NEW POLICY NEEDED IN GOVERNMENT RAILWAY CONTROL

Washington, Nov. 28 .- A new policy of government railroad regulation, Mrs. Alice Crofts of 7106-57 avenue based on constructive principles of helpfulness and encouragement instead of upon principles of repression and punishment, was urged by Alfred P. Thom, counsel for the Railway Executives' Advisory Committee, the first witness on behalf of the railroads before the Newlands Joint Committee on Interstate Commerce, which has instituted a general inquiry into the problems of railroad regulation.

"It is proposed by the joint resolution of Congress,' said Mr. Thom, "to go into a comprehensive study of the whole subject of transportation, to make a new assessment, after 29 years Monmouth, spent Thanksgiving at home. of experiment, of its history, its present conditions and its future needs. The railroads accept the view that regulation is a permanent and enduring part of government in America and that the first duty of the carriers is to home from O. A. C. for Thanksgiving. the public. That duty is to afford reasonable facilities on reasonable terms and at reasonable rates, and this must be done before any private interests can be considered.

Certainty, Safety and Sufficiency. Mr. Thom contended that the real interest of the public is in being assured The first consideration of the thas recovered public is to obtain transportation facilities. What the cost is, is in reality a second consideration, he said.

Mr. Thom proposed an increase of transportation facilities as a method of living. "There have been less than 1,000 miles of new railroad constructed in the United States during the past year." he said, "less than in any year since 1848, except the period of the Civil War, and yet the cost of living is daily advancing owing to a shortage of supplies which might be remedied by securing access to new areas of pro-

Credit Must Be Improved. "This leads to the consideration as to whether railroad credit is as good as the public interest requires. It is impossible for railroads to earn enough to supply the necessary new facilities from current revenue. They must be provided from credit. Investors cannot be coerced, but must be attracted." Among the conditions affecting rallroad credit which deter investors he mentioned the following: "First, Railroad revenues are not controlled by investors, but are fixed and limited by governmental authority and not by one but by severa! governmental authorities, which do not recornize responsibility for assured results to investors and are uncoordinated. "Second. Railroads cannot control and the government cannot and does not limit the expense account. "Third. The present system of regulation is based on a policy of regulatio and correction and not on a policy of helpfulness and encouragement. "Fourth, The outstanding obligations parts of Nebraska. She will return to of the railroads have already exceeded the financial rule of safety and involve a disproportionate amount of obligations bearing fixed charges. "Fifth, The investor must accept a subordinate obligation or security with no assurance of a surplus of earnings to support it.

"Sixth, Other competitive lines of investment present superior attractions. "Seventh. The railroad business is largely controlled by political instead business considerations.

Look Forward, Not Back. "We may debate about what has caused the present conditions," said Mr. Thom, "but we cannot debate about what the people need. The President has taken the view that we must look forward in this matter and 'make a liable assurance of sufficient present and future railroad facilities
