"Then come on. Hold on a minute, though. What's that woman saying?"

"Why, that she got three cakes of regular ten cent soap for 15 cents. Oh, Susan, how can we go home?"

"We can't. Take hold of my hand, turn your shoulder to the crowd, and we will push our way in there or die in the attempt."—Washington Herald.

NOTES OF THE W. C. T. U.

To all appearances the closing of the liquor traffic in Portland has been thorough and the results satisfactory. Abstinence has become, or is fast becoming, a habit with many persons to whom the experience is new, if credit is to be given to current reports. There is an increasing demand for store buildings, astonishing as the statement may seem to be. Rents are advancing, just a little to be sure, yet advancing. The good effects of prohibition are apparent in Oregon. This is letter writing week. After you have written all the letters asked for by the Chamber of Commerce, suppose you write two or three on your own initiative telling your familiars how well Prohibition, in actual practice, is resulting in Oregon, that the people in other states may take heart. Tell in your letter, that the certain way to a quiet and complete enforcement is to roll up a big majority for the proposition.

The county institute is held in Montavilla this week, Thursday. Mrs. Additon's name appears on the program.
