Rev. Noah Shupp to Retire From Ministry After Fifty Three Years of Service

Rev. Noah Shupp, pastor of the Lents Evangelical church for the past two years, will celebrate his 53rd anniversary as a minister of the gospel on next Monday, and expects to retire from active work next Thursday at the annual conference session.

Rev. Shupp entered the ministry May 3, 1867, at the age of 23. This brings him well along in the 77th year of his life. But few ministers have a time record equal to his and still be in active work.

Rev. Shupp entered the ministry in Ohio, and served some of the most prominent churches of the Ohio conference of his church—Columbus, Lancaster, Ashland, Tiffin twice, Bellevue and Fremont twice—in all 22 years.

In 1889 he was sent by the board and has served in the Oregon conference of missions to Oregon as missionary.

ference of his church 31 years. He has held all the leading positions of his church in this conference for Oregon and Washington. He was presiding elder 16 years; treasurer of the missionary society 16 years; conference trustee 23 years; examiner of junior preachers in theology 20 years. He was elected three times as general conference delegate and represented his church three times at the general conference. He organized the first Women's Missionary Society, and the first Young People's Alliance of his denomination west of the Rocky Mountains. He was also the prime mover of the summer Bible school at Jennings Lodge, which has attracted much attention in the last few years.

His style of preaching is of a theological type rather than practical. His sermons are usually well thought out and systematically arranged. His whole energy is thrown into the delivery of his sermons. The theme of his ministry is best expressed in the text of his delight, "The end of the commandment is love, out of a pure heart, and a good conscience, and of unfeigned faith."

It is amusing to hear Rev. Shupp tell how some people refused to hear him preach in his younger days, accusing him of curling his hair with a curling iron, and how the women accused him of wearing a corset, because no man could walk as erect as he does without one. But he says, "nothing doing."

He was prominently connected with the temperance crusade, known as the women's crusade of 1872, at Columbus, Ohio, out of which the Prohibition party and the W. C. T. U. organizations came. He stands for the complete destruction of the liquor traffic, because it is one of the greatest enemies of the human race.

DEATH OF LEOLA MAUD HOLMES OCCURRED MONDAY

The funeral of Leola Maud Holmes, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Holmes, who reside at 70th street, between Sterling and McCoy, was held at the Kenworthy chapel Monday afternoon, April 26. Death was caused from complications resulting from an attack of influenza. The little girl was born in Portland and was a pupil of the Woodmere school, and a number of teachers and pupils from the school attended the services. Music at the service was furnished by Sunday school classmates of deceased. Pallbearers were also from the Sunday school. Mrs. C. P. Blanchard, of the Fourth United Brethren church, officiated. Interment was in Mt. Scott Park cemetery.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF CITY DIES AT ARLETA MARCH 24

William K. Lyman, for 30 years a resident of Portland, died at his home at 5921 59th avenue April 24, 1920, aged 55 years. Mr. Lyman was for 12 years a mail carrier, and is survived by Nellie R. Lyman, his widow; Robert P. Lyman, a son, and Mrs. A. J. Sutherland, Mrs. Louise Patton and Mrs. John Hunt, of Portland, sisters, and Byron Lyman and Chauncey Lyman, brothers, of Seattle. Funeral services were held Tuesday forenoon with interment in Multnomah cemetery, the Masonic order officiating at the grave, deceased having been a member of Palestine Lodge, A. F. & A. M., at Arleta.

Mrs. Dorothy Lozow.

Mrs. Dorothy Lozow, wife of Fred Lozow of near Lents Junction, died last Thursday of tuberculosis, and interment was at Mt. Scott Park cemetery last Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. following services by Rev. Christensen, pastor of the Lutheran church at 10th and Grant streets, at the Kenworthy chapel. The Lozows had just arrived in Portland the day previous to Mrs. Lozow's death, from Mexico. Deceased was 25 years of age and is survived by her husband.

ARLETA WOODMEN FINANCE B. B. CLUB

Arleta Lodge No. 805, W. O. W. has initiated a novel lodge idea which ought to stimulate both lodge and social interest in that place, in that it has equipped and will finance a baseball team for the season of 1920, composed of players who have been tried out in fields of experience in Portland and elsewhere. The club will play this season in the class AA city league. The initial game will occur at 2:30 p. m. at Arleta grounds next Sunday between Arleta and the Peninsular Grays of Columbia Park. The line-up of the Arleta club will be as follows:

Pitchers, Reinland and Doran; catcher, Fegan; first base, Ferris; second base, Rothjen; shortstop, Hobson; third base, Libke; left field, Kolkana; center field, Hearne; right field, Jaeger.

Manager R. F. Brooks, of Arleta, who was in Lents Wednesday, believes his boys will be heard from close to the top of the percentage column before the season ends.

LIBERTY LOAN BONDS MAY BE EXCHANGED

Commencing next Monday, May 3, holders of temporary Liberty loan bonds may exchange them for permanent Liberty loan bonds at the Multnomah State Bank, or at any other bank. The government takes this step in order to supply the bondholders with bonds having interest coupons; the coupons having all been clipped from the temporary bonds.

The family of Ed Hanscom of 5603 70th street, are preparing to begin the removal of their household effects to their new home at 74th street and 53rd avenue. The residence which they are vacating is owned by H. E. Crum of Crum and Chambers on Millard avenue.

ARLETA ODD FELLOWS LURE LENTS "LINKERS" TO SOCIAL FUNCTION

The burning of a contract representing a paid indebtedness of $2500, and the presence of a grand lodge officer as speaker, induced Arleta lodge to invite the Lents brethren to fraternize with them last Thursday night. Besides the above attractions a good program had also been prepared. About 75 Odd Fellows and their wives and daughters from Lents responded. The program consisted of music vocal and instrumental, readings etc. as follows: A duet by Misses Lehman and Hunt; a comical tableau by ten little girls; a reading by Mrs. Poorman; a piano selection by Miss Crum, and as the final number, a vocal selection by the Arleta Odd Fellows' quartet. The program met the hearty approval of all present.

Next came the happy ceremony of burning the contract for a lodge lot, which before it was paid, represented an indebtedness of $2700. Following short speeches by members of the order the match was applied and the former evidence of lodge indebtedness was duly and fully incinerated.

Following the above ceremony, came the address of the evening by Dr. Johnson, District Deputy Grand Master of the grand lodge of Oregon, who in an excellent address teeming with fraternalism, traced the progress of Odd Fellowship in America down to its present splendid status, whose membership of thousands in Oregon and hundreds of thousands in the United States today give it high rank among the leading beneficiary orders of the world. At the conclusion of Dr. Johnson's address, luncheon was served by the Arleta Rebekahs, following which came dancing, which was indulged in until a late hour.

The Lents visitors are unanimous in their praise of the fraternal spirit exhibited by their Arleta brethren, and the event will fill a pleasing niche in their memories.

EIGHT DOLLARS FOR SMALL BASKETFUL OF EGGS

The hen need no longer be discouraged. In the past, when the fruits of her labor brought 10 to 15 cents per dozen she had a right to loaf on the job and go to "setting" on small provocation. Now she is empress of the barnyard, and is treated with better food and greater courtesy. Last Saturday two young ladies brought an ordinary market basket full of eggs to a local grocery and received a cash payment of eight big, thirty-cent dollars. Who will dispute the statement that poultry is profitable when properly handled?

FOSTER ROAD WILL BE PAVED NEXT YEAR, RE- DRESSED THIS YEAR

County Roadmaster W. A. Eatchel, who lives in Lents was interviewed Tuesday regarding county road work matters. He stated that Foster road would be re-dressed to 52nd street this year and that next year would be cut to city grades and paved and curbed with sidewalks—a full city improvement from 82nd street to 52nd street, connecting up with other paved highways. Ninety-second street is now being re-dressed from 58th avenue to a point about one and a quarter miles northward.

A centerpillar and other heavy equipment will be used in the re-dressing work, which will smooth and level down any inequalities of the street. Mr. Eatchel was called to Kelly's Butte Tuesday on county business.

COUNTY PEST HOUSE AT KELLY'S BUTTE TO BE DONE LAST OF JUNE.

The County pest house and hospital to be erected at Kelly's Butte will cost approximately $85,000, when completed, it is believed. The city budget contained $60,000 for completion of the structure, but that amount was found inadequate, so the county has underwritten the project for $25,000 more. It will be constructed of building tile made by a firm near Gresham, and surfaced with stucco. The tile company is now shipping the material to Lents by train, thence by auto trucks to the Butte. The hospital and pest house will harbor county as well as city patients when finished. It is believed that the building will be ready for service by the middle or last of June.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST TO BE HELD AT KELLOGG

On Friday evening, May 7, the declamatory contest, under the direction of the Parent-Teacher Association of Kellogg school, will be held. The teams from the three departments—primary, intermediate and 7th and 8th grades, were named at the tryout on April 23. Those winning locally were, primary: Marial Dixon, George Root and Ada Louise Root; intermediate, LeRoy Hall, Dorothy Shaw and Lewis Randall; 7th and 8th grades, D. Woodward, Dorothy Farley and Lorraine Calhoun.

A representative from each of these three departments will take part in a declamatory contest on the same evening in each of the three schools, Rose City Park, Glencoe and Kellogg. Other interesting features at Kellogg will be musical numbers by Professor Lucien E. Becker, of the Becker Conservatory of Music; Mrs. H. T. Blakeslee, of Woodmere; Gladys Johnson and Esther Baird.

H. P. Arnest, Popular Lents Attorney, is Candidate for The State Legislature

H. P. Arnest, well-known and popular Lents attorney, has filed as a candidate for the Republican nomination for representative in the next state legislature, subject to the will of a majority of the legal voters of Multnomah county at the primaries.

Mr. Arnest has built up a growing legal practice in this vicinity, and is a popular citizen of the Lents section of the city, where he resides. His friends, who are responsible for his candidacy, predict that he will poll an exceptionally large vote, and that he should win the nomination in the primaries. Mr. Arnest is a member of the Masonic and Knights of Pythias orders, and is also a member of the M. E. church.

The subject of this sketch was born on a farm near Bourbon, Crawford county, Mo., May 28, 1894. He is a graduate of the high school and elementary department of the state normal at Silver City, N. M., and was principal of the high school at Pinos Altos, N. M., for a period of two years. Later he attended the law departments of George Washington University, Washington, D. C. and Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., graduating from the latter institution as president of his class, with the degree of LL. B. Mr. Arnest is also a member of the honorary legal fraternity of Phi Delta Phi, and is exceedingly well equipped in every way for the position to which he aspires.

Mr. Arnest's slogan is, "Progressive, but deliberate, mature legislation; economical administration; Oregon, leader of the northwest."

Following is his platform: "I stand for progressive legislation, and favor laws which will develop and conserve natural and agricultural resources; assist in construction of roadways (highways and feeders); improve ports and waterways; encourage investment of capital and labor; foster new industries; reduce taxes commensurate with economy; give just consideration for both employer and employ; protect women and children in industry; forward education; maintain the American standard of citizenship.

"I oppose immature and unnecessary legislation, and unjustifiable accumulation and expenditure of public funds.

"We must revive Lincoln's principle of government, 'A government of the people, by the people and for the people.'"

EDWARD MOORE DIES FROM EFFECTS OF FALL

Edward Charles Moore, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan T. Moore, of 321 Marguerite avenue, died last week from the effects of injuries sustained in a 40-foot fall from a tree in Lents while playing with other children. The accident occurred only a few days previous to his death. Interment was at the Greenwood cemetery last Thursday. The Moore family formerly lived in Lents, removing from this neighborhood about a year ago.

PLATFORM TORN DOWN TO FLOOR NEW FIRE STATION

The street platform at the corner of 92nd street and Foster road, erected in war times for public speakers and variously used, was torn down this week and taken to the hall of the volunteer fire department on 58th avenue, the planks to be used as flooring in the new building recently erected for the housing of fire apparatus, on the lot purchased by the Lents V. F. D.

Weedin and Justice Married
Mrs. Lois Weedin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, of Arleta, was united in marriage with Melvin Justice at the former's home on last Thursday.
