

Every Oregon Boy and Every Oregon Girl is a possible College Student

Oregon sends a bigger percentage of its children to college than any other state, without exception.

That is one of the State's proudest records.

No state can have too much education. Education is the safeguard of freedom and of right, and higher education is the capstone of higher education in Oregon is a great danger. The State University and the Agricultural College have twice as many students as they have income to train. Protect these schools and their great work.

by voting on May 21 for the Higher Educational relief measure. Higher Education pays the State in dollars and cents, in improved living, in scientific progress, in farm, orchard, garden, in the better quality of its public and high school teaching.

LENTS BOY PLEADS FOR MILLAGE TAX

Donald McNeil, a Lents boy, who is at O. A. C., sends in the following plea for the millage tax measure:

I am taking this opportunity of asking your support for the millage tax. Realizing the value of the influence of the press, I am asking you to say a few words to the people of your district.

As you know the millage tax measure known on the ballot as House Bill 86 provides for the immediate relief of our three state institutions: the University of Oregon at Eugene, The Agricultural College at Corvallis, and the State Normal at Monmouth.

All these institutions are in the greatest need of relief at this time, and unless the bill carries, a great percentage of those students desiring to go to college next fall must be turned away.

We need more room, more instructors, new equipment, and new buildings. At present, I am attending classes in which are enrolled from 40 to 65 students, more than twice the number an instructor can efficiently handle. These classes are also using small unsuitable rooms.

There are several young people from the Mount Scott district who are now attending some one of these institutions, and a great many more who plan on entering next fall.

Is the state of Oregon going to deny its sons and daughters the right of a free education? We believe it will not if the people know the facts and the need. What we aim to do is to bring the measure to the minds of the public, for we know that they will support it, once it is brought to their attention.

If I can render any information, during the remaining two weeks before election, I should be more than pleased to do so.

Thanking you for the favors asked,
Donald J. McNeil

JOHN MANZ

Richard (Dick) Deich

Richard Deich of this city is a Republican candidate for District Judge, Department No. 2. The testimony of his friends is that he is thoroughly qualified for the duties of the office to which he aspires, and their number, we are told, is legion. Mr. Deich is a veteran of the Spanish American war and is a self-made man, being thrown on his own resources when only a small boy. He has worked to the top and won for himself many friends and loyal supporters. At the present time, Mr. Deich is Deputy District Attorney. He is fearless but honest. His motto is, "Vote on Friday, May 21; vote for me if you can, but if you can't, vote anyway." Besides belonging to other organizations, Mr. Deich is a prominent member of the W. O. W. of this city.

No Longer "Lo the Poor Indian"

A forest ranger the other day noticed a camp fire down in a little hollow near Eagle Creek on the Columbia highway and went down to see the campers. He was politely greeted by a well-dressed Indian in full auto togs, and about him was a good sized family enjoying a good meal. Near by stood a $3,000 Franklin auto, equipped for tourist life. The owner proved to be a Warm Spring Indian, who had his big Central Oregon ranch rented to Lo, The Poor White Man, and was en route to California on a pleasure trip. The Indian, who seemed well educated, said he was out for a good time, and the idea of toil, was farthest from his thoughts. The ranger was courteously invited to set in and dine, and later pursued his vigil, pondering.

Friends Church Notes

Mothers' Day was observed last Sunday, beginning at the Sunday school hour, 9:45, with recitations and music by the children. Then about 14 ladies of the church joined in an interesting pageant, representing the motherhood of the world's history.

At 11 a. m. Miss Terrel, the pastor, continued the subject of Mother's Day, taking for her text: "She hath Done What She Could."

At 8 p. m., we listened to a very good sermon by Prof. Jarvis Curry, who is at the head of the Biblical department of the Friends University, at Wichita, Kansas.

Friends from other churches are invited to join our Bible study class in the annex, Wednesday evening at 7:45.

Laurelwood Cong. Church

Educational Sunday will be observed at the Laurelwood Congregational church next Sunday. Mrs. Alexander Thompson will speak at the morning session on "Legislation Affecting Education in Oregon." The speaker will also discuss various educational bills which will come before the voters this year.

On next Sunday afternoon, the Y. P. C. E. of the Laurelwood Congregational church will visit the Portland industrial centers, and the Jewish Neighborhood House, in order to familiarize themselves with settlement work, which the Y. P. C. E. hopes to make a feature of its church work in the future.

Lents Evangelical Church.

Rev. F. B. Culver is the newly appointed pastor for the Lents Evangelical church, but owing to the condition of moving from his former home, he cannot fill the pulpit next Sunday. In his absence the former pastor, Rev. N. Shupp will preach both morning and evening at the usual hours of service, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. Y. P. A. at 7 p. m.

When in need of office stationery or printing of any kind, call at the Herald office. Phone Tabor 7824.

AND DON'T FORGET THE BRAKE

That is very important, especially if you are a "speed king" and want to be sure and stop your car on the instant—when you must. Let us look over your brakes at regular intervals and make sure they can always be depended upon. Your clutch, steering gear and other much used parts also need careful looking after.
