PROGRAM GIVEN AT KELLOGG LAST FRIDAY

Last Friday evening the Kellogg school was entertained under the direction of Mrs. Geo. Chilson. Chas. Cochran, general attorney for the Union Pacific system, spoke on "Government Ownership of the Railroads" and Bruce Polworth gave a talk on the raising of the teachers' salaries. Among the features of lighter vein were the little playlet by Miss Worrell's room and two solos, "Angel Ever Bright and Fair," and "I'm Lonesome," by little Georgie Barnstead. Next Friday evening the entertainment will be under the supervision of Mrs. Lotta Greene Murray. She extends a most cordial invitation to all who wish to enjoy a particularly intellectual evening. Some of the leading attractions will be impersonations by "Little Ermie," a professional entertainer, a vocal solo by Miss Dorothy Waterman Greene, a vocal solo by Richard Mulford, accompanied by himself on the viola; a patriotic lecture by L. C. Stevens on "Patriotism of the Children in the Present War," and a vocal solo by Frederick Glass, Y. M. C. A. man from overseas service.

Miss Margason to Leave On Ellison-White Circuit

Miss Buena Margason, 2917 Fifty-ninth street S. E., has been engaged by the Ellison-White lyceum bureau as one of the Multnomah Girls' Quartet (instrumental) to entertain at the Canadian chautauquas this coming season. Miss Margason's particular role will be that of reader, and those who have heard her in her impersonations can imagine the pleasure she will give her audiences. The party will leave for Moosejaw, Canada, the last of May, traveling by auto. Miss Margason is the daughter of Dr. E. G. Margason, a successful physician at Tremont station.

Julius R. Robinson arrived at the home of his sister, Mrs. Alice Crofts, 7106 Fifty-seventh avenue S. E., May 6 from Camp Lewis, where he had received his honorable discharge from service in the 45th balloon company. Mr. Robinson landed in New York about the middle of April, having been about two months en route from France. Before coming to Camp Lewis Mr. Robinson spent some time at Camp Mills, N. Y.

Mt. Scott Soldier Brings A Bride From England

Mrs. U. S. Mealey, formerly Miss Nellie Wilson, of Liverpool, England, arrived at the home of her husband's parents, 5319 Seventy-second street S. E., Tuesday evening, May 6. She came from England to New York on the same ship with her husband under the strict army regulations. Leaving him in New York she preceded him to Portland by about two weeks, as Mr. Mealey is expected in Portland next Saturday for a three-hours' visit while en route from Camp Merritt to Camp Lewis. Mr. Mealey met his bride while he was stationed at Knotty Ash, a suburb of Liverpool.

ARLETA P.-T. ASSOCIATION HELD ELECTION

The Arleta Parent-Teacher Association held their annual election last Friday evening, May 9, at the Arleta school building. The following are the officers:

President, Mrs. V. H. Reineking.
Vice-President, Mrs. McPherson.
Secretary, Mrs. Edgar Collins.
Treasurer, Mrs. S. L. Barnett.

A program was given, consisting of a program by the school children under the direction of Miss Nell Fawcett, an address by Mr. Nash, of the Washington state normal, and remarks by a Y. M. C. A. worker.

Ladies Celebrated Birthdays With Festive Lunch

Mrs. Jack Jones, 5741 Seventy-second street S. E., had a twin birthday last Thursday with her guest, Miss Grace McKenzie, of Missoula, Mont. And as Mrs. Lily Hartmone also had passed another milestone the same week the three, with Mrs. Ed Williams and Mrs. Donnis, of Sunnyside addition, had a festive luncheon at Mrs. Jones' home on that day. After the delicious lunch was over the ladies spent the afternoon in social diversions, particularly in music, singing some of the pretty popular airs now in vogue.

Party of South Mt. Tabor District Visits at Astoria

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. G. Root and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fullman, of the South Mt. Tabor district, were of the party of 200 who went down to Astoria to the Knights of Plumbers convention which was held in that city the last of last week. They returned by way of Seaside, securing a cottage for the summer season while securing was good, for desirable seaside bungalows are being taken rapidly. On Friday afternoon the ladies of the visiting plumbers' party were taken to Seaside in autos over roadways flanked by rows of Scotch broom and beds of fragrant purple violets. When the motor party returned to Astoria they joined the gentlemen and all were banqueted in most loyal style and were delightfully entertained while they were dining. Mrs. Root was much impressed by the great activity of Astoria. Seaside, too, she said, is booming and building.

MT. SCOTT CHURCHES

Kern Park Christian

This evening, the 16th, the Kern Park Christian church will have a get-acquainted picnic lunch at the church, followed by a general social time. The festivities will be in charge of the pastor, Rev. R. A. Moon.

Laurelwood Congregational

Last Sunday the Laurelwood Congregational church had a fellowship dinner following the morning service. This in turn was succeeded by a business session which had for its chief topic the repairing of the church and the cottage. On May 24 the pastor, Mrs. J. J. Handsaker, will conduct a chest of Josiah service in the interest of the financial part of the repairing. The congregation has adopted this chest of Josiah method as the one best for raising the funds for the planned repairs. Next Sunday at this church Paul H. Newmeyer, state Y. M. C. A. secretary of boys' work, will occupy the pulpit, speaking at length on the community club house which is being tentatively promoted in this district.

Among the local church choisters who are taking advantage of the Y. M. C. A. course of instruction for choir directors is Mrs. Meta Snider, of the Laurelwood Congregational church.

Fourth United Brethren

The Sunday school of the Fourth United Brethren church has an attendance average for the past quarter of 94 2/3. Chas. Guthrie is superintendent. It is hoped that the next quarterly institute will be held at this church in August. Mrs. Blanchard, the pastor, says she will do all possible to make it an interesting session. May 10 the young ladies of Mrs. Blanchard's Sunday school class entertained the mothers of the community. There were about 35 grown-ups and a dozen or so little folks. Mgs. J. W. Hawkins, of the West Side, gave a very well put talk to the mothers. In the evening F. A. Glass, Y. M. C. A. worker, spoke. Next Sunday evening there will be a boys' and men's meeting at which matters interesting to youths will be discussed. Mrs. Blanchard is extremely anxious that the parents be there.

Memorial services will be held at the Fourth United Brethren church Sunday, May 25. An old soldier, a Grand Army man, will be the chief speaker and all the G. A. R. men, members of the Relief Corps, Spanish American war veterans and returned soldier boys are invited to the service.

A word of thanks to the young people, George Guthrie and the Misses Lydia Frye and Grace Guthrie, who were leaders in securing and arranging the beautiful decorations in the Fourth U. B. church last Sunday evening. A most charming combination of white and yellow snowballs, Scotch brooms, and white and yellow paper festoons was used—the front of the church being literally banked with flowers.

Millard Ave. Presbyterian

Last Sunday evening the third in a series of song services was held at the Millard Avenue Presbyterian church. There was a brief sermon by the pastor. Next Sunday evening the song service will be distinguished by the presence of the "kiddies" in the choir box. The grown folks will be in the background as Prof. J. A. Hollingworth wiles the music out of the little throats. It will be a service of song, children and flowers. Come.

J. A. Shebeck Died at Home on Powell Valley

Johann August Shebeck, brother of Mrs. Lindell, of Powell Valley road and Seventy-first street, died last Monday morning at the St. Vincent's hospital. His daughter and her husband arrived from Iowa about a week ago, and will take the remains back with them for interment in the Middle West.

W. C. T. U.

Friday and Saturday, May 16 and 17, are the days set apart in Multnomah county for the formal opening of the great million-dollar drive. If you are not solicited on either of these days just hold your money until some one with the badge of an authorized solicitor does find you. Do not give money to any unauthorized person. These matters were discussed and decided upon by the county executive committee, which met in the city library Monday afternoon.

Last Saturday afternoon in the open meeting of the Lents Grange Mrs. Palmer, of St. Johns, presented the work of the W. C. T. U. in a pleasing manner. Some new members were gained.

Sunday morning at the Lents Baptist church Brother Smith gave a beautiful eulogy on motherhood. Rev. Smith was followed by Mrs. Madge Mears, for 18 years president of the Lynn county W. C. T. U., now state recording secretary. Mrs. Mears' clear statement of what has been accomplished, and what is still before us, met with a good response from the audience.

World prohibition, child welfare, moral education, Americanization—these are the most prominent words on the national program.

Thursday, May 15, beginning at 10:30 a. m. in the Millard Avenue Presbyterian church, was held one of the most interesting county institutes ever known. Speakers of the morning were Mrs. Dimond and Mrs. Inman, on evangelistic lines. In the afternoon Mrs. Mary Mallett, of the juvenile court, and Mrs. Pendergast, of Portland Commons, presented the uplift work which each institution is doing. A good representation was present from Lents.
