Can You Thread a Needle Easily

Threading a needle is one of the hardest things for the best of eyes and much harder for defective ones. It's the point where many opticians fail in giving clear and comfortable vision. It's the point of excellence we seek to obtain. If the aid of glasses will accomplish it we guarantee to enable you to thread a needle as easily as you ever did in your life.

Mrs. L. H. Burd of Estacada has been visiting at the home of her parents. Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Huxley, on Eighty-fourth street, near sixty-second avenue.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fischer, of 92nd St., a 10-pound daughter. The little lady arrived on the 2nd inst. and will be known as Esther Ruth. Mother and child are doing fine.

Mrs. Lew. McKinley underwent an operation at St. Vincent's Hospital on the 3rd inst. She is getting along nicely, and her friends, are hoping for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. Bertha Barker, of 80th St. and 63rd Ave., returned on Tuesday from a two months' Eastern trip, visiting relatives and friends in Illinois, Indiana and Washington.

Many of the young men of the Mt. Scott district are responding to the call of their country, some entering the army and some the navy. Roy Peterson will leave Friday evening for San Francisco, where he will enlist in the navy.

Oscar Lent, of the Lents Mercantile Company is nursing a badly mashed foot, caused by dropping a heavy stick of cordwood upon it while assisting in the unloading of some wood in front of the company's store the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kennedy and family, formerly of Lents, have returned and will once more make their residence among us, after residing for some time in the Montavilla district. They will reside on 90th street and 43rd avenue.

Mrs. Wm. Reynolds of 94th street, and Mrs. White of 90th street, expect to leave about the middle of next week for Long Beach, Wash., at which place their husbands are engaged in a logging camp. They expect to remain throughout the summer.

The ladies of the Mt. Scott district will be given an opportunity on Friday and Saturday of next week to obtain many helpful suggestions regarding the various nutritious ways of using Graham flour. On these dates the Lents Mercantile Co. have arranged to have special demonstrators at their store and have extended an invitation to the ladies of the district to call and meet these people.

For bargains in hardware our readers are invited to investigate the prices quoted by the Lents Hardware Co., in their anniversary sale which is now on. The thrifty housewife, as well as contractors, painters, carpenters and all users of hardware will find many attractions in their advertisement and bills which have been freely circulated.

CLASS OF FIFTEEN TO BE INITIATED

Eureka Rebehs to Entertain Orpha Lodge And Other Guests On Friday Evening.

Tomorrow, (Friday) evening will be a red letter date on the calendar of Eureka Rebehs lodge of Lents. At this time they will entertain Orpha lodge; also friends from other lodges. Twenty new members will be taken upon this occasion—five by transfer and fifteen by initiation. A banquet will be served in the dining hall above at the conclusion of the lodge session. The degree staff have been preparing for the event for some time and an enjoyable evening is anticipated.

April Fairy Visits Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Eggman, of 92nd street, were visited by fairies on April 1st, instead of the usual mischievous spirits who are supposed to work their pranks on unsuspecting victims. This particular fairy assumed the form of a stork and in departing left a dear little daughter to gladden the home and serve as a reminder of its visit. The little lady will be known as Marjorie. The proud young parents are receiving the congratulations of their friends over the advent of their first born.

Shipyard Employee Injured.

H. R. Schuerman, of 80th street, who has been employed at the Northwest Steel Company's Plant, was injured on Monday by a large beam which was moved into position by a crane. He saw it coming, but was unable to get out of the way in time to avoid being hit. He was brought home in a taxi. No bones seem to have been broken, but the extent of his injuries are not fully known, although they are not supposed to be serious.

Romacly-Cheever Wedding.

On Monday evening, April 2, Jeffrey Romacly and Miss Marion Cheever were united in marriage by J. M. Nelson, pastor of the Lents Baptist Church, at their future home, 4910 Sixtieth St., S. E. The bride is a graduate of the Lents school. With her parents she has made her home in Lents for the past six or seven years. The groom is associated with his father in the management of a warehouse of the Portland Milling Company on Foster Road. The well-wishes of their Lents friends go with the young people in their married life.

Knew Local Trains.

A suburbanite who has a hen's foot near the railway was complaining to a friend about having some of his birds killed by passing trains. "You should hang a time table up in the henhouse, and then they could look when the trains were booked to come past," said the friend. "Time table be hanged!" said the owner. "They know well enough when the ordinary trains will pass. When I've had one killed it has always been by a special."—Chicago News.

A Detestable Character.

Turke—I wonder where Scribber got the character of that detestable villain in his new novel. Burke—Oh, that's a portrait of the publisher who refused his first book!—London Answers.

Easter Thoughts

SOMETIMES within our hearts the good lies dead. Slain by untoward circumstances or by our own free will. And through the world we walk with bowed head Or with our senses blinded to our choice. Thinking that "good is evil—evil good." Or with determined pride to still the voice. Chat whispers of a "resurrection morn."

This is that morn—the resurrection hour Of all the good that has within us died. The hour to throw aside with passionate force The cruel bonds of wrong and blindness—pride— And rise into a level high of power. Of strength, of purity, while those we love rejoice With "clouds of angel witness" above. And all the dear ones who before have gone.

And we ascend in the triumphant joy And peace and rapture of a changed self. Chat now transfixed stands—no more the toy Of circumstance—or pride, or sin, to blight— Until we reach sublime heights And stand erect, eyes fixed upon the right. Strong in the strength that wills all wrong to atill. Will, pointing upward to the ascended Lord. Bless, ay, thrice bless, this fair, sweet Easter dawn. —Label Scott Stone in Washington Star.

Easter Gifts

The very pleasant Easter custom of sending Easter cards to our friends or of making them simple and inexpensive gifts is a good one, provided we do not carry it to an extreme. The springtime is a busy season when every one is weeding out one's possessions rather than seeking to add to them; hence numerous large gifts would prove a burden to the recipient. Eggs have always been associated with the day as symbol of the resurrection. Bonbonnieres of this shape or candy eggs are always popular. Flowers and growing plants are especially appropriate to the day, Easter lilies being always in demand. A corsage bouquet of violets or of lilies of the valley is a pretty gift to a girl. The man who makes it must be careful to have it sent to the house of the girl in time for her to wear to church on Easter morning. Neckties or scarfs are suitable gifts to make to a man who is a relative or friend, provided one knows his tastes. — Florence Howe Hall in Chicago News.

When a train goes through a tunnel the resistance of the air is an important factor, experiments having demonstrated that it measures 13.86 pounds per ton of train weight in the Simplon tunnel, as against only 8.8 pounds in the open air, a difference of over 50 per cent. This is when the train is running at thirty-seven miles an hour in the direction of the ventilating air current; when running in the opposite direction the resistance increases to 20.46 pounds.

Kitchener and the Prince. There is a story current in the army with reference to one of the Prince of Wales' early interviews with Lord Kitchener when the prince was anxious to join the forces. After long argument and discreet pointing out of possible dynastic disaster the prince broke out impetuously: "But I don't care if I am shot!" Kitchener is said to have replied: "Neither do I, sir. But you can't go." Nevertheless in the end youth and ardor prevailed, and the prince went—London Mirror.

Flattered. She—When it was given out that his cashier ran off with $50,000 he didn't seem to mind it at all. He—Is he so rich as not to miss it? She—Well, he was flattered. He never owned $50,000 in his life.
