SCHOOL CHILDREN WELCOME WELL EARNED VACATION

The large number of school children who have been released from school attendance by the summer vacation period, seem pleased to be out. Many, however, will seek employment. Some will pick berries, others will go to the beach, and still others will find work in various kinds of business in the city. It is the rest period, when the mind leaves the theoretical things and contacts the practical side of life.

A MATCH BREAK

Matches are always an element of danger. One day this week, two men were standing on a street corner, both smoking. One of the men refilled his pipe and struck a match. The head of the match flew into the air and alighted in the coat pocket of the other man, who having his attention called to it by a bystander, promptly turned his pocket wrong side out and saved his coat.

NAMES OF TWO GRADUATES ARE OMITTED BY MISTAKE

An apology is made by the Herald for the unintentional omission of the names of Beatrice Scheuerman and Harold Woodworth from the list of eighth grade graduates from Lents public school last week. We regret the omission, but mistakes will happen—more perhaps in a printing office than anywhere else.

Surely, you'll want to come in and hear the phonograph which mystified James Montgomery Flagg and all New York

We have an instrument exactly like the famous Official Laboratory Model which triumphed in the amazing "dark scene" test.

James Montgomery Flagg was among the 2800 New Yorker's who attended the audacious tone-test made by Thomas A. Edison, March 10th, 1920, in Carnegie Hall, New York City.

Here's his own story. Read it. Then come into our store.

The instrument used in Carnegie Hall,
New York City, was an exact duplicate of the original Official Laboratory

Model, on which Mr. Edison spent three million dollars in research work.

We too, have an exact duplicate of this famous three-million dollar original. We guarantee it to be capable of sustaining the same test made March 10th, at Carnegie Hall. We'll also have it play for you in Mr. Edison's Realism Test,—and let you experience its amazing realism for yourself.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

What Mr. Flagg wrote—

"Miss Case draped her beautiful self against the phonograph. One of her song recordings was put on the instrument, and they, Miss Case and the phonograph, sang together. Then she stopped, and her other self continued Then together again.

"I looked away and then back again,
—and it puzzled me to determine which was at the bat.

The Pianist

"Then the tallest pianist in the civilized world played a charming thing, accompanied by himself via the phonograph,—lifting his fingers away from the keys now and then. I could see him stop playing,—but I couldn't hear him stop.

The Dark Scene

"Then the big stunt of the recital.

"Miss Case began singing with the phonograph. At a certain stanza the house was suddenly darkened. The song went on. I was shooting my ears out like periscopes to detect the second when she would stop. I was sure I got it. Then she seemed to be back again. The flood of light came on again,—no Anna. Only the phonograph singing away.

"It was quite wonderful, and the audience applauded and laughed. Two girls behind me said 'Googracious'."

The Official Laboratory Model had proved itself the Supreme phonograph.
It was an ideal come true. It was perfect realism achieved.

Read what the New York papers say:

"When the lights were lowered, it was impossible to tell when it was Anna Case, and when it was only her voice that was singing."—New York Evening Sun.

"When you see and hear Miss Case sing, you can scarcely believe that an art so essentially individual and personal as hers could ever be reproduced mechanically. Yet the New Edison has succeeded to the point where the voice in the fluffy pink draperies and the voice in the mahogany box seemed one and the same."—New York Evening Mail.

"A portion of the demonstration was even carried on without the lights, so that no one could see whether Miss Case's lips moved or not. It was all genuinely instructive, and the twinship between Miss Case's singing, and the reproduction thereof, proved so close as to be often indistinguishable."—New York Globe.

Our Budget Plan

You can own an Official Laboratory Model that will do everything that was done by this famous instrument at Carnegie Hall. We guarantee it.
Come in and see it. And learn about the Budget Plan. It finds the money for your New Edison by applying system to spending.
