Harry Hunter of Hood River visiting his father and sister, Miss Etta, at 5245 67th street S. E. Mr. Hunter is an apple grower in the Hood River district.

Among those of the South Mt. Tabor section who visited the splendid stock show at the first of the week were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Blanchard, 6713 Valley road.

The friends of Howard Crofts, 7106 57th avenue S. E., will learn with regret of his serious illness at his home. Mr. Crofts was unable to go on his regular business trip at the first of the month.

In the Arleta district there is quite a widespread epidemic of smallpox and scarlet fever. Though most of the cases are light, it is well for the children of the community to be safeguarded as far as possible.

Mrs. Z. T. Saulcer, 6903 43rd avenue S. E., was most delightfully surprised November 9 by a flying visit from her father, D. Desnoyer, of Gray Harbor. Mr. Desnoyer was on his way to The Dalles, where he has a fruit ranch.

Little Margaret Ormandy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ormandy, of the Millard avenue Crum & Raebuck building, is seriously ill at her home. She has been undergoing treatment for a form of gathering in her head in the region of one of her ears.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Wiggins, 4250 79th street S. E., a little baby daughter made her appearance on Armistice day, November 11. She has already been named Imogene. On the same day at the home of Mrs. Ora B. Byers, 3532 67th street S. E., there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Claire Bolster a son.

Miss Anna Beckelhymer, Mr. Clyde Beckelhymer and Roy Long, of 5509 1-2 72nd street S. E., have been entertaining Mr. Long's sisters, the Misses Ruby and Freda, of Harrisburg, and Miss Mamie Garr of Montana. At the first of the week Miss Ruby took up her residence at Garden Home, Miss Freda left for Hood River, and Miss Garr moved to lodgings on the east side. The three girls intend to remain in or near Portland during the winter.

A valuable Jersey cow belonging to Charles Grassick, of 4402 76th street S. E., strayed away Tuesday of last week, and was found in the neighborhood east and south of the Lents business district by Mr. Freisinger. Mr. Freisinger communicated with Mr. Grassick through the medium of the press and the cow was restored to her owner.

Mrs. Sarah Cauthorn, of 4816 64th street S. E., is the proud great-aunt of eight-months-old Rosamond Jennie Roberts, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Roberts of Corvallis, who scored 100 per cent in the eugenics test. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, recently of Lowry, Mont., have contracted for a ranch near Corvallis valued at $22,000. Mr. Roberts is an experienced rancher of Montana, but he has come to Oregon to broaden his knowledge of agriculture by taking up the decidedly different Willamette valley farming. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts were recent guests of Mrs. Cauthorn.

J. J. Handsaker, 6935 45th avenue S. E., regional secretary of the Armenian and Syrian relief work, left last Monday evening for Denver, where he will attend a conference of relief workers. On his return trip he will make stops at various points in eastern Oregon arousing interest among the Sunday schools in the relief work of the near east. Mr. Handsaker is accompanied by the Rev. Warren Morse and Dr. F. G. Margotten, the latter having come from California especially to assist Mr. Handsaker in this work. When he left Mr. Handsaker expected to be gone about two weeks.

Last Wednesday evening the Rev. Boudinot Seeley, superintendent of Presbyterian church extension for Oregon, spoke at a called meeting of the officials, workers and members of the Millard Avenue Presbyterian church.

The union Thanksgiving service of the Arleta district will be held in the Laurelwood Congregational church at 10:30 a. m. Thanksgiving Day. The address will be given by Rev. J. F. Ghormley, recently called to the pastorate of the Kern Park Christian church.

Community Club Gave Program

The program of the South Mt. Tabor Community Club Friday evening, November 14, was in charge of Mrs. C. P. Blanchard. Among the numbers on the program were those by Mrs. Helen C. Jeselson, Mesdames Ponnay and Cedars, Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. G. F. Robertson, accompanied by Mr. Robertson on the dulcimer. The three readers, Mesdames Jeselson, Ponnay and Cedars were especially entertaining, among their hits being Mrs. Jeselson's encore, "Moo Cow," Mrs. Ponnay's Irish dialect piece, and Mrs. Cedars' "The Deacon's Courtship."

Next Sunday morning at the Laurelwood Congregational church the Rev. John H. Matthews, secretary of the Northwest Congregational Educational society, will give an address apropos of educational matters under Congregational supervision. After the morning service there will be a fellowship dinner in Lucky cottage, and this will be followed by an afternoon conference led by Dr. Matthews. This evening (Friday) the intermediates of this church are to attend the Intermediate rally at the First Presbyterian church. A week from this evening at Lucky cottage the members of the Congregational church will tell how they have been earning money for the repair fund of the church.

Fall and Winter Driving brings out the Worth of a Gould Battery

To "turn over" a heavy engine on a cold night or morning takes power. If you're lucky enough to have a Gould Battery in your car, you won't have to worry about power this winter, even if you have run up a lot of mileage the past summer. Conditions which take the tucker out of less rugged batteries, have no terrors for the

Made by the builders of Submarine Batteries used by five Allied navies, the Gould Starting Battery has rugged strength and staying-power. The fact that the output of their immense starting-battery plant is sold to individual motorists shows what the public think of Gould Quality. If you do much winter driving, the Gould is the battery for you. We can supply the right size to fit your car.
