warrant an attempt to choose a director from patrons of this locality. J. J. Johnson and Phil Bates have been named. Both of these men are well qualified for the position and whichever decides to accept the nomination should have undivided support of the patrons of Southeast Portland.

Gresham, Oregon, Dec. 1, 1915. To the Editor of Mt. Scott Herald—Pleasant Valley Grange No. 348, wishes to inform you that they heartily endorse the sentiments expressed by you in your answer to the "Brewers' Association" and thank you for the consistent stand your paper has made.

Anna Lehman, Secretary.

NOTES OF THE W. C. T. U.

The next meeting of Mt. Scott W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. McKinley on Tuesday, Dec. 14th. The municipal manager plan of city government will be presented by Mrs. Lucie Faxon Addon. The McKinley home is on 92nd street, a short distance south of the Mt. Scott car line.

Those who are interested in the Hobson amendment to the constitution of the United States will no doubt enjoy reading some of the excerpts from his speech delivered in Portland at the recent temperance rally. Mr. Hobson appeared at the Armory at which time the following extracts were jotted down. In speaking of the fearful death rates caused by alcoholic stimulants, Hobson declared: "If hogs and cattle died off that way, it would not be tolerated." Of the percent of insanity caused by drink: "Animals do not become insane—why should people?"

We are working for a "thorough bred race of men."

"Our fathers and forefathers never suspected the cause of certain degeneracy now known to be the result of liquor drinking." "And yet," Mr. Hobson said, "in ancient times Plato, a Chinese Emperor, and a ruler of India announced the killing effect of alcohol."

"Sixty-nine percent of the drunkards contract the drink habit when boys." "Successful self-government requires a high standard of citizenship. Alcohol is the universal specific cause of degeneracy."

"Character is the line of human evolution."

"Service is the key to the development of human character."

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Multnomah County.

Jerome L. Brizzolari, Plaintiff, vs. Cora Lusich, Cora Lusich Administratrix of the Estate of Jerry Lusich, Deceased, and Marie Lusich, a minor, Defendants.

By virtue of an execution, judgment order, decree and order of sale issued out of the above entitled Court in the above entitled cause, to me directed and dated the 1st day of December, 1915, upon a judgment rendered and entered in said Court on the 20th day of November, 1915, in favor of Jerome L. Brizzolari, plaintiff, and against Cora Lusich, Cora Lusich Administratrix of the Estate of Jerry Lusich, Deceased, and Marie Lusich, a minor, defendants, for the sum of $200.00 with interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum from the 23d day of October, 1912 and the further sum of $95.00 with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the 20th day of November, 1915, and for the further sum of $14.05 costs and disbursements, and the costs of and upon this writ, commanding me to make sale of the following described real property, situated in the County of Multnomah and State of Oregon, to-wit:

Beginning at a point Seventy-eight (78) feet North of a point in the East line of East Seventh Street of said City of Portland, Multnomah County, Oregon, if extended Southerly, Seventeen Hundred, Sixty-three (1763) feet South of the intersection of the Center line of Division Street and the East line of said East Seventh Street, said point being in the North line of what was formerly George Woodward's tract of land, and running thence East, at a right angle with said East Seventh Street, One Hundred (100) feet to a point; thence North in a line parallel with the West line of East Eighth Street, as extended, Seventy-five (75) feet to a point; thence West at right angles with said last described line, One Hundred (100) feet to a point in the East line of said East Seventh Street, if extended; thence South Seventy-five (75) feet, to the place of beginning, and also all grants right, title and interest in and to the property lying in front of said land and intended under mesne prior conveyance to be used as East Seventh Street, including dower and claim of dower.

Now Therefore, by virtue of said execution, judgment order, decree and order of sale and in compliance with the commands of said writ, I will, on Monday, the 3d day of January, 1916, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the front door of the County Court House in Portland, Multnomah County, Oregon, sell at public auction (subject to redemption), to the highest bidder for cash in hand, all the right, title and interest which the within named defendants (or either or any of them) had on the 23d day of October, 1912, the date of the mortgage herein foreclosed, or since that date had in and to the above described property or any part thereof, to satisfy said execution, judgment order and decree, interest, costs and accruing costs.

T. M. HURLBURT,
Sheriff of Multnomah County, Oregon.

OREGON SCHOOLS WIN NATIONAL APPROVAL

That the people living in the rural districts of Oregon care more for their schools, are working harder to give their boys and girls a practical education, and have made a greater advance than any other state, is clearly proved by the reception which has been given the rural school exhibit at the Panama Pacific International Exposition.

At the request of the National Bureau of Education, the Oregon State Department of Education prepared for the Educational Palace an exhibit showing the strongest features of the rural schools of Oregon; namely, the standard plan, the Boys' and Girls' Club Work and the Playground Movement. As the rules of the Educational Building would not permit children's work to be exhibited, the system was shown by means of charts and photographs. In the official bulletin of the Bureau of Education, they are mentioned as "unusually attractive colored views illustrating rural school work."

More than 2,000 of the leading educators representing all the States, and many foreign countries have made a careful study of the Oregon exhibit with the purpose of adopting some part of it. Three counties of California have adopted our Standard School Plan absolutely, and through the local press of their counties, the educational leaders have given Oregon credit for helping them. W. E. Cole, chairman of the Educational Committee of the Farm Bureau for Napa County, California, in a letter of appreciation to State Superintendent J. A. Churchill says, after telling of a meeting of their county educational officials, "A standard school was adopted after the Oregon plan. We have kept the local press informed of our work. No doubt every county in California having a farm adviser will very shortly follow our lead." At the Annual Teachers' Institute of Monterey County, the county superintendent, George Schultzburg, brought the teachers to the Oregon exhibit, and in speaking to them said: "I want all of you teachers to see what wonderful work Oregon is doing in her rural schools. Their Standard School Plan is just what we need in our county." The teachers at once voted to adopt the Oregon plan, and the Oregon standard card is now in every rural school in Monterey County.

Superintendent Harriett S. Lee, of Yolo County, writes: "I am now working to make your Standard School Plan fit Yolo County, and I wish to thank you for the many excellent pamphlets and cards I have received through the medium of your delightful representative at the P. P. I. E." Of the club work, it is conceded that no other state has the work so well organized. The local and county school

Margaret Illington in "The Lie"

Heilig Theater, Broadway at Taylor, Three Nights beginning Thursday, December 16, special matinee Saturday.

Of the younger generation of actresses there is none higher in the estimation of the theatre goers or who is better fitted by nature, instinct, and training to portray the big roles of the drama than is Miss Margaret Illington who is presenting a new play by Henry Arthur Jones, one of the best known dramatic writers in the English language, called "The Lie." Miss Illington has already presented "The Lie" for an entire season in New York and has just completed a run of three months in Chicago. The play is generally regarded as one of the best that its distinguished author, Henry Arthur Jones has ever sent to this country, and it has not yet been produced in England, for, following a custom he established some years ago, Mr. Jones is producing his plays in this country before they are produced in his own, except for copyright purposes. In the role of "Elinor Shale," Miss Illington, who is generally regarded as the leading emotional actress upon the American stage, is said to have a part in which she is seen to better advantage than any she has yet presented, and theatergoers will remember her portrayals of "Marise" in "The Thief"; "Maggie Schultz" in "Kindling" and "Mary Turner" in "Within the Law"; "Elinor Shale" is a big role and calls for artistry of the highest order. Not only must its protagonist be a finished comedienne but in the later scenes of the play she must be capable of the heaviest kind of emotional work. It is said that Miss Illington more than meets all these requirements and that in the big scenes that she is superb. There are two sisters, living with their old grandfather, Sir Robert Shale. The older is a beautiful type of womanhood, of high principles and gracious manner.

Potash and Perimutter

"Potash and Perimutter," the biggest comedy hit the modern stage has known, comes to the Heilig Theatre, Broadway at Taylor, on Sunday night, December 12th, for an engagement of four nights, with a popular price matinee on Wednesday.

Every theatre-goer in North America, England, Australia and South Africa, and every magazine in the world, knows the irresistible story of "Potash and Perimutter."

The play is a dramatization of the delightful stories by Montague Glass, which were published serially in the Saturday Evening Post, and which since, in book form, have been circulated in every corner of the universe. The comedy is built around the adventures of two pugnacious but lovable partners in the cloak and suit trade—"Abe and Mawrus"—who quarrel bitterly over the most delightful trifles, but neither of whom will permit an unkind thing to be said of the other. They have a wonderful designer, who has a head like Andrew Carnegie and a shape like Lillian Russell, who plays an important part in the love story that is woven through the screamingly funny comedy situations. There are tears as well as laughter in "Potash and Perimutter," but for the most part they are, tears of unadulterated joy.

Mail orders are now being received for the engagement of this famous comedy success, and are being filled at the Heilig Theatre in the order of their receipt. Address letters and make checks or money-orders payable to W. T. Pangle. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope to help insure safe return of tickets.

The box-office will open for the "Potash and Perimutter" engagement on Thursday morning, December 9th, but the mail orders will take precedence.

fairs with the club winners' work shown at the State Fair, making a logical culmination of the year's work, the organizing and directing of the work by the State School Superintendent with the expert bulletins prepared by the State Agricultural College for the children, telling them how to select seed and to do their work, are features which are raising the club work of Oregon boys and girls to a high standard. The judges at the State Fair this year declared that the corn exhibited by the boys was fully one hundred per cent better than last year, while the vegetables and other products were a much higher grade than ever before. Hundreds of requests have come from all parts of the United States for the Recreation Manual, issued by the State Department of Education, and every playground expert pronounces it to be the best one published. Every teacher in Oregon is furnished with a copy of this manual, and the attention given this problem in Oregon during the past two years is developing a happier, healthier lot of school children.

Commissioners from a number of the foreign countries have sent their secretaries to the Oregon Educational Exhibit with instructions to copy every chart shown in order that they may have the material for a special report to their countries on rural schools.

What the county and city superintendents of other states say of our work is well summarized by G. E. Wolfing, Superintendent of Vocational Education, Gary, Indiana, who said:

"In Oregon, through your standard for rural schools, your Boys' and Girls' Industrial Clubs, and your Playgrounds, you are doing a work equal to that which the Federal Government is doing for the schools in the Philippine Islands, and this work is attracting the attention of educators in all parts of the world."
