

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Workmen are busy clearing up the school grounds this week.

The Herald does all kinds of commercial printing. Tabor 7824.

Mrs. Howard Askay and daughter, Patricia, were guests of Mrs. O. E. Lent this week.

Mrs. D. L. Minott of 84th Court left Wednesday morning for Crater Lake to spend the summer.

Manz, the tailor, will move into his new quarters in the Lents Mercantile Co.'s building some time next week.

D. L. Minott of Grays Crossing, recently traded his "bug" for a brand new 1920 Ford touring car.

Mrs. T. N. Faulconer, residing on 82nd street, near Foster road, is reported as being very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Elder moved the first of the week to the Sherman property on Gilbert road.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Evans were visitors at the McGrew home Tuesday. Mrs. Evans is a sister of Mrs. McGrew.

B. F. Miller, the 92nd street plumber, has just purchased a fine new, self-starting Ford, of the 1920 vintage.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young and daughter Mylan of 10212 60th avenue, left Thursday for Seattle for a two weeks visit with relatives.

J. Brandt, who lives at the corner of Gates road and Foster road, has begun the erection of a new residence.

Chris Weis and Billy Woodworth spun some dry flies on the likely pools of Eagle Creek last Sunday with fair luck.

Oregon gets $5,000,000 annually from tourist travel. It is said that $2,000,000 were spent here during the Shrine convention.

Many automobiles laden with camp equipment pass through Lents daily for the mountains on camping or outing trips.

J. Turpip, formerly a business man of Arleta, now a resident of Eugene, was in Arleta last week, renewing old acquaintanceship.

The first of the present week was ushered in with a wave of hot weather suggesting straw hats and lighter clothing.

W. E. Nash of the Kern Park garage returned from a trip to Tillamook last Friday, his first vacation for several years.

The Fourth of July occurs this year on Sunday, hence the celebrations will take place on Monday, which will be observed as a holiday.

N. Gerling, formerly a resident of Lents, where he lived for five years, was a guest of C. E. Kennedy and wife the latter part of last week.

Geo. Stoner, at 74th street and 59th avenue, entertained a number of Shrine and local friends at a dinner party last Thursday evening.

Workmen are engaged this week in tinting the ceiling of the Lents library room, which is a needed improvement.

Mrs. Florence Abley, formerly Miss Helen Gifford, of Tico, Wash., came down Saturday to spend a few days with her sister Louise Gifford of Gray's Crossing.

Mrs. Manz who recently underwent an operation at St. Vincent's hospital, and was seriously ill, is now reported to be getting along nicely, and hopes to be home within a week.

Mrs. Jack Oliver and daughter, Miss Mildred, of La Grande, are the guests of Mrs. Fred Geisler, the relationship being aunt and cousin to the latter. The Oliviers are here for several days.

Mrs. Noble of Hood River concluded a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Byrd, and family at 824 Foster road, last Tuesday and returned home, accompanied by her niece, Miss Dorothy Byrd.

G. A. Morrison and family of 7412 59th street, left for the beach at Seaside last Thursday. Mrs. Morrison will spend the summer at the latter place. Mr. Morrison is proprietor of the lumber mill at Tremont station.

The Rose Festival as usual, brought rain, and soaked the paraders in real old Oregon style but the roses were fresh and looked their best. Lents furnished thousands of roses for the parade.

J. Lemons of 5112 Woodstock avenue has just completed a handsome new residence, which will cost in the neighborhood of $5000, when it receives the finishing touches at the hands of the painters.

During the early morning hours, one may see dozens of produce trucks passing through Lents, for the over town markets. The bottom land along Johnson creek, produces a large share of the vegetables which supply Portland.

Sylvester Gulberston of Hoquiam, Wash., arrived here last Tuesday to visit his wife who is staying with Mrs. Alvira Darnall on 92nd street, where she is convalescing from a severe attack of influenza, contracted at her home in Washington.

E. G. Ogsbury, a brother of Dr. Ogsbury, left Tuesday for Lenore, Idaho, and was accompanied by Ernest Ogsbury. They will help harvest the cherry crop on the farm of Dr. Ogsbury's father, near Lenore, and return sometime in July.

Fred Mitchell came down from Yacolt, Wn., last Tuesday for the Shriner's convention. He also visited with his sister, Mrs. Harry White of 90th street, returning home Friday.

Some of the departments of the Northwest Bridge & Iron Company have opened, and it is expected that the company will soon begin on the ten new ship contracts, it is said to have. Many Lents people are pleased that the work is to be resumed by this big building company, as heretofore many of its best workers have come from the Mt. Scott district.

Portland anglers have gone into active training for the big fly and bait tournament scheduled to take place in Seattle next August. Marvin Hedge, of Lents will be one of the Portland team. Hitherto, Portland has won most of the tournament trophies, but Seattle, Spokane and Tacoma fly-casters are after the scalps of the Portland boys this year. The winners will get a free trip to the national association, which will meet in Chicago some time later in the season.

The United Swedish Singers of the Pacific Coast, who held a convention in Portland from June 24 to June 28, inclusive, had a chorus of 200 trained voices, and C. B. Nordblad, the Sixth Avenue grocer, was one of the chorus, besides serving on important committees during the session. The program included Swedish folk songs and English songs, and Marie Sidenius Zentl, of Chicago, a well-known lyric soprano, rendered several selections, and appeared in two concerts with the chorus.

Lester Nix, who is clerking in a Lents grocery store, returned on the 20th of June from a voyage on the steamer Colendo, which left Portland the 19th of September, 1913. The Colendo carried a cargo of Oregon ties for the United Kingdom, and young Nix visited all the principal European ports while gone. He left the ship at Hamburg, Germany, and came home on the passenger steamer Mongolia. Mr. Nix says Portland looks good to him, after all.

Two small fires between the car track and sidewalk on Woodstock just opposite the Lents station depot, were noticed and put out late Tuesday afternoon. Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the danger of fire at this time of the year. The fires evidently started from cigarette stubs. "Safety First" should be the rule.

Elmer Wiley, a grandson of C. C. Wiley, finished a trip of 800 miles, when he arrived in Lents, traveling by auto from Anaconda, Mont., where he was a foreman in the big smelter at that place for two years past. Mr. Wiley formerly lived in Lents, and will remain some time in this state.

Two nephews of A. D. Gardner, the 92nd street watchmaker and jeweler, left for their home in Baker City, last Tuesday, after a two weeks visit at the Gardner home on Foster road.

One of the young men had a piece of steel removed from his eye while here, which had baffled the efforts of Eastern Oregon doctors.

Cecil Shotwell, a nephew of Wright and Roy Davis of the Eagle garage will leave sometime this week by boat for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will spend the summer vacation with relatives. He is a student of Willamette University, and recently has been visiting the Davis families.

John Eggiman and F. F. Ehrlich and their families motored up-state to visit with relatives and friends at Howell Priarie, last Sunday. They returned from that place, a distance of about 60 miles in two hours and 15 minutes, Monday morning. They report the roads in prime condition.

Mr. Appennott will start construction within the week of a new dwelling just across the Estacada track from Lents Junction on Foster road, to cost at least $2500 when completed. The home will be modern. The material is now on the ground, and available, and the workmen are engaged to begin work.

Arthur Jones, of Wichita, Texas, who is a cousin of Mrs. C. E. Kennedy of Lents, came up to the Shriner's convention, playing with one of the Texas bands during the Shrine week. He is so well pleased with Portland that he thinks of making his future home in Oregon.

The potato profiteers are croaking about the impending inroads of the potato moth, and a dozen other things that may happen to the present crop. Judging by the gardens of Lents, all of which have promising looking crops, the profiteers are an awful bunch of liars. Oregon will have a larger crop of potatoes this year than ever before, war times not excepted, and we will wager that there will be no shortage in the country this fall.

Col. Hollingworth came down from his ranch, "The Yews," near Molalla, for the Shriner's convention. While on the way out from the "doings" a bus came directly in his way and in order to dodge it ran into a telephone pole, smashing up his machine more or less, causing him to make a more lengthy stay in the city than he had planned.

It is understood that agents for the several city canneries, and even those located elsewhere are abroad seeking to make contracts for all kinds of Oregon fruit at top-notch prices. Large crops of cherries, strawberries and blackberries and other fruit in Happy Valley and about Gresham have been contracted at this time.

I. F. Coffman, who made a trip to Yacolt, Wash., last Tuesday, reports that the fruit over in that section of Washington bears evidence of the severe frost last winter, and that fruit of all kinds is at least two weeks later in growth as compared with its condition at this time last year.

Mrs. Chas. Warde of 92nd street went to Bull Run to make arrangements for opening the concession at that place. She will go up Saturday and remain there during the summer.

Valley grown produce is now coming into the market, which is far superior to the California stuff we have been getting.

Mrs. Esther Fleming, who for some time past has had charge of the Lents library, left Wednesday for North Yakima, where her parents and other relatives reside. The many patrons of the Lents library wish her a pleasant vacation. While she is gone, it is a good time to say that she has made a very popular librarian.

FRIENDS CHURCH NOTES

New County Road Asked For Near Gresham

Petitions are out for a new road to be established in Multnomah county from Albert Welch's corner to Schuber's corner in district No. 51. The road proposed will connect Gresham with the Oregon City road, and will be a convenience to the entire district through which it will run.

PETERSONS BUY DRUG STOCK AT YACOLT, WN.

Peterson and Son's of the Lents Pharmacy, have purchased a drug stock and fixtures from the Yacolt Pharmacy at Yacolt, Wash., and expect the goods to be brought over to Lents the latter part of this week. Herbert Peterson made a trip to Yacolt last Tuesday.

Mr. Bruce to Build New Cobblestone Residence

Mr. Charles Bruce will soon begin the erection of a fine cobblestone residence on his acre and a half tract on Foster and Deardorf roads. It will be constructed almost entirely of cobblestones, and the plans call for an attractive dwelling. Some time ago Mr. Bruce built a cobblestone house near Lents on an acre tract which he later sold for $11,000. Lents seems to be taking a spurt in the matter of building nobby suburban residences.

The Official Laboratory Model

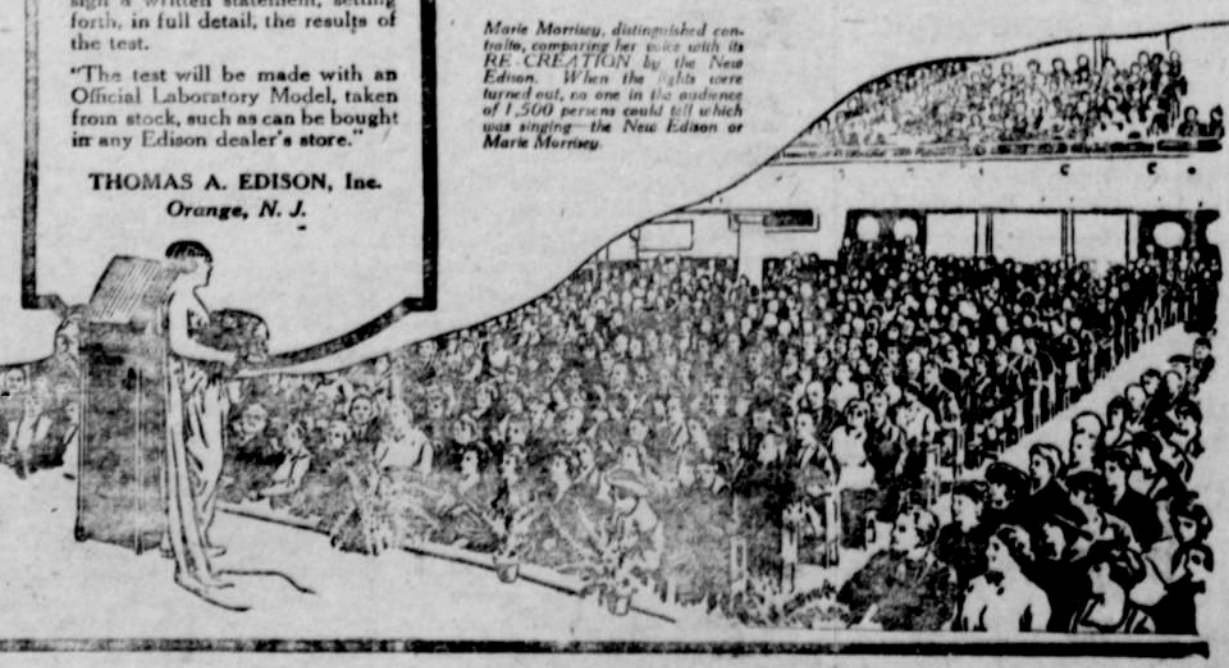

An Invitation to Talking-Machine Manufacturers:

"We are informed that the representatives of one or more talking-machine manufacturers have stated, on several occasions, that they are able to distinguish between a singer's voice, or instrumental performance, and the New Edison's RE-CREATION of such voice or performance.

We hereby invite responsible representatives of any reputable talking-machine manufacturer to present themselves to be blindfolded, and to listen to such a comparison, in the presence of a panel of their own choosing, independent of the judges when they think they are listening to the artist and when to the New Edison. There is only one condition attached, and that is—that the representatives of the talking-machine company, and the judges selected by them, shall sign a written statement, setting forth, in full detail, the results of the test.

"The test will be made with an Official Laboratory Model, taken from stock, such as can be bought in any Edison dealer's store."
