Mrs. Hamilton is the only child of Mr. Stowell. He has made several visits with her in Lents, of one and two years duration, and therefore has a large acquaintance here. It is now two years since he was last here. Arrangements had been made for him to come here to remain permanently when the telegram announcing his death by paralysis was received. Mr. Stowell was a civil war veteran.

Miss Mignon Fisher writes to friends in Lents that she has passed her examinations and that she is settled down to regular work in the school at Albany, N. Y. She finds the institution of greater importance than she had supposed. There are two students from Canada, one from Rome, Italy, and one from Copenhagen, with students from all parts of the United States. She is established at the Y. W. C. A. Miss Fisher enclosed a card bearing a pen sketch of the buildings across the street from her room which is a little art gem.

Two high school girls, house guests for the time being at a home in Lents where the neighborhood front fences have been abolished, met with a thrilling experience one night this week. The host and hostess had made preparations to receive quite a company of friends, on this particular evening, and the girls were excited and expectant. One of them was to return from an errand to the city at a certain hour and the other went to meet her at the car. Together they came racing back with the packages and breezily swept into the house. To their amazement guests had already arrived and were assembled around the dining table, all of whom looked with surprise upon the young ladies. The girls, cove ed with confusion, sprang to the seclusion of the bedroom and began disposing of their packages, when they were startled to observe that the appearance of the room furnishings did not look familiar. Thoroughly frightened the girls consulted together and gavely acknowledged to each other that they had entered the wrong house. There was nothing to do but w alk out in the full gaze of the surprised dinner party and hot-foot the distance to their temporary home. The girl with which their hostess related the incident to the numerous guests who arrived later may have served as a healing balm to the thoroughly agitated high schoolers. Be that as it may, the rest of the people are still laughing over the joke.

TREMONT, ARLETA, KERN PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Clack have moved into their place at 2608-71st street.

The Arleta W. C. T. U. will meet at Lucky Cottage Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyers of 7105-57th avenue are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter, Tuesday morning.

Harry Clapp has sold his Kern Park Electric shop and will be employed by a firm down town.

Arleta is interested in the County W. C. T. U. election as one of our residents was honored with an office. Mrs. Mattie Siceche was chosen president, Mrs. Ward Swape, vice-president; Mrs. Mildred Hansen, recording secretary, Mrs. Inez Richardson of Lents, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Jas. M. Donaldson, treasurer.

Mr. H. B. Crafts of Oakland, Iowa, who has been visiting his son, Howard L., at 7100-56th avenue, S. E., left last Wednesday for Colorado where he will make stops at Denver and Sterling to visit relatives. Mr. Crafts came to Portland from Alberta, Canada, where he has been spending six months with his son-in-law, T. W. Lethbridge. Mr. Crafts is a brother of the late Dr. George W. Crafts, middle-west pastor and poet.

Mrs. Mattie Siceche, county president, called to order the Multnomah county W. C. T. U. convention last Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the First Christian church, corner of West Park and Columbia streets. The opening devotions were conducted by Mrs. M. Lepper, followed by the appointment of convention committees, and reports from the various unions. Arleta Union was represented by Mesdames M. Francis Swape, Patience Woodworth, Eva Lawrence, and Winnie Collins. Reports from the different unions were given the latter part of the afternoon. The work reported by these ladies varied from the distribution of literature through work among the convicts, Sabbath observance meetings, out-door picnic meetings with speeches, anti-narcotic contests, etc., to Willard Memorial observance.

The regular monthly Workers Conference of the Millard Avenue Presbyterian Sunday School met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Zehring Monday evening with a good attendance of teachers and other Sunday School workers. Preliminary plans for making a Sunday School canvass of the field were made and a committee appointed to arrange for the observance of Christmas in the Sunday School. At the close of the business session the hostess served oyster soup, which was very acceptably received, the evening being quite frosty. The conference accepted the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Wiseman to meet at their home on Nov. 6. The Sunday School will be able to use the new building accommodating three classes on next Sunday morning, although it is not quite completed. The money for the purchase of the material for the building was contributed by members of the school and the work donated by members of the school and church congregation.

This Essay on the work of John G. Paton, the great Missionary, was written by Theo. Zehring, a second year Junior boy of the Millard Avenue Presbyterian Sunday School and read at the Junior Rally Day service September 22, 1916. Mrs. J. F. McLooney, teacher.

JOHN G. PATON
Go ye into the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation. John G. Paton said these were his marching orders. For four years he preached to the cannibals, but was driven away by a furious attack. His life was saved but he lost his home and everything except his bible. He and his wife found a new place to work but there was very little rain and no springs or lakes. They drank the milk of green cocoa nuts and sugar cane. But Mr. Paton could not get along without water so he made up his mind to dig a well. He told the chief and he said rain comes only from the clouds. How could you expect rain from below? Your head is going wrong or you would not talk that way. He went on with his plans just the same. The men would not help him but he never thought of giving up. One evening he said to the old chief, I think God will give us water in that hole tomorrow. Can you think how excited he was when he saw the water rush up to fill the hole? When he found that it was fresh he almost fell on his knees in the muddy bottom of the well to give praise to God. The people were afraid to touch it but when the chief tasted it he shouted, rain, rain, yes it is rain but how did you get it? They took hold of hands and one at a time looked down into the water. The chief was wild with delight and asked many questions. He then asked, what can we do to help you? The men and women brought rocks and it was not long before the well was walled up. When it was all finished the old chief asked if he might preach about the well.
So on Sunday a large crowd gathered to hear him. When he began he told the people that the Missi (Missi means Missionary) has told us many things that we could not understand. But now we have seen the rain come from the earth and now I believe all he tells us about his God and from this day I must worship the God who has given us the rain from the ground. Let every man that thinks as I do go and get his own idol and destroy it, and let us be taught how to serve the God who gave us the well. That afternoon they brought the idols and threw them down at the door of Mr. Paton's house. All that could be burned were thrown into the fire. No one can know the joy it gave the heart of the missionary. The first thing that the converted heathens did was to ask God's blessing before every meal and began family worship every morning and evening. The Lord's day was kept holy. Laws were made. Heathen worship was gradually given up. Every person on the island before many years became a worshiper of the Lord Jesus Christ.

BE YOUR OWN DOCTOR. Run your own machine. You can do it better than another, being inside it. It pays YOU to keep well, to get well quickly when sick, to know how to take care of your family. E., Portland, Oregon.

CHERRYVILLE

The candidates are now on the home stretch.

Ye editor and wife dropped in at the Bungalow last Sunday. Very glad to meet them. Call again.

The first run of silver side salmon are now running up the Bull Run and Sandy rivers. This first run are very choice fish and are fit to set before any epicure no matter how fastidious.

Ford carried the primaries in Michigan last spring without any effort. Now that he is out for Wilson he is mighty apt to swing the state again.

While the road crew were at work on the road east of the post office last week a stub fell and narrowly missed two of them who side-stepped by a narrow margin. The stub fell across the telephone wire and on breaking it became wrapped around Sam Cox's neck, who thought he was being electrocuted. Sam said he could not think of any crime he had ever committed only once back in Kansas he caught a tramp asleep by the railroad track and thinking to remove him out of the danger zone he set fire to his greasy pants and he was soon enveloped in flames. Hastily arousing the tramp uttering a yell exclaimed, "In Hell, just as I expected."

The effort made last week at Cleveland, Ohio, by Win. Rockefeller to bring about the reconciliation between John D. and his brother Frank, which however failed, brings to mind that a citizen of this place, Tom Galarneau, was in Duluth, Minn., at the time the rupture occurred and is familiar with the cause of the "break." It appears that Frank was in with the Merritt Brothers, the discoverers of the Mesaba Iron Range, which proved to be very valuable. In order to build wharves at Duluth and build a railroad to the iron range money was advanced by Old John D., who got a cinch on them and took over valuable property worth many millions for something like $500,000.

OPERATIONS unnecessary. "Appendicitis" ($1.50), "Food" ($1.50), "Diseases of Women and Easy Child-birth" ($1.50). Books by Dr. Tilden worth their weight in gold. Lora C. Little, 7110-43d Ave. S. E. Tabor 6471. Mornings. 8-24

KENDALL

The Ladies Aid meets next Friday with Mrs. Pomroy and will elect officers. Mr. Remig is a new settler in the district.

Mr. Schroeder is raising a fine lot of chickens this season and has about the greatest number of any one in the district.

Most of our citizens are pretty well employed, some gathering their crops and others holding good positions. Mr. O'Sullivan is a foreman in a mine; Mr. Miles, line foreman for an electric company; Mr. Fowler, foreman in a logging camp; Mr. Thomson is in charge of the construction of an apartment house for Mr. Gordon. Mr. and Mrs. Clark are kept busy putting up and selling jellies and jams and more than half a dozen dairies, among whom are Mr. Hickie and Mr. Menig (Herald Readers) are kept busy supplying milk to their customers. Many others hold good positions down town.

Ernest Ham has been busy printing for the neighbors. He has had some difficult jobs to print such as No Trespassing signs on cloth, gold band labels, dairy, bound carbon copy receipt books, all taking more than their money's worth of work.

Remember there is Sunday School each Sunday afternoon and Preaching in the evening at the Battin school house.

We think there will be no more base ball this season.

OREGON NEWS NOTES

The state board has granted another extension of time to Jason C. Moore, of New York, in which to deposit a bond of $25,000 with the state to insure his carrying out the terms of his lease of Summer and Albert lakes in central Oregon, fixing December 15 next as the final date.

Three of the 318 accidents reported to the state industrial accident commission during the week ending September 28 were fatal. They were Ole W. Cannon, Springfield, killed in log king operations; John Smith, of Linnton, killed while trespassing on railroad property, and I. Tamura, of Stevenson, killed in railroad operations.

Revenues of the Southern Pacific company for the fiscal year ended June 30 were the largest in the history of the company, according to the annual report to the stockholders. The gross earnings during the year were $152,694,225.19, surpassing the previous high record of 1913 by nearly $10,000,000, and an increase of $22,828,553.10 over last year.

The state board of control has appointed Bishop W. T. Sumner, ex United States Senator Fred W. Malloy and L. J. Wentworth, representative in the legislature from Multnomah county, all of Portland, as members of the commission to investigate conditions at the state prison and make recommendations as to reorganization, new buildings and other matters.

Experiments in the culture of broom corn, conducted at Albany and Oregon City for the last two years, have satisfied L. B. Appleby that this crop can be made a profitable addition to the state's agricultural resources. Mr. Appleby now has between 15 and 20 acres of broom corn ripening at Oregon City, which he believes will yield him between three and four tons.

The state board of control has instructed Secretary Goodin to notify the California Cotton mills, of Oakland, that it would dispose of the state's crop of flax tow for 7 cents a pound, F. O. B. Salem. It is estimated there will be 50,000 pounds of tow available for sale. The California Cotton mills recently offered to buy the state's crop of scutched flax for $440 a ton.

Announcement of the purchase of about 330,000,000 feet of timber in the Oregon national forest from the government for $350,000 has been made by John W. Palmer, a Hood River orchard owner and former president of the Western Lumber company. The timber is chiefly Douglas fir and lies on the upper west fork of Hood river. A mill, with a capacity of 200,000 feet daily, will be built to handle the output.
