

Arleta and Kern Park

Next Sunday at the Laurelwood M. E. church special services will be initiated, to continue until Easter.

On April 25th there will be an entertainment given at the Joseph Kellogg school in the interests of the athletic fund.

C. J. Hollingworth, 5610 71st St., S. E., motored to Hood River last Saturday, returning Sunday with his wife and daughter, Jean.

The girls baseball team of the Joseph Kellogg school played Woodmere girls on the Kellogg field last Friday, the 28th, score 39 to 19.

The family of F. Schrumm moved last Saturday from 7303 55th Ave., S. E., to 7121 59th Ave., S. E. The house which they vacated was immediately taken possession of by William Worrell.

Miss Marguerite Leaman of Timber Valley, Wash., who has come down to resume her vocal studies during the Easter season with Prof. J. A. Hollingworth, is making an extended visit with Mrs. Ella Fletcher, of 7015 Millard Ave.

Ed Williams and family of 5521 69th St., S. E., are moving to 909 E. Stark St. The Williams house will be immediately taken possession of by the Fisher family from 40th Ave., near Anabel.

The Laurelwood Congregational church has been working for the past two or three weeks on its Easter program. A. W. Pratten, superintendent of the Sunday school, is chairman-in-general and is assisted by Mrs. Meta Snider as chairman of the committee on Sunday school songs.

An adult Bible class has recently been started in the Laurelwood Congregational Sunday school. Dr. Eugene A. Spear, the teacher, is beginning a series of studies in the International lessons for the new quarter. This series of lessons deals especially with the great outstanding topics of the Bible.

S. E. Chambers, who recently broke his wrist while cranking his auto and who later fell from a ladder while pruning a tree, breaking a rib, is confined to his home as the result of an extreme nervous shock. Although the broken bones have seemed to be mending properly, Mr. Chambers has suffered acutely.

Next Sunday, at the Third United Brethren church the pastor, Rev. E. O. Shepherd, will speak on "Faith on Trial" in the morning and on "An Outcast" in the evening. At the morning service W. H. Smith will sing "Anchored." The Easter exercises of this church are in charge of Mesdames Brown and J. Welch.

Wednesday of last week the Arleta baseball nine played Richmond 20 to 0. The team is composed of these: Captain and pitcher, Mason Honeyman; catcher, Floyd Day; first base, Edgar Lawrence; second base, Fred Boyer; third base, Frances Rigdon; left field, Bob Moser; center field, Harry Erickson; right field, Elmer Darden; short-stop, Willis Prather; extras—Clarence Day, third base, and Alfred Moline, fielder.

This Friday evening, the 4th, the Parent-Teacher association of Arleta is giving a community sing led by Prof. W. H. Boyer, chief of music instruction in this city. Prof. J. A. Hollingworth says of Prof. Boyer, "He has no peer in America and no equal in the Northwest as a chorus director." And anyone who has seen him wield a baton can scarcely fail to assent to this critique. John R. Leach, a leading public spirit of Kern Park, will speak on some timely topic concerning neighborhood welfare. Refreshments of cake and coffee will be served.

The Joseph Kellogg baseball nine has played several preliminary games with other schools. The following is their scoring up to date: Joseph Kellogg vs. Hudson, 8-2; vs. Creston, 14-2; vs. Clinton Kelley, 5-3; vs. St. Ignatius, 2-5, first game; vs. St. Ignatius, 10-8, second game. Joseph Kellogg played its first league game with Woodmere Wednesday of this week on the Woodmere field. The personnel of the nine is as follows: Captain and catcher, Robert Slater; pitcher, Vernon Adams; first base, George Guthrie; second base, Frank Palmer; third

Last Sunday morning at the Laurelwood M. E. church Mrs. Caroline Greene and Miss Dolly Waterman Greene sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Lotta Greene Murray at the piano. In the evening the service was devoted to one of the four chief phases of the Centenary movement—Christian Stewardship. Short talks were given on the subject by Messrs. Knox and Allen, Mrs. Young, Dr. Lockwood, and by the pastor, the Rev. A. C. Brackenbury.

Last Friday night the Joseph Kellogg school house was the scene of a cafeteria dinner under the auspices of the South Mt. Tabor Community club. The dinner, from which the receipts amounted to about $30, was the great event of the evening, but following it there was a short business session and a business hour. E. E. Gilmer, president of the club, was active in promoting the affair.

The Tremont United Brethren church Sunday school was entertained by its superintendent, Chas. Guthrie, 3544 64th St., S. E., Friday evening the 28th. About 50 were present to enjoy the old-fashioned games. Early in the evening the girls' organized class had a business meeting, at which Miss Lydia Fry was elected president to succeed Miss Fairchild, who is leaving the community. The other officers of the class are vice-president, Eva Gaugh; secretary, Minnie Sutton; treasurer, Grace Guthrie.

Last Wednesday, the 26th, the Ladies' Aid society of the Laurelwood Congregational church had an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Meta Snider, 4418 79th St., S. E. While this was the regular work meeting, the ladies used it as the occasion for a surprise-farewell luncheon in honor of their president, Mrs. Ben Leabo, who expects to leave soon on an eastern trip. The lunch table was prettily decorated with daffodils and yellow crepe paper, and the menu had been made especially festive. Mrs. J. J. Hand-saker, pastor of the Laurelwood Congregational church, spoke a few words of cordial farewell to Mrs. Leabo on behalf of the society, and Meta Snider gave some vocal numbers. Mrs. Snider was assisted in the serving by Mesdames Nelson Lawrence and W. A. Pratten.

The appearance at the auditorium last Friday evening, March 28, of Theo Carl, the powerful, sweet-toned tenor, who appeared with the Columbia club (Swedish), was of special interest to the students of the Arleta Studio of Music inasmuch as Prof. J. A. Hollingworth is also a pupil of Mr. Carl's teacher, the eminent Edmund J. Myer of New York. Mr. Carl was in splendid voice and his reputation as an "athletic tenor" was fully re-established by the ease and grace of his movements. In addition to his musicianship, which has been declared flawless by eastern critics, Mr. Carl is something of a polyglot, his repertoire of last Friday evening including songs in Swedish, Italian, and English. The concert was pleasurable also on account of the good team-work of the Columbia club, which is led by Charles Swenson. The quality of the chorus work was such that even Portland's best-known group of male singers, the Appollo club, may well look to its laurels.

Besides Prof. and Mrs. A. J. Hollingworth, a number of the students of the Arleta Studio attended the concert, among them being Mesdames Lina Jasper, Roy Armstrong, Reed, the Misses Marguerite Leaman and Bertha Case, and Messrs. R. J. Remington, Harold Oppenlander, and Wm. Worrell.
