

MISS BEATRICE CARNEY AND GEO. RAY GAGE ARE MARRIED THIS WEEK

A pretty wedding was an event of the past week when Miss Beatrice Carney and Geo. Ray Gage of Hills-bow, Wis., were united in marriage at Lady of our Sorrows church, Father Fallu reading the service in a most impressive manner. The double ring ceremony was used. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Van Goose who also sang "I Love You Truly" and "For You Alone." Little Gladys Carney, niece of the bride was flower girl and the rings were borne in an East Lily by Kenneth Carney.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy Carney and Miss Frances Trott, both dressed in white. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Lloyd Gage, who came from Montana to attend the wedding, and Arthur Howard of St. Helens.

The bride was dressed in white satin draped in crepe de chine. A veil of white silk tulle fell in graceful folds from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas. Following the ceremony a luncheon was served at the home of the bride's brother, George W. Carney, 6423 55th avenue.

The bridal couple met during the war a few months before Mr. Gage sailed for France with the 4th engineers.

The bride is a daughter of the late William G. Carney, a pioneer merchant of this city.

Glen Ward came in from Bull Run this week to have an ulcerated tooth treated.

Strawberries locally grown are appearing on the market. Growers are concerned about the continued rains, as they fear the crop may be injured.

Marvin Hedge won first honors in the one-half ounce miss and out event at the Municipal Fly Casting pool at Sellwood last Tuesday evening. Walter Backus, was second and Jack Herman third. In the one-half ounce accuracy, Herman was first, McFarland second, Hedge third and Backus fourth. Rain interfered with the rest of the program.

It was lucky for Parmalee that the encounter resulted in nothing more serious.

H. E. Reynolds of the Square Deal Candy Company, is just in receipt of a letter from his brother, Lester Reynolds of the marine aviation corps, Great Lakes, Ill. The brother describes how a negro in Waukegan, Wis., threw a stone through the windshield of an officer's auto, striking the latter's wife, and how the marines stormed a hotel occupied by the negro and what followed. He said a negro would be seen to run down the street followed by a marine, while a policeman chased the marine. In the first day's riot, several marines and sailors were hurt, while many negroes were badly beaten. The next day about 250 marines and sailors stormed the negro quarter of the town, and a pitched battle followed. Seven marines were injured, and troops finally drove the marines back to their quarters. Young Reynolds is from Washington county, Oregon and is in the marine aviation corps.
