PAINT—AND PROFIT
One time I bought a dingy shack that wasn't worth a hundred beans; the boards had many a warp and crack through which we viewed the outdoor scenes. The shingles on the joint were loose, the porches sagged, the doors were sprung. It looked so like the very deuce, friend wife declared I had been stung. The inner walls were dark and dank, reminding me of Egypt's tombs, and I am very, very frank to say it gave us both the glooms. No paint had graced that ancient house for probably a thousand years, and sorrowfully my noble spouse wept barrelsful of briny tears. "Alack!" she cried, "You've blown our kale for what you thought a bargain rare. Old man, you should be sent to jail; your beanery of brains is bare." But though she raved and jumped my frame, I chuckled softly to myself, "I'll prove 'twas not a losing game when I thus blew my hard-earned pelf." Straightway I went with brush and paint, and dolled that shack in garments gay. I spread it on without restraint in purple, yellow, pink and gray. I perturbed up each warp and crack, I nailed new shingles on galore, and in a week that bum old shack was worth five hundred plunks or more. And ere the paint on it was dry, a sucker saw my sign "For Sale" one day as he was driving by, and straightway he plunked down the kale." He said it was the swellest joint that he had seen in years, and wife smiled and saw the point, and wiped away her flood of tears. Now when I buy a rummy shack, she never makes the least complaint. She knows a profit's coming back when I begin to spread the paint.
John Eggman and wife and Mrs. Morgan, of Lents, spent Sunday at the home of Tom Morgan, near Heaverton. Mr. Morgan is in the poultry business, and used to live in Lents. He has raised and sold 14,800 little chicks so far this year, and owns eight acres of land and a good home, all of which was made in the chicken business.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Stone, corner of 92nd street and Woodstock avenue, spent Saturday afternoon and a portion of Sunday at Fairview, where an ice cream social was given by the M. F. Sunday school. Mrs. Stone left Sunday night to complete a visit with a sister, Mrs. Palmateer, at Estacada, and will be gone several days.
F. M. Fisher went over to Multnomah station Saturday and planted a garden on the two lots recently purchased by him at that place. As soon as he can get up a small house the family will remove there, the home being within a mile of his church appointment at West Portland.

Sketch from actual photograph showing the distinguished psychologists trying the Realism Test in the Edison Shop, New York.

You too can try this fascinating REALISM TEST

We give it in our store. You can hear it exactly as did the noted psychologists who visited the Edison Shop on Fifth Avenue, New York.

You've been hearing about the astonishing realism of the New Edison.

Now you ask: "Is this realism so true that I feel the same emotions in listening to the New Edison as I feel in listening to the living singer?"

Our answer is—put the New Edison to the test!

Mr. Edison devised his unique Realism Test for this very purpose. Then he invited distinguished psychologists to try it out.

Each of the three men got sensations that were startlingly vivid.

"I could have sworn there was a living singer standing behind me," said Dr. W.

V. Bingham, Director of the Department of Applied Psychology, Carnegie Institute of Technology.

"I felt the presence of a living singer. The accompaniment seemed by a separate instrument," reported Prof. C. H. Farnsworth, Director of the Department of Music, Teachers' College, Columbia University.

"The music filled my mind with thoughts of peace and beauty," said Wilson Follett, Esq., noted music critic.

We'd like to have you come into our store and try this same test. See what sensations you get. The Realism Test is the conclusive way for judging the realism of the New Edison.

Ask about our Budget Plan. It shows you how to buy your New Edison through Thrift.
