

WELL-KNOWN GIRL BECOMES BRIDE OF RETURNED SOLDIER

One of the most interesting social events of the month was the marriage of Miss Sebra Deeton and Alvin Klingler Wednesday, April 9, at high noon. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Deeton, of 6313 Ninety-second street. The bride is a very popular young lady, and up to a short time ago was employed in the Multnomah State Bank, where she made many friends. The groom, whose home is at Bull Run, returned two weeks ago from France, where he has been in the service since last July.

The bride and groom took their places in the double doors under a silk flag, to the strains of a wedding march played by Miss Chloe Keithley. The rooms were beautifully decorated in the national colors of red, white and blue.

Mrs. Klingler was attired in a beautiful bridal gown of white satin and lace, the bridal veil being held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Deeton, Mr. and Mrs. Klingler and Charles Klingler, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher of Scotts Mills, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. Mackey, Irwin Mackey, Mrs. Wise, Minnie Chapman, Bell Chapman, Arthur and Charles Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chapman, Miss Chloe Keithley, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Revenue, Ruth Reed, Eva Edwards, Mrs. Donaldson and Leona Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Deeton, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Chapman.

Mr. and Mrs. Klingler left immediately after the ceremony on a wedding trip to Eugene.

DARWIN J. BRADLEY DIED AT THE FAMILY RESIDENCE MONDAY

Had Lived in Oregon Nearly Thirty Years—Resident of the Lents District for Seven Years.

Darwin J. Bradley died at the family residence at 7913 Foster road Monday, April 7. Funeral services were held Thursday, April 10, at 1:30 p. m. from the funeral parlors of A. D. Kenworthy & Co., 5802 Ninety-second street S. E., Portland. Interment was in Multnomah cemetery.

Mr. Bradley was born in Wisconsin in 1862 and crossed the plains in 1864 to Montana, where he grew to manhood. He came to Oregon in 1890, engaging in mining business in southern Oregon for a few years. He came to Portland later, engaging in fraternal work and photography. He was humane officer for several years, both in Oregon City and Portland under President Shanahan.

Mr. Bradley had lived at the above address for the past seven years. He leaves to mourn his departure his widow, Kate Bradley; three sons, George Bradley of Rosalia, Wash., Lee Bradley of Lewiston, Idaho, Perry Bradley of the U. S. army stationed at Camp Kearny, and Forest Bradley, step-son; one sister, Mrs. Robert Weeden of St. Helens, Ore.; one brother, Chas. Bradley of Rockford, Washington.

Miss Gilbert Entertained Wednesday Afternoon in Honor of Francis Rife

Miss Gladys Gilbert entertained a number of ladies at a surprise shower Wednesday afternoon at her home, 6710 Ninety-second street, in honor of Miss Francis Rife. The affair was a complete surprise to the bride-to-be. A beautiful cedar chest given by the bridegroom-elect was filled with gifts which will be a pleasant reminder of the happy event. A delicious luncheon of cake, coffee and pineapple sherbet was served. The table was beautifully decorated in pink and white. A fewie doll bride with pink and white ribbons attached to her wreath and tied to the bluebird and butterfly place cards formed the centerpiece. Pink and white rosebuds and carnations added to the beauty of the rooms.

The ladies present were Mrs. Eva Anderson, Mrs. E. M. Scheuerman, Ruth Holland, Mrs. Ernest Trenary, Mrs. Martha Trenary, Miss Gingrich, Mrs. Shupp, Fern Upham, Mrs. Morterud, Mrs. Rife, Mrs. Huxley, Bell Chapman, Vera Knox, Mrs. Rusk.

Mt. Scott Drug Company In Business 17 Years Here

The Mt. Scott Drug Co. is advertising a special sale to begin next Saturday in celebration of their seventeenth anniversary since beginning business in Lents. This firm is one of the pioneer business firms of this district and many changes and improvements have taken place since they first began business here. They have grown with the community and now have one of the best and most progressive stores in Lents.

Mildred Wakefield Gave Party to Little Friends

Mildred Wakefield entertained a number of little friends at her home, 6532 Ninety-second street, Saturday, April 5, in honor of her twelfth birthday. After spending some time playing games and having a jolly time the little guests were invited to the dining room where a delicious luncheon of sandwiches, cocoa, ice cream and cake were served. The table was tastefully decorated with pink streamers festooned from the chandelier and fastened to a little pink basket at each place filled with spring beauties and lilies. A fewie doll dressed in pink swung above the table and watched that all went well. Covers were laid for 12 but owing to the inclemency of the weather only nine of the invited guests were present, who were: Dorothy Geisler, Audrey Douglas, Francis Sefton, Dorcy Coffman, Gertrude Huber, Mildred Larsen, Irene Davis Dorris Marshall and Olive Updike.

Obituary of "Grandma" Cundiff, Who Died Here March 31 at Baker Home

Mrs. Mary E. Cundiff, affectionately known as Grandma Cundiff, of 6023 Eighty-fourth street S. E., Portland, Ore., was born April 9, 1843, in Marion county, Kentucky, near the village of Merrimack. She died at the above address March 31, 1919.

She was educated in "Loretta" Academy, a selective school for girls near Merrimack, and in 1870 moved to Illinois, near Rantoul, where she took up teaching and music.

On New Year's day, 1874, she was married to Thomas D. Cundiff, and in 1891 the family moved to Oregon and located near Albany. When the home farm was sold and made the Linn county poor farm they moved to Lebanon, living there from 1899 to 1908, followed by one year at Newberg. She moved to Lafayette in 1909 and lived there until 1915. While here she lost her husband, and when she became so feeble that she could not manage for herself any longer her children had her come to Portland, as being a more central location.

She was converted in early life, and during her stay in Portland she became very much attached to the little Friends church at Lents, and her request was that the pastor, Rev. Laurana Terrell, officiate at the funeral.

She had three children, Lucy, who died in infancy, and Chas. A. Cundiff of Vancouver, Wash., and J. F. Cundiff of 732 E. Twenty-seventh street, Portland, both of whom survive her.

Dr. Hess' Car Stolen Last Sunday; Found Monday

Dr. Hess' car was stolen last Sunday evening from Broadway and Taylor streets, where he had parked it for a couple of hours. It was recovered Monday evening, however, none the worse for the trip it had evidently had. Some one no doubt wanted a joy ride and picked the best looking machine that could be found. The doctor's instruments and two overcoats which were in the machine were not molested.

MRS. D. H. MCKINLEY WRITES

LETTER ABOUT HERMISTON HOME

Hermiston, Ore., April 4, 1919. To My Lents Friends, Greetings:

I promised when we left home for the sagebrush country that sometime in the near future I would write my impressions of this land and submit them to The Herald for publication.

When we had been here a couple of weeks I mentioned to a bunch of callers that I must redeem my promise, but one of them said, "Oh, Mrs. McKinley, wait a while; you don't know anything yet." So I waited. I'd be wiser perhaps to wait longer, but I don't want any of you to think I am afraid to speak my mind on this or any other subject.

If I said this is a region of sand I would be telling you all I thought at first—sagebrush and sand tells part but not all of it. Looking out over the country it reminds me very much of Dakota. It is rolling, with no native trees except an occasional clump of willows—yellow willows which gleam in the sunshine like veritable gold. Just now the prairie is covered where it is not under cultivation with a bright yellow flower with short stems, that literally carpet the ground with yellow. Then the alfalfa is the brightest green, and now that the peach orchards are in bloom, it is a sight. Everybody has his orchard of peach, apple, apricot, cherries, etc. Some raise grapes and berries. Nearly all have strawberries.

Looking out now on my right is a hill covered with yellow; on the left is pink, and in the center is a great expanse of green.

About ten years ago a company known as the Maxwell opened up this project. They sold the land at as high as $250 per acre, and a good many people came in and bought and built and afterward went away and left their places. The evidence of their failure dots the prairie in at least two directions from where we live. The company's system was all wrong. The ditches remain but when the government took over the project they threw them all out. The government is very considerate and helpful. There is a resident engineer, a ditch rider and other government employees who come at everybody's call with help and advice and encouragement.

Every landholder is entitled to four feet of water four feet deep all over his land during the season from March to September, or later if needed. You can raise anything you please in this unspeakable sand (even cane) if you know how. I was told today that I could raise peanuts.

Many of the farmers keep bees. One man has 1500 hives, and there is no honey like the alfalfa honey. Come on, you bee man. I was surprised at the number and extent of the apple orchards. There is one adjoining Mr. Bundy's place of 70 acres, and there are larger ones than that. I wish you could see these ditches, the big ones. They run all over the country and crossed by "honest-to-goodness" bridges. One of these ditches we crossed today was running like a mill-race with more water in it than there is in Johnson creek. It is a sight, believe me. It goes rushing and roaring and gurgling about its business as though it knew how important it was. With all this system it rains quite often, too. Last night it rained—poured all night.

This climate is the grandest in the world. Ask anybody who knows. The wind actually does not blow as much or as hard as it does in Lents; that's a fact. Don't ask me the price of land. It's according to the land. I saw a piece that sold for $40 an acre but the water has to be brought a long ways. I know another place that the owner asks $300 an acre for, but if you want land use your eyes and your tongue; money is no consideration.

FRANKLIN STUDENTS ARE TO DEBATE ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Patrons of School Entertained and Banqueted by Log Cabin Bakery Company Recently at Plant.

On the fourth Tuesday of this month the Franklin Parent-Teacher association will be entertained by a debate given by the students of the Franklin high on "The League of Nations." There will also be an address by Mrs. R. J. Marsh.

Last Wednesday evening about 150 patrons of the Franklin High school were entertained by the Log Cabin Bakery, 265 Ivy. The guests were first escorted through the baking plant, shown its equipment and methods, and were then banqueted. George Schmidt, city sales manager for the Log Cabin Bakery, made an address of welcome to which Mrs. George G. Root, president of the Franklin Parent-Teacher association, responded. At the close of her talk Mrs. Root introduced Principal S. F. Ball of Franklin, who spoke in behalf of the faculty. J. Bruce Polworth, of the Franklin party, gave a humorous talk on the merits of the Log Cabin Bakery. Among other things, he paid his respects to his wife's cooking but added that hereafter he should eat only Log Cabin products.

MR. AND MRS. SCHEUERMAN CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Saturday evening, April 5, 1919, at 7:30 o'clock, the appointed time, the guests all being present, the bride and groom of 50 years, the bride carrying a bouquet of daffodils, were lead to the spacious bay window in their home, 6223 Eighty-ninth street. "Silver Threads Among the Gold" was played on the grafonola. The pastor of the couple, Rev. N. Shupp, with ceremony very fitting for the occasion, in an amusing way brought to mind the time of 50 years ago. The ring ceremony was used in which a gold ring set with a sardonyx and interset with a diamond was presented to Mother Scheuerman. Immediately following, Father Scheuerman was presented with a gold watch and fob. The pastor lead in prayer.

One feature of the congratulations was the reading of congratulatory letters from three of the daughters in the east. "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," was played on the grafonola.

The bridal party was then invited to the dining room and seated at the table. Place cards, hand-painted in gold, attached to small gilded slippers by yellow ribbon, with a conundrum at the other end of the ribbon, designated the positions of the guests at the table. The wedding cake, decorated with gold leaves, helped to adorn the table. "O 'Dem Golden Slippers" was then played, after which delicious refreshments consisting of orange ice cream and cake were served.

The home was decorated with golden streamers, Oregon grape, daffodils and wild flowers.

Those present were Father and Mother Scheuerman, Rev. and Mrs. Shupp, Mrs. A. C. Kiger, Miss Alma Kiger, and the children, Mrs. M. M. Kiger and family of McMinnville; M. H. Scheuerman and family, E. M. Scheuerman and family, all of Lents. Four daughters not present are Mrs. J. M. Wickizer, Argos, Ind.; Mrs. B. R. Castleman, Bantry, N. D.; Mrs. Earl Zechel, Culver, Ind.; Mrs. Victor Elick, South Bend, Ind.

Letter From Leslie Yott From France; Thought to Be en Route Home

The following letter was received by Mrs. Yott from her son, Leslie H. Yott, who is in France with company F, 158th infantry. It is rumored that he is on the sea en route home at present:

Bordeaux, France, March 17.

Dear Mother: I am still in France but am getting nearer home very slowly. We are now in the port of embarkation and have been inspected and are waiting for our turn, and hope it will be soon.

I am as usual and in the best of health and anxious to get on the ship, as then we know it is the good old U. S. A.

I haven't seen anybody from home only Roy Whitaker, and I think he is in the army of occupation in Germany. I read in the papers where several of the boys that came in the army the same time I did are discharged and home now. I received two papers you sent me a few days ago dated February 7 telling all about the trouble in Seattle. I hope it is all settled by this time. I also received some papers from Nogales but haven't heard from Pet lately. The last letter she said she was going to visit you this summer and I hope she can go about the time I get discharged and we can travel together. I am figuring on getting out about May 30, but you know figures don't always tell the truth.

LESLIE H. YOTT.

Marie Chapman Left on Concert Tour Wednesday

Miss Marie Chapman, one of the most popular and most talented violinists of the community, left Wednesday to begin a concert tour with the Ellison-White Chautauqua bureau. The tour begins at New Orleans, La., and returning through Texas, Arizona and California to the Pacific coast.

Miss Chapman has resided since childhood with her aunt, Mrs. Mooney, and sister, Miss Loretta Chapman, a well-known teacher in the Lents schools, on Buckley avenue, near Gilbert station.

Miss Chapman will visit a brother in Chicago en route south, whom she has not seen for 18 years, and also expects to be met there by another brother from New York. She will be gone three months.

Girls of Gilbert School Entertained by Teacher

About fourteen girls from Gilbert school gathered at Myrtle McNeil's home on Foster road last Saturday afternoon. Miss McNeil is thinking of organizing a campfire girl society and that was the main topic of conversation, planning hiking trips, etc. A dainty lunch was served, the table being decorated with a large center bouquet of daffodils, pretty place cards and tiny yellow baskets filled with after-dinner mints were at each place. A jolly good time was had and all are looking forward to some grand times this summer.

Lieut. Gibbons Addressed Mt. Scott Mental Culture Club at the Last Meeting

The Mt. Scott Mental Culture Club met at the home of Mrs. Roy D. Armstrong, 7013 Fifty-second avenue, S. E., Friday, April 4. An interesting talk was given by Lieutenant William H. Gibbons, 10th Engineers, overseas service, who spoke on the work of the forestry engineers in France.

Several piano selections were given by Alexander Jackson.

The program committee for next year was announced as follows: Mesdames J. J. Handsaker, F. M. Dobbs, E. J. Stephens, Saylor Smith, and Sadie Orr Dunbar.

Party Given in Honor of Mrs. Una Smith by Sister

A party in honor of Mrs. Una Smith in the form of a shower was given Wednesday afternoon, April 9, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Robt. Davis, 7356 Ninety-second street S. E. The table decorations were pink. The afternoon was enjoyed by all present. Luncheon was served to the following guests: Mrs. Una Smith and two young daughters; Mrs. C. W. Davis, Mrs. D. A. Davis and young son and daughter, Mrs. Alice Cadona of Seattle, Mrs. E. S. Brown, Mrs. C. L. Thayer, Mrs. Ed Vick, Miss Mary Schultalber, Mrs. Redmond, Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. R. Judd.

Mr. Hansen Passed Away At Home at Bell Station

Neels Peter Hansen died at his home at Bell station Tuesday afternoon, April 8, of tuberculosis. He was born in Denmark March 3, 1879. Funeral services were held today at Kenworthy's chapel and interment was at Mt. Scott Park cemetery. Mr. Hansen is survived by his wife, Anna C. Hansen, and a daughter, Elva Marie.

Ernest McKinley Moves to Eastern Part of State

Ernest L. McKinley left on Sunday for Hermiston, Ore., to take up farm work. Mrs. McKinley left about a week ago in order to make a visit in Pendleton on her way east. Mr. McKinley's place on rural route A from Gresham is being filled by Wm. P. Myers of Pleasant Home.—Gresham Outlook.

Joseph Kellogg School Has Girls' Baseball Team

Hattie Yott sold the Parker residence on One Hundred and Third street to George Howard, of Portland, last week.

The Cook family, living at 9219 Forty-sixth avenue, are under quarantine for smallpox.
