Lend Your Money As Freely As They Are Giving Their Lives

You don't have to fight.

But—

Your son does, or your brother who is now across the way—or the kid now in khaki to whom you used to give pennies a short time ago. That money you have laid away for "a rainy day"—wouldn't you give a nickel of it to keep a Hun's knife away from their throat?

Well, the Hun is there, and so is his knife—and so is the "rainy day"—it's raining now, raining bombs and shrapnel upon our boys "over there."

JUNE 28th

NATIONAL WAR SAVINGS DAY

On that day the nation will call upon you, not just your neighbor—but YOU—to pledge yourself to the purchase of a certain number of WAR SAVINGS STAMPS during 1918. LEND YOUR MONEY AS FREELY AS THEY ARE GIVING THEIR LIVES.

SCHOOL NEWS

FRANKLIN HIGH

The June '18 graduating class celebrated Class Day with a picnic along Eagle Creek, on the Highway.

A girls' track meet was held in Franklin's "platter" Thursday afternoon. The score was 27 points for the freshmen and 7 for the sophomores. Miss Gladys Santvain, gymnasium instructor for girls, supervised the track meet.

Franklin's boys' and girls' glee clubs assisted in the musical festival program on Friday evening. Several selected members also helped the adults' chorus, which sang on Thursday and Saturday evenings.

Monday morning Mrs. Alice Benson Beach spoke at an assembly urging the girls to help the different lines of war work.

Decrevell and Getts were presented with medals. Getts received a gold and a bronze medal. They were earned in the interscholastic track meet.

Margaret Amotto was also presented with a medal for her Liberty Loan competition, which has been sent to Washington for the national contest.

WOODMERE SCHOOL

Saturday evening, June 1, a very enjoyable dance was given by the Woodmere Parent-Teacher Red Cross auxiliary in the assembly hall of Woodmere school. This was the third of a series of benefit dances given this spring, and a total of $100 has been raised and donated to the Portland chapter in this way.

The Woodmere Parent-Teacher association held its June meeting on Wednesday, June 9. Mr. Ball, principal of Franklin high school, gave an interesting and instructive talk on the benefits of high school education. The June graduating class, consisting of twenty-one boys and girls and their parents, were guests for the afternoon, and after the program a social hour was enjoyed and light refreshments were served. Another pleasant feature of the program was a group of songs by the boys and girls of the seventh grade, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Macdonald.

HIS CAMOUFLAGE IN DANGER

Convivial Gentleman Evidently Had Relied Too Much on Its Being Closed Season for Oysters.

W. B. Trites, the novelist, is in Paris with the American troops, and at a dinner at Pallard's he told a camouflage story.

"A young American officer," he said, "came to Paris from a flying camp on a furlough and celebrated his first evening in the metropolis a little too gaily. His mother had an apartment in the Avenue de Messine, and he drove home at the evening's end with the firm determination that the good lady should never know how pickled he was.

"He got in noiselessly and began to search the apartment for a place to hide. He thought of hiding under a bed, then of getting into a wardrobe, but finally he found two portable tin baths, and these gave him an excellent idea.

"He undressed silently, curled himself up in one of the baths and drew the other over him. Then he chuckled to think how well he had managed, and went off to sleep.

"His mother, in the small hours, finding his bed empty, made a search for him. At last she came to the two superposed baths, peeped through a crack, and said:

"Are you there, dear?"

"The crack widened a little, a wild eye looked out, and a voice whispered: "Sh—sh! Go—hic—away, or you'll spoil my camouflage. I'm a—hic—oyshter!"

It pays to have a working program and stick to it.

NEW SAVING SYSTEM IN CHINA

Scheme Devised by Authorities Shows How Western Ideas Have Begun to Permeate the Country.

For the purpose of supplementing pensions given by the Chinese government to superannuated letter carriers a system has been inaugurated by the ministry of the interior, whereby the annual allowance may be raised to a livable income.

The new system provides for the deposit by postal employees of one-twentieth of their salaries, the deposits to bear interest at a rate not yet determined. Where postal savings banks have already been established they shall be used, and banks elsewhere will be authorized to undertake the handling of the accounts.

The plan is elastic in that it will benefit the contributor not only in his old age, but in case of accident or emergency. Money may be drawn out up to a certain point for such expenses as illness, the marriage or death of a member of one's family, etc. Savings and accumulated interest will be paid in full or on installment plan to members retiring from the police force.

Before the savings system was put into operation it was submitted for approval to the officers of the police forces, who assembled in Peking for the purpose of discussing the matter. The ministry of the interior had their unanimous approval of the plan, and it is expected that officers of the provinces will also wish to adopt it.

GENIUS INSPIRED BY WAR

John Masfield, English Poet and Novelist, Sees Feast of Spiritual Conceptions in Future.

John Masfield, the poet and novelist, thinks that the devastating war in Europe by way of compensation will inspire great intellects such as flourished after the Napoleonic struggle:

"We shall have new Darwins, Spencers and Carlyles with new messages that will reach the whole world. We shall have new Shelleys in poetry. People will feast upon new spiritual conceptions as remote as possible from the great tragedy. They will turn to the romantic and fantastic, the beautiful, just as they did after the Napoleonic wars."

That is a consummation devoutly to be wished. Certainly in the present dearth of genius it is gratifying to believe that the world has a new Shelley and a new Byron in the cradle, born at the outbreak of the war as they were born at the outbreak of the French revolution. Perhaps there are other Darwins and Spencers and Carlyles to come. But considering that the "First Principles" was published in 1862, "Sociology" in 1872 and the "Descent of Man" in 1871, did the Crimean war and our own Civil war have any part in inspiration? Shall we infer that the war between the states stimulated mid-Victorian literature while doing little to inspire American letters?—Exchange.

Sunken Treasure.

There is some consolation for Captain Kidd, after all. The present generation is about to revive the profession of searching for the treasure ships of the seas on a scale which, if he could know it, would stir the keenest interest. True, this age is not for men of his kind. He has been shamefully outdone in piracy, and now he will be out-captained in the salvage of buried treasure by reason of the stupendous plans which are being made for raising ships sunk by German submarines. At the end of the war charts and airships will, it is planned, locate the wrecks within the war zone. Coal will be sucked out of flooded holds by pipes, as vacuum cleaners draw up dust. Metal cargoes and steel plates will be recovered by magnets, acting in combination with powerful blasts of air. The romance of hunting for the gold of the Spanish galleons will be nothing to the romance of salvaging this the greatest fleet ever sent to the bottom. Is it possible that we may cross the Atlantic on the Lusitania once more?—Christian Science Monitor.

How long the war is going to last depends a good deal on how long it is going to take us to get down to business and accomplish some real results.

They have got the war bread to a quality now that ought to make corn bread attractive and render it easy to conserve wheat.

Death's Terrible Toll.

At a moderate calculation, there were sent into eternity during the Civil war more than a million of men, who left home in the prime of life and in health and in strength.
