C. Hughes and family have moved into Mrs. Simon's house for the winter.

The Catholic Church is busy preparing their Christmas entertainment.

Will give room and good table board to four men with steady employment for $3.50 per week. Inquire at Herald office.

Miss Margaret Boland had to undergo another operation and will be compelled to stay many days longer at the hospital.

Mrs. Woods of Grays Crossing is in a serious condition as a result of a fall from the street car some time ago. She is threatened with paralysis.

Friday night at the Lents Baptist Church there will be a musical entertainment. Mrs. Tripp with her chorus of fifty voices will furnish the program.

The contest of the boys' and girls' of the Evangelical Church ended December 5. The girls were the winning party and the boys are to give a party for the winners.

Fred Rathkey has just returned to Lents after a lengthy trip through Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Mexico. He has some thrilling stories to tell of experiences encountered.

The Harmony Choral Society composed of fifty voices, will sing Friday night at the Lents Baptist Church. A splendid musical program will be given. Free admission. Free will offering. Everybody welcome.

Miss Harriet Cooper, general worker of the Woman's Baptist Home Mission Society, delivered a missionary address at the meeting of the Lents Baptist Aid and Missionary Society's meeting on Wednesday of this week.

In connection with the arrangements being made for the union revival services to begin the first of the new year, cottage prayer meetings were held on Tuesday night at the E. M. Scheuerman home on Third Ave., the Tampion home on 82d street, and the Sandcock home on Main street.

Thieves are not all dead yet according to people who live on Stella Street, Lents. Some one in that vicinity, and pretty well known, has got the habit of raiding other people's vegetable gardens and kale patches. Some one will get too much kale some night.

E. P. Tobin and Frank Tobin returned from San Francisco Saturday. They tell of wonderful developments throughout California. It has been over ten years since they were through the state and changes were very striking.

E. A. Richter has enlarged his store at 9707, 55th avenue and Gilbert road. The new additions give him about three times the space formerly occupied and already he is feeling an impetus due to additional stock he is able to display. He is feeling quite optimistic over prospects. He is enjoying a nice local trade and will now be able to reach out for a larger patronage.

Mrs. C. E. Sager was the recipient of social attention Saturday evening. About 20 of her friends called on her in a sudden way and proceeded to make themselves at home. Of course Clyde knew nothing about it. The pleasures of the evening were so attractive that some of the company failed to say adieu until the early hours of morning. Most everyone got a booby prize.

Rev. W. R. F. Browne has been confined to his home a part of this week with a severe cold.

H. F. Courtney, the 6th avenue watchman who made such a large collection of property from business houses along his boat, has been sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary. Considerable of Courtney's loot, unlocated by the owners, has been turned over to his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Pringle of 4922-86 Court street entertained Wednesday evening at five hundred. There were three tables, and the first prize, a beautiful cut glass vase, was won by Mrs. Atwater. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess. All had a delightful time.

Special meetings will be held at the Friends Church Friday and Saturday at 7:45 p. m. and Sunday 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Evangelist O. B. Ong, well known in Lents on account of successful revival meetings held in the past, will be here and do the preaching. Everybody invited.

Payette is promised a $50,000 hotel. Florence reports say a tie camp will be opened at once and will employ 100 men.

Sufficient acreage has been signed up, according to reports, to secure the building of a large beet sugar factory in Southern Oregon.
