Mr. Edison's Famous Realism Test

—let us give it to you

Here's a new and wonderfully fascinating way to judge the realism of the famous Official Laboratory Model, with which the Edison Laboratories have challenged the talking-machine manufacturers.

A better way of listening! A way that makes you forget your surroundings! A way that banishes all distractions, mental and physical!

It enables you to close your mind to everything but the music—and your own recollections of what music, at its best, has meant to you.

The Realism Test is a scientific method for gauging the power of the New Edison to give you the actual voices of great artists, and the actual performances of great instrumentalists, bands, and orchestras.

Come in and try it for yourself—at any time. Find out about our Budget Plan. It stretches your dollars. Brings you the New Edison at once.
