Harry Lane Memorial.

Congress took a day off during the past week for the purpose of holding a Memorial in honor of the late Senator Harry Lane. The speeches made on that occasion gave full credit where credit was due and were an evidence of the appreciation felt for the rugged, fearless man of Oregon when men speak the truth. The speeches will be recorded and the further down in history they are read the more clearly will they stand out in bold relief, revealing one of the few great men of the State of Oregon, whose names will never be forgotten.

In reading the eulogies of Senator Lane at that Memorial session and considering their source and the tragic death of Harry Lane which might have been averted if some of those words of appreciation had been spoken earlier one is reminded of a little poem, a few lines of which run as follows:

If you have a word of praise
In these busy, heedless days,
Of some striving, helpful one,
For the good that he has done,
Do not wait,
Until too late,
Till the weary hands at rest,
Folded on a silent breast,
Leave your praises unexpressed—
Say it now.

It would be amusing if it were not so tragic how the big newspapers of the country are devoting columns of space to the publication of these speeches of eulogy, while distinct in the minds of all lurks the memory that only a few months ago these same papers were devoting as much or more space to what they now acknowledge to have been "unjust and unwarranted abuse." It is soothing to our editorial conscience to read in our issue of May 31st that this paper sought to be fair to the man at the time in view of its thorough belief in him, trusting to time to vindicate his attitude. —M. G. H.

Troublesome Trusts.

The investigation of the fuel trust in Portland gives us a mass of indigestible and worthless figures, while the trust goes merrily on. An investigation of the market trust is to be pulled off. More figures and less relief. An investigation of the fish trust that is making 400 per cent from the fish it sells is scheduled.

Our local trustbusters are as helpless in the face of food and fuel trusts as the federal government seems to be in the way of doing anything effective with the oil, copper, steel, timber, sugar, and a number of other trusts. Even the milling trust is not hurt any by the prices set for flour and wheat.

The Germans are not getting anything but glory out of the retreats of the Russians. They may obtain food and crops from the blackened fields next year, but the German people are like the farmer who chases his dog with a stolen bone while his house is on fire. The further the chase the worse the ruin. Wars are fought with food and food is raised on land. The Russian lands taken will yield food in 1918, and require the presence of many laborers and more soldiers to hold. Kicking the Russian mocek around has always been hard on the kicker.

There are three kinds of food hogs: The food slacker who slacks at everything, but eating; the hoarder who stores away valuable supplies of food, and the food profiteer who takes advantage of this crisis to extort unthinkable profits. Let's not let ourselves fall under any of these classifications.

There are a horde of special agents and county, city, township and other officials breaking up the blind pigs in Portland. It is commonly reported that boozefests are held in the dining rooms of some of our swellest resorts and places frequented by the moral and immoral well-to-do. If the common people find that prohibition does not apply to the rich there will be something doing. The velvet clad, gold-spectacled, eminently respectable blind pig must be exterminated along with the other kind.

The people of Portland have a great and valuable public property in its water system. Who has the hardihood to propose that it be sold and a water company charge us $2.50 a month instead of 50 cents? All light and power is made from falling water and Portland owns storage reservoir and timber lands enough to furnish any amount of water, water plant and electric light at cost—real, actual cost. The money can be borrowed in small sums from our people.

A barrel of flour will make 300 loaves of bread, each larger than the loaves sold in Portland for one dime. Somebody is getting away with a large amount of patriotism. You are not paying double prices for bread to help out the country. Not a cent of its excess profits gets the country anywhere. It would be far better to stop the excess profits in the first place rather than attempt to get any considerable portion of them back in the second place.

The Oregon Field Artillery batteries have gone to Fort Green, Charlotte, North Carolina. The pretended secrecy of the date of departure was a farce. There were hundreds of visitors at the train Monday at Clackamas and every person present except the babies and the mascots knew where and when. With one or two papers publishing the information in full, and two other publications silent upon the expected departure there is nothing to add.

Don't stuff the husband, but husband the stuff.

NO APPEAL FROM DECISIONS OF BOARD

It is only a waste of postage, letter paper and time for a man whose claim for exemption from the draft on industrial grounds has been denied by his district exemption board, or for any of his relatives or friends, to write to his Senator, or his Congressman, or the Provost Marshall General, or the President of the United States, trying to have the ruling of the board reversed. Strange as it may seem, a great many such letters have been written. They have poured in by the hundreds thousands to officials at Washington. Some of them have come from Oregon.

These letters will do no good whatsoever. They will not even be considered, but will be returned to the sender. If a man having real grounds for appeal wishes to prejudice his case beforehand, the surest way for him to do it is to write to his Senator, or Representative, or to some official in Washington to use his "influence" toward fixing up the exemption.

There is just one procedure whereby an appeal may be taken to the President from the ruling of a district board. That is through the district board itself, in the manner prescribed by official regulations.

It must be remembered, however, that only one class of cases can be appealed to the President from the district board. These are cases over which the district board has original jurisdiction; that is to say, cases that originate before the district board, and not with one of the local county exemption boards. The only cases over which district boards have original jurisdiction are those involving claims for exemption on the ground of employment in a necessary industry, including agriculture. No claim for exemption on the ground of dependency can be appealed to the President under any circumstances. The decision of the district board in such cases, on which it sits as an appellate board, is final. There is no further appeal.

Church Notes

Methodist Church.

The topic for the sermon on Sunday morning next will be "Faint yet Pursuing." The subject for the evening will be, "The Judgment." There will be special music.

On Sunday evening last the congregation was favored by the presence of the quartette of the Millard Avenue Presbyterian Church Choir. Two selections were rendered by them which were greatly enjoyed.

Miss Valma Sager and Mr. Roy Butz were taken into the church on confession of faith at the morning service.

On Friday evening of this week will occur the last quarterly conference for this year, at which the District Superintendent, Dr. Youngson, will preside. All reports for the year will be read at this time.

The last official board meeting for the year will be held at the church on Monday evening next.

The Ladies' Aid held their monthly Silver Tea yesterday, Wednesday, afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. E. Saunders, 6513 83rd St. Between forty and fifty ladies were present and a most delightful afternoon was spent. A program was rendered and delicious refreshments served. A short business session was held at the close of the afternoon's social hour, at which time the following officers were elected to serve during the coming year: President, Mrs. Lettie Cone; vice president, Mrs. J. C. McGrew; secretary, Mrs. Parmenter; treasurer, Mrs. Hurd.

Miss Helen Hanson, who has faithfully filled the position of organist for several years, as well as efficient Sunday School teacher in the primary department, has accepted a position as organist of one of the downtown churches. The local church parts with her reluctantly, but congratulate her upon her success.

Representatives of the Pacific Coast Rescue and Protective Society occupied the church Wednesday evening. This institution is preparing for its annual tag day which will occur October 6th. They are deserving of the loyal support of all.

Friends Church.

Last Friday evening the meeting of the Pacific Coast Rescue and Protective Association was well attended. The musical feature of the program rendered by Dr. Henry Collins was much appreciated. Dr. Collins was engaged in evangelistic work with D. L. Moody and has made three tours of Ireland.

The address by Mrs. Jehu, illustrated by lantern slides set forth in a vivid manner the work being accomplished and the needs of the Association. Their annual Tag Day occurs Saturday, October the 6th, when they hope to pay out on the children's home. The workers solicit the cooperation of all who can help sell tags. All who can do so should send their names to W. G. MacLaren 195 Burnside Street Portland.

Nine of the Endeavor people helped in the Portland Commons Mission Monday night. Mrs. Mendenhall of 99th street delivered the address. Next Monday evening they will help in the mission work at Vancouver which is attended largely by soldiers.

The Sunday School committee has arranged for a Teacher Training Class which will hold its first meeting next Wednesday evening about 6:30. It is intended for the ladies of the church to serve dinner at that time and those who are away at work will go directly to the class meeting thus saving time. The class work will begin and close at a specified time thus avoiding long and fruitless discussions and wasted evenings. Those who wish to join may leave their names with Miss Terrill, Tabor 6612, or with Mr. Dunbar at the Herald office.

Millard Ave. Presbyterian Church.

Friday evening September 21, at the Millard Avenue Presbyterian Church a reception will be given for Mr. and Mrs. Allen Black (Lois Burch) and Mr. and Mrs. George Neilson (Claire Burch). All friends of these and members of the church and congregation are invited.

There is to be an executive meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Millard Avenue Presbyterian church next Friday evening before the reception.

Anabel Presbyterian Church.

Rev. John E. Nelson of the Anabel Presbyterian Church is just beginning a series of addresses which will be illustrated by motion pictures. The church recently purchased a motion picture machine for the use of the church and Sunday School.

Last Sunday evening a film descriptive of Russia; her people, scenery, animal and plant life, and another film showing immigrants from all parts of the world landing at Ellis Island, being handled by Uncle Sam's immigration men, were used.

Rev. Nelson spoke of the immigrants and America's duty to them. The choir of the church under the direction of Mrs. Ella Hoberg Tripp renders special music for these services. The series of addresses promise to be very interesting as a large audience was in attendance at the Sunday evening service. The

Which is Your Car?

Night—the road is narrow—two cars try to pass.
One has a Stewart V-Ray Searchlight trained on the ditch. That car is safe.
The other car groping in the darkness misses the road—and is ditched. A common accident—but a needless one.
The Stewart V-Ray Searchlight with its penetrating beam "reels out" the road for you. It spots the ditches, the culverts, the dangerous turns—before you reach them.
It's a compact, good-looking searchlight. And, it is scientifically built. It has a 6-inch genuine curved lens—a real silver plated reflector—and is correctly balanced below the bracket.
There is a 3 1/2-inch reducing mirror in the back included at no extra cost. Put a Stewart V-Ray Searchlight on your car today. Make night driving safe.
