

ANNUAL HOME COMING OF ARLETA I. O. O. F.

The Arleta Odd Fellows observed their Eighth Anniversary and annual Homecoming at their lodge rooms on Friday evening last. They had with them on this occasion as guest of honor the Grand Master of the Oregon Assembly, as well as visitors from various lodges of the city. An excellent program was rendered which included a piano solo by Mrs. Grable, of Mountain View Rebekah lodge, a violin solo by Mrs. Swanson, accompanied by Miss Kawthorne, a vocal solo by Mrs. Goetz, accompanied by Miss Tibbets and readings by Mrs. Rachel Fullman, also of Mountain View Rebekah lodge.

An address was given by the Noble Grand of Arleta lodge, Mr. Oeder and also by the Grand Master of the Oregon Assembly, J. J. Johnson who accompanied the Grand Master, was called upon and gave a patriotic address which was enthusiastically received. Mr. Orendorf was chairman of the evening.

The roll call of the lodge met with a very hearty response, many absent members having written letters to be read in response to their names.

A social time followed the program. Dancing also was indulged in. Punch was served.

BUY HOME MADE GOODS AND SOLVE H. C. O. L.

The small local bakers know there is a screw loose in the bread problem, but they are just as much at a loss when it comes to locating it as is the householder. They know that it can, by no manner of means, be laid at their door. It is a matter of common knowledge that flour is selling at $2 per bushel and that a barrel of flour when made into bread brings $30, which is claimed to be double what it should be. Mr. Brugger, one of the bakers of Lents, hopes Mr. Hoover will be able to locate the "nigger in the woodpile." He pays $11.20 for a barrel of flour that used to cost him $5; $8 per hundred lbs. for sugar that he used to get for $4.50. Also, lard that he formerly could obtain for 7, 8, and 9 cts. per lb. he now has to pay 21 cts. per lb. for. All this in addition to increased cost of wood, and help and in fact everything pertaining to the business.

Some of the things which might be done to help out the local situation and assist our home bakers in their efforts to keep the price down as low as possible would include patronizing them in preference to buying the city manufactured article. This perhaps is the main difficulty. If they had the entire local trade it would enable them to do a sufficient volume of business to admit of smaller profits and prove a mutual advantage to themselves and their patrons. A little more co-operation and forethought exercised in the purchasing of foodstuffs would tend to solve many of the problems that are perplexing the housewife and at the same time solve some of the problems of the small merchant who is trying to make ends meet.

TOO OLD TO FIGHT BUYS LIBERTY BONDS

Emil Frick, the oldest living pensioner on the Southern Pacific's Honor Roll, has invested his savings in Liberty Bonds. Frick is 76 years of age, and entered the railroad service on November 21, 1864, several years before the golden spike linked California and the rest of the country with the first transcontinental railroad.

Emil Frick is a Frenchman by birth. "My heart yearns to be over there," he says simply. "I would give my life willingly for France if it would avail, but I figure that America can do more than I for France, and so I lend to America my savings."

There are twelve members of the Southern Pacific's Veterans Club who subscribed with Frick for the First Liberty Loan, and five or six others have applied for bonds of the Second Loan.
