

News Items of Arleta-Kern Park Neighborhood

Mrs. J. J. Hansaker, pastor of the Laurelwood Congregational church, exchanged pulpits last Sunday with Rev. A. B. Hotchkiss, of Jennings Lodge.

Sunday morning the Third United Brethren church will observe Mothers' day with a program, followed by an address by the pastor.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Geo. G. Root, president of the Franklin High Parent-Teachers association, accompanied by Mesdames W. H. Buxton, Ed Palmer, W. H. Akers and J. B. Polwarth, visited Ainsworth school.

Word has been received from Mr. Nathan E. Chambliss that he arrived safely at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. T. Shaw, in Wewoka, Oklahoma. Mr. Chambliss is well known as the assistant postmaster of Arleta.

Mr. Driver of the chapel car service is now substituting at the Arleta Baptist church. During the past week he has been holding special services out at Pleasant Home. Last Sunday in the name of the church he received five new members into the Arleta Baptist fellowship and next Sunday evening they will administer the rite of baptism to two.

Mountain View Lodge of Arleta was well represented at the recent Odd Fellows' centennial at the Auditorium. There was in addition to the speeches by leading lodge men, a ladies' drill composed of representatives from each Rebecca lodge in the city. Mountain View was represented by Mrs. Mae Grable, Mrs. Nettie Gollings and Mrs. Barbara Orendorf.

The Evening Star Grange held its regular monthly meeting last Saturday, the 3d, at grange hall, Powell Valley road near 82d street. The Wilbur M. E. church orchestra, led by Mr. Seth Quirk, gave some enjoyable selections, and little Lewis Randal and Helen Abrams sang together "No-mansland." The chief address of the day was made by Attorney Dufur.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stratton from Orland, Cal., were calling on Mrs. C. P. Blanchard, 6713 Powell Valley road, last Tuesday morning. They have just come to Portland after a fortnight's visit with Mrs. Stratton's son, John Thomas, of Brush Prairie, Wash. They are planning to build a permanent home on the corner of Sixty-fifth street and Thirty-second avenue.

Three adventurous Scouts, David Scott, Harry Wilson and Earl Henry, accompanied by Assistant Scoutmaster Clarke Schouboe, left Kern Park last Saturday afternoon for the top of Larch mountain. For some unknown reason they lost the trail and came out on some other height, and Larch Mountain is still an unexplored region to them. The hikers returned home safely, however.

Sunday, April 20, at the United Brethren church Ira Routledge Jr. spoke on the humane treatment of dumb animals. Though but a mere boy, Mr. Routledge is a very forceful speaker and carried his topic right to the hearts of his audience. He was the president of the first humane organization of the city. After his talk Mrs. Bernal outlined the work she is doing with her Band of Mercy at Woodmere.

The missionary societies of the Laurelwood M. E. church held a mite-box opening last Friday evening, the 2nd, at which Mrs. Joshua Stanfield spoke. The members of the Queen Esther and Mothers' Jewels societies added their activities and the net mite-box results were something over forty-four dollars and a half, two-and-a-half having been collected through the Queen Esthers and over seven dollars through the Jewels. Refreshments concluded the evening.

Following church services next Sunday at the Laurelwood Congregational church a fellowship dinner will be served, followed by a business meeting. There will be no meeting of the young people's society in the evening on account of the Sunday School convention to be held at Kern Park Christian church. Next Sunday Mrs. Handsaker will begin a series of sermons from the Gospel of Luke. These will be explanatory and the members are requested to make a private study of the gospel.

Miss Wil Hutchinson, Arleta librarian, recommends the following books: "In the Heart of a Fool," by William Allen White. This is a story full of dramatic moments and introducing many interesting people. "In Flanders Field," by Col. Dr. John McCrae, John McCrae, physician, soldier and poet, died in France. Besides this poem, which gives this collection of his lovely verse the name, the volume contains as well a striking essay in character by his friend, Sir Andrew MacPhail.

"The Golden Bird," by Maria Thompson Daviess. "An idyl of Harpeth valley, lovely Ann Craddock, a flock of thoroughbred chickens, and a man who came out of the woods."

"Those Who Wait," by Frances Wilson Huard. "A story of the women of France and their glorious service, the children and their enthusiastic devotion to their motherland, the animals who dumbly and patiently serve."

This Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, the 9th, there will be a lecture of great interest at the Laurelwood M. E. church. George Edward Lewis, for years a resident in Alaska regions, will tell of the native human and animal life, illustrating it with Esquimaux costumes and pelts. Mr. Lewis knows the coast of Alaska from Juneau to Banksland, a distance of twenty-seven hundred miles, and is amply qualified to entertain his audience. It is estimated that Mr. Lewis owns furs amounting in value to about thirty thousand dollars. Some of the animals of which he will tell are the blue bear, fox, seal and reindeer. He will have the identical reindeer sleeping bag which he used on his northern trips.

The county institute of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Millard Avenue Presbyterian church next Thursday, the 15th. The subject of the day will be child welfare and there will be speeches by leading W. C. T. U. workers in connection with it.

Special music will be given by the W. C. T. U. ladies' quartette. A box luncheon will be held at noon, and coffee will be served. In the afternoon the nurse who will have charge of the kindergarten in the basement will have cookies for the little ones. So Mrs. Merry, Arleta president, urges all mothers to come and bring their wee ones, as they will be well looked after.

Next Saturday afternoon the young ladies of Mrs. C. P. Blanchard's Sunday school class will entertain the mothers of the church at the Fourth United Brethren church. All mothers of the community are most cordially invited.

Next Sunday at the Fourth United Brethren church Mothers' day will be observed in the morning at 11 o'clock by a special sermon by the pastor, Mrs. C. P. Blanchard, and in the evening by an appropriate program which will include a visiting speaker. The church is to be decorated for the occasion by the young people of the church, the getting of the greenery having been delegated to Messrs. Alfred and George Guthrie and Lester Altit.

Friday evening, May 9, at the Kellogg school, the community entertainment will be directed by Mrs. Geo. Chilson. The chief speaker will be Attorney Chas. E. Cochran, legal adviser for the Union Pacific system. He will discuss "Government or Private Ownership."

There will be a fairy-story playlet by the tiny tots of Miss Worrell's room and a song by little Georgie Barnstead. Short speeches will be made concerning the raising of the teachers' salaries, by Prof. B. A. Thaxter and others.

At a twenty-ninth anniversary celebration of the general C. E. work in the United Brethren at the Fourth United Brethren church last Sunday evening, there was a real cake on which 29 lighted candles were placed in succession as each of 29 persons finished his program part.

Vocal solos by Miss Garretson of Montavilla added to the enjoyment of the occasion. Sunday being visitors' day at this church the pastor is pleased to report 13 at the Sunday school in the morning and 20 in the evening at the anniversary service.

All Christians should unite to make this one of the best memorials in the history of Lents.

MT. SCOTT MENTAL CULTURE CLUB MEET

The Mt. Scott Mental Culture club met at the home of Mrs. Hershner, 5906 Eightieth street S. E., Thursday afternoon, May 1, with about 50 ladies in attendance. The rooms were beautifully decorated in patriotic effect with flags and dogwood blossoms. An exceptionally good program was rendered. Mrs. Blanche T. Thurston, of Franklin High, had charge of the program and read a paper eulogizing the poets of the late war, and mentioned Rupert Brooke, Alan Sigard and Solonel Sir John McCrea as those who will live longest in the memory of the people.

Miss Garrison, public speaking instructor at Franklin High, gave readings of three of these poets' writings—"Rendezvous with Death," "In Flanders Fields" and "America's Answer."

Mrs. S. J. Chapman spoke on the teachers' salary question. A group of Woodmere school children gave a dramatization entitled "The Pig," and another group saluted the flag and sang a song.

Miss Alice Johnson and Miss Yost rendered beautiful solos. A trio of girls from Franklin High also sang and a three-piece orchestra from Franklin High played war melodies.

A silver offering was taken for the Arleta library fund, and a delicious luncheon closed the afternoon meeting.

W. C. T. U.

These beautiful spring days finds everyone busy, but not too busy to come out for a good meeting Tuesday. We have been talking about the million-dollar drive. Already some of the Multnomah County Unions are "over the top. Mt. Scott union is just getting ready, but the money is coming along.

For years we have been singing

"There are bands of ribbon white, around the world, around the world." It makes the song real when we meet Mrs. Jones, wife of our M. E. pastor, who is a member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of far-away India.

Now comes a word of prophecy. Can you believe it?

"It all came true December 31, 1925. (Apologies as usual to K. C. B.) Once upon a time a few women who loved their homes and country (the United States) decided that the liquor business should be prohibited in their country. And they talked and worked and prayed and the liquor business was prohibited. And by that time these few women in the W. C. T. U. were half a million women and they said, "No more liquor anywhere." And they raised a big jubilee fund and worked for world prohibition and now in 1925 liquor is prohibited everywhere. I thank you."

Ralph Spearow, well-known Lents boy, former Lincoln High school all-around athlete, now competing under the colors of Multnomah club, realized one of the ambitions of his athletic career yesterday afternoon on Multnomah field when he set a new Pacific coast and Pacific Northwest pole-vault record of 12 feet 10 1/2 inches. Spearow's remaining ambition is to break the world's record before the 1919 track season is over. His performance was the feature of yesterday's dual meet between the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club and the University of Oregon, which the clubmen won, 72 to 58 points. Spearow not only broke the pole-vault records but won first place in the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 1/2 inch and first in the high jump. He left off in the high jump with the bar resting at 5 feet 10 inches.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks to the friends who expressed their deep sympathy and love in services at the funeral, and the gift of flowers. Mrs. J. P. Dorsey and Family.
