

Death By Accident.

Clyde E. McKinney, of 4619 E. 51st street died at the Good Samaritan Hospital Wednesday morning, death resulting from injuries sustained by being jerked off a freight car while in the discharge of his duties as switchman for the P. R. L. & P. Co., in whose employ he had been for the past six or seven years. The body was taken to the morgue where an inquest was held. Funeral services will be held at the Kenworthy Parlors Friday afternoon.

Card Of Thanks.

We wish to thank all our many friends and neighbors whose kindness and helpful offers of sympathy have materially aided in lifting the burdens connected with the death of our father. The many beautiful floral offerings were greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Anderson.

Locomotive Whistles.

Ask each one of a company of fifty people to rise separately and remain standing for one minute. There will be fifty different records, varying from ten to sixty seconds. Ask ten workmen each to bring you a short and a long board and you will get twenty different lengths of board. These illustrations are used by a railway man to emphasize the necessity of a mechanical device to eliminate the element of uncertainty as to what constitutes a "long" or a "short" whistle by a locomotive. It is not right, he says, to trust the safety of a trainload of passengers to a guess upon a guess.—Exchange.

First Printed Bible.

The first edition of the printed Bible was sold at 60 crowns per volume to various universities and people of wealth by Dr. John Faust in Paris. The purchasers supposed the books were copied by hand. The last of the edition he sold at 20 crowns. With this publication originated the myth of the "printer's devil." When the people, amazed at the rapidity with which the books were produced, searched his office and found a great quantity of red ink which Faust was using liberally they concluded that the devil was helping the publisher; hence the cry was raised, "The devil and Dr. Faust!"—Chicago Journal.

With Her Eyes.

They stood by the old well together. "How shall we drink?" he said. "There is no bucket here." She lowered her eyes. When she raised them again they were full of water.—Princeton Tiger.

LOOK TO ETERNITY.

It were good for man to have some anchorage deeper than the treacherous quicksands of this world, for these drift to and fro in such a way as to baffle all conjecture.—Carlyle.

Freedom of Will.

Professor—The result of our investigations for the past half hour is that man has freedom of will. I regret that I cannot continue the subject today, as I have to go shopping with my wife.—Fliegende Blaetter.

Local and Personal

Mrs. August Weber, of Gilbert Road, is on the sick list this week.

and Julien A. Hurley of Malheur county; and Representatives W. E. Schimpff of Clatsop county, W. H. Gore of Jackson county, C. C. Clark of Gilliam county, O. Laurgaard of Multnomah county and Roy Ritner of Umatilla county, the latter five being members of the House Committee on Roads. It has been appointed in pursuance to a joint resolution passed by the Legislature requiring the naming of a committee to prepare the official argument for the state pamphlet to be sent to voters prior to the special election June 4.

Representing the entire state as it does, this committee, it is stated, would be the proper body to call the state-wide conference that is proposed. This would insure that whatever headquarters are established would be under the domination and control of the counties outside of Multnomah, and would insure that the headquarters be kept free from the influence of paving contractors. It would also insure that whatever campaign funds were raised, should any be deemed necessary, would come from the people of the whole state in small subscriptions, and that no contributions would be permitted from any paving interest.

Senator Wood has the suggestions under consideration, and states that if he calls the meeting of the legislative committee of eight he will do so some time next week.

Later, Senator Wood has since called a meeting of the committee as above outlined, which will meet at the Imperial Hotel, Portland, Saturday, March 17. At this meeting the committee will give formal consideration to proposals that have come in from all parts of the State asking the committee, as the official body representing the legislature in the bonding act, to call a conference for the organization of a state committee or association which can establish an information headquarters for the bonding campaign.

Laurelwood Market.

In this market there is a grocery store and a meat market, the former under the management of F. O. Parsons, and the latter conducted by W. H. Warren. They have been in business in this store for four years and find business is good. Mr. Parsons does practically a spot cash business, with his only specialty low prices, and S. A. H. Green Trading Stamps. While waiting to talk to him, eight customers bought a ten-cent loaf to one who bought a five-cent loaf. Mr. Parsons predicts that the five-cent loaf will soon be a thing of the past, and that the ten-cent loaf is better value, easier and more sanitary to handle and more satisfactory to everyone. Mr. Warren said that the only change in price which his store had made on account of the increased high prices, was to advance the price of pork a little. Every thing else was being sold now at the same prices as before the war. He is convinced that a systematic campaign to educate people to trade at home, and to show them how much better they can do right at their own door yard is most needed and it would revolutionize business.

Lents P. T. A. To Meet.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Lents school will meet in the Assembly Hall Friday, March 16th, at 7:30 p. m. An interesting program has been provided. There will be two musical numbers, a vocal solo by Miss Mable Sweet and a song by Miss Chapman's class. Miss Nelson will ask a series of questions in the interest of social welfare. Following this there will be a round table discussion of the subjects, "Truthful Children" and "Care of Whining." The topics will be presented by Mrs. Farley and Miss Schroyer. Also the topic "Buying that isn't buying," will be presented by Mrs. Thayer.
