A FLAWLESS RE-PRODUCTION

A song recital of a very high order was given under the direction of the Mt. Scott Drug Co., at the Yeager Theatre last Monday evening, Sept. 13. The artists were Miss Alice Verlet, Coloratura soprano; Robert Velten, violinist; and Victor Young, pianist. The program included the following numbers: (a) "Romeo and Juliet," and (b) "Chanson d'Amour," Miss Verlet; "Ave Maria," Mr. Velten; (a) "Little Shepherd" and (b) "Crehendo," Mr. Young; (a) "Parla Valse" and (b) "Carmena," Miss Verlet; "Meditation," Mr. Velten; Improvisation on old songs, Mr. Young; (a) "Comin' Through the Rye" and (b) "Bonnie Sweet Bessie," Miss Verlet; Violin Solo, Mr. Velten; and a series of four songs, "By the Waters of Minnetonka," "Smilin' Through," "Flowers and You," and "I Met You," by Miss Verlet with Mr. Young at the piano.

All these numbers were given in contrast with the work of each artist as reproduced by the Edison phonograph. Mr. Young would play for a while and then stop, the phonograph carrying on the piece in seemingly flawless reproduction.

The work of the violin was also highly complimented both as to the ability of the violinist himself and as to the reproduction on the Edison. Miss Verlet is without doubt a singer of ability and culture. It is a thing of wonder that a combination of metal and wood should so accurately give back again to the ear the sounds of the human voice or of inanimate materials. And the wonder is none the less that one make of phonograph may have as many degrees of tone-production quality as it has numbers of instruments. Just as one violin may be worth thousands of dollars and another may be worth hundreds because of the difference in vibratory qualities of the wood, so the individual phonographs differ from each other.

Ask to have the Edison played for you at the Mt. Scott Drug company so that you may pick out the one you like best.

GRANGE NEWS OF CONSIDERABLE IMPORTANCE

The Lents Grange held its regular meeting at Grange Hall last Saturday, the 11th. The program consisted of an address on the Constitution by Milton A. Miller, U. S. Collector of Customs, and talks by Mrs. Maud Darnall and Miss Julia Spooner on the Teachers' Tenure of Office.

T. J. Kreuder announces that there will be eight granges placing exhibits in the coming Multnomah county and Land Products Show at Gresham. They will be arranged in the following order on the south side of the main pavilion: (1) Pleasant Valley, (2) Columbia, (3) Russellville, (4) Evening Star, (5) Lents, (6) Gresham, (7) Rockwood, (8) Multnomah. Lents grange will show household and truck garden products. The household exhibit will include butter, eggs and honey; canned goods of every sort, fruits, meats, vegetables and fish; jellies and preserves; and all sorts of hand craft. The truck-garden products will include potatoes, cabbage, squash, pumpkins, and all other sorts of vegetables in marketable form; and there will be a showing of grains, grasses, ripe seeds and shelled grain. Each grange must make at least 65 points to get a rating for a premium; and each grange which makes points above 75 will receive one dollar for each extra point. Lents grange will have all its non-marketable products arranged in the booth on Saturday before the opening day. All perishable things will be placed as late as possible.

About 12:45 Thursday, Kenneth Westover was run over in front of the Lents school house, by an automobile driven by A. D. Morgan of 148 E. 23rd street, resulting in a fracture of the left leg above the knee. Eye witnesses to the affair, including Prof. Thaxter, report that Mr. Morgan was driving slowly at the time, and Kenneth, who was playing with other boys ran immediately in front of the car, striking the fender and falling under the front wheel before the car could be stopped. Dr. McSloy arrived promptly and gave first aid to the little fellow who, although no doubt suffered great pain, bore up bravely under first aid treatment of the doctor. The boy's mother is Mrs. Grace Westover Graves at 6001 84th street.

CONSTITUTION DAY GRAND PATRIOTIC RALLY

Republican club, at Lents school house, Friday evening Sept. 17, at 8 p. m., Hon. Chas. E. Cochran will speak on the United States constitution and the League of Nations, and Hon. C. N. McArthur will speak on candidates and other issues of the campaign. There will be community singing of patriotic songs and all Americans are urgently requested to attend.

Mrs. E. Parsons of 7820 55th avenue is entertaining Mr. and Mrs. John Hankins and their two children Alfred and Sylvia, of the Columbia River valley. Mr. Hankins, who is a nephew of Mrs. Parsons's is a rancher, living near Ranier, Wash., and Mrs. Hankins arrived at the Parsons home Wednesday evening of last week. Mrs. Parsons hospitality was also extended Wednesday evening the 8th, again last Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart and their children, Lois and Mildred. Mr. Stewart another nephew of Mrs. Parsons, was a service man in the late war; he is now making his home in Portland.

I. J. Handsaker of 5630 44th Ave., regional secretary of the Armenian relief work has returned to his work after a vacation of two months enforced by ill health.

S. A. Douglas, formerly residing on the Gilbert road, has sold his interest in the LaFolett fruit ranch; consideration $15,000, and will retire to his home on Buckley avenue.

YOUNG WOMAN MAY HAVE BEEN DRUGGED

Taken, suddenly ill on a Mt. Scott street car last Friday evening, Miss Margaret Albert, a telephone operator residing at 6825 46th avenue Southeast, rode to the end of the line where she was unable to give her name or address. Dr. Nelson of Lents, who was on the car at the time took the young woman to St. Vincent's hospital where she was found to be suffering from heart trouble. She is said to be subject frequently to such attacks.

Immediately following her collapse the police bureau was notified and the woman's protective division went to work on the suspicion that the patient had been the victim of administration by a "needle" in the hands of some nearby person.

Mrs. Chas. Mollett and her daughter, Thelma of 4629 63rd street, are spending their vacation time in a Seaside cottage. Mr. Mollett with Carl and Margaret, two other children, accompanied Mr. Mollett down to the beach on Labor Day, returning to Portland on the Tuesday following. This is the first glimpse that the Molletts had had of the ocean and it had all the glamour of its wonderfulness on them. In a letter to her husband Mrs. Mollett reports a storm which threw up the waves in such a way as really to frighten her.

C. R. Mollett of 6910 Foster road is now installed as proprietor of the dye works formerly operated at Arieta under the name of Bullock's Cleaning and Dyeing Works. Mr. Mollett has changed the name of the place and the public will now know it as the Blue Bird Cleaning and Dye Works. Mr. Mollett is refurbishing his work room by means of paint and carpentering and hopes soon to have a clean and attractive establishment. He is able even now to take and fill orders.

J. Sanger Fox, one time publisher of the Mt. Scott Herald, was an entertaining caller last Tuesday. Mr. Fox is now located at Quileena, Wash., as pastor of the Friend's church and related interesting and heart-rending adventures as sky pilot of the Herald that would bring one less callous to the world than the writer to tears we presume. Evidently Mr. Fox had the same trials and tribulations as the average publisher; the lack of appreciation and support of the community for untiring efforts in their behalf. We congratulate the reverend gentleman that he has "gone to a better world," and may success attend his labors in behalf of a better cause. Viola Spencer of 6029 92nd street, returned with Mr. Fox, having been in Quileena for some time past in quest of better health, but is much improved and will attend school here the coming season.

The Herald's earnest suggestion that a Community Club with the necessary pep, be organized in this district has brought forth many favorable comments. Now, let's act. Somebody start the ball rolling. Get busy! Play ball! We are reliably informed that there is plenty of very competent gentlemen residing in the Lents district able to accomplish much along these lines, if they will only put their shoulders to the wheel and GET BUSY. Bills and space in the Herald will cheerfully be furnished gratuitously for the purpose of aiding in forming this organization. O! for a Moses to lead us out of the wilderness, in this hour of dire necessity.

J. J. Snodgrass, tailor at Tremont has moved from 5927 38th avenue to 5927 72nd street.

WOMAN THREATENS TO THRASH ATTORNEY

Tuesday was ladies' day in the police court.

A round dozen of the fair sex were there. They let every body, including Hizzoner know that they were present.

A mere legal opinion by the court to the effect that they could not testify did not daunt them. They testified anyway; the whole dozen at one time.

The cause for the appearance of the feminine populace of Lents was the case of the city against Mrs. Minnie Van Wart. According to complaint, she used language that was neither nice nor ladylike to her next door neighbor, Mrs. W. L. Smith, 6338 96th street.

The hearing started off smooth enough. But it ended in a near riot. The twelve witnesses wanted to testify. As they hadn't heard the language which Mrs. Van Wart is alleged to have used the court decided that he didn't want to hear them.

But this was where the court erred. The mere wishes of a jurist were no bar to the loquacity of twelve women, and all delivered impromptu orations in varying pitches of voice.

L. W. O'Rourke, attorney for Mrs. Van Wart referred, casually, to one of the speakers as a stout lady. More trouble started. The adipose one turned on the attorney.

"That man insulted me," she declared. "And I'm going to thrash him. I can do it too," she added. O'Rourke declined the invitation to so battle.

The case did not end in the police court, despite the fact that the judge fined Mrs. Van Wart. One side thought that the woman should have been in jail. The defendant was of the opinion that she should have been freed.

As neither side was satisfied, the case will go to higher courts. All the legal talent of the great state of Oregon will be called on, in a couple of months, to decide whether or not Mrs. Van Wart was justified in calling the next door neighbor the un lady like names which she employed.—Daily News.

Mrs. Joe Smith of 5630 68th street, returned Friday the 3rd from an extended trip including La Crosse, Wis., Randall, Kan., Toulon, and Peoria, Ill., Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., and Seattle Wn. In Randall, Kan., Mrs. Smith, with a sister, Mrs. Craig Sauver of Bangor, Wis., visited another sister, Mrs. A. J. King, whom Mrs. Smith had not seen for 35 years and whom Mrs. Sauver had not seen since '62. At various points, Mrs. Smith visited nephews and nieces. Her party in addition to herself, included Mr. and Mrs. Byron Valentine and little daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Valentine.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Krebs of 410 E. 55th street, are making an extended trip through the East. Word has been received by the mother of Mrs. Krebs, Mrs. Mamie B. Hogue of 6438 88th street, that the travelers have visited friends in Chicago, Detroit, Niagra Falls, Buffalo, New York and Philadelphia; and that they are now with friends in Washington, D. C. Their return trip will include short stops in Denver and Salt Lake City.

At the Lincoln High School Saturday the 11th, all the teachers of the city, reports Mrs. Mamie B. Hogue of Woodmere school, were present for a pre-school meeting, at which addresses were given by Supt. D. A. Grout; Assistant Supt's. Whitney and Rice; Mrs. Richardson, president of the Grade Teachers Association; Mrs. Larabte, president of the High School Teachers' Association; and A. C. Newell, director.

The faculty of the Kellogg school is composed of the following: principal, E. T. Salting; teachers, Miss Eula Strange, Miss Eva Horan, Mrs. Marguerite Othus, Miss Hannah McLeod, Miss Helen Greenman, Miss Mabel Colvin, Miss Margaret Hart, Miss Dorothy Prosser, Miss Edna May Messinger, Mrs. Frances Smith, Miss Emily Woods, Miss Maud Michel, Miss Rita Snook, Miss Clara Smith, and Miss Minnie Worrell.

125 members of I. O. O. F. Lodge No. 3, of Oregon City, visited the Mt. Scott I. O. O. F. at Lents last Tuesday evening and had an old-time smoker, lunch and a jolly good time, returning home in high praise of the hospitality of Mt. Scott brethren. The Mt. Scott lodge has a membership of 147 live wires belonging to this worthy order.

Mrs. Lois Burkhardt of 5636 88th street, who has been suffering from pneumonia, experienced a relapse and continues bedfast.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION MEETS AT WHITE TEMPLE

The State Convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the White Temple, Sept. 29 and Oct. 1, and Mrs. Mattie Sleeth, state president, will be the presiding officer.

On the 29th at 12 o'clock noon there will be a luncheon in the dining room of the First Methodist church in honor of Mrs. Mary Harris Arment of Georgia, a woman of rare charm and personality, who will give the convention address on the evening of that day. On the evening of Sept. 30 there will be a declamatory contest, the winner to be awarded a prize. Following this contest there will be the reading of the prize-winning essays written in a state contest of high and grammar schools. The winner of the grade school prize is Robert Muzzy of Woodstock school and that of the high school is Ralph Green of the Benson Polytechnic. Another feature of the program will be the recitation of a story written by a Lincoln High ex-service man, Donald Woodard, the reading being given by Miss Hazel Maran Clark of the Gillespie School of Oratory.

On Oct. 1, the Washington W. C. T. U. convention will be the guest of the Oregon State Convention. On the evening of Oct. 1, all white ribboners visiting in Portland, and all those living here not now members but having at some time previous worn the white ribbon, are asked to find seats in the section reserved for such, that they may receive the greetings of the convention.

The faculty of the Woodmere school is as follows: Mrs. Alevis Alexander, principal; Miss Julia Spooner, 8b; Mrs. Emily Forrester, 8a; Mrs. Mayne Hogue, 7a and 6b; Miss Myrtle Woodburn, 7a and 6b; Miss Grace Goodall, 6a; Miss Georgia Erving, 6a and 5b; Miss Nina Johnson, 5a and 5b; Miss Pauline Aussicker, 4b and 5a; Miss Gudrum Brandt, 4b; Miss Margaret Canning, 3a; Miss Celia Ludeen, 3b; Miss Sadie McInnis, 3a; Miss Weina Grandberg, 2a and 2b; Miss Helen Thompson, 2b and 2a; Miss Edna Galbreath, 2a; Mrs. Grace Hill, 1b; Miss Queenie Swanson, 1a and 1b; Miss Florence Brown, 1a; Miss Minnie Henry, 1a.

At the Laurelwood Congregational church next Sunday morning the pastor will preach a sermon especially for young people. The Christian Endeavor work, which has been discontinued during the summer months, will be resumed next Sunday evening at the 6 o'clock hour. One of the most important features will be the convention report by Miss Lois Handsaker.

Peter Larsen, formerly with the Prudential Ins. Co., is now a member of the Kern Park Realty Co., 6707 Foster road. Mr. Larsen's wide and favorable acquaintanceship throughout the city will be of material benefit to the realty company with which he is now connected. Cetoqa-q ixkws.Yos fo 5M qbH

J. E. McNamara and wife have recently taken over the small little grocery, confectionery and soft drink establishment on 7135 51st avenue. Mr. McNamara has been a well known and competent printer of Portland for many years, but takes hold of the new business like an experienced merchant.

The business meeting of the Y. P. A. held Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bohna on 94th street. After a very interesting business session they were highly entertained by Oliver Bohna, after which refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served. All present had a delightful time. A social evening is being planned for Oct. 1. All young people are urged to join in these gatherings.

By perusing the files of the Mt. Scott Herald of September, 1918 it is observed that the lax conditions obtained in this locality as now high taxes and improvements and promising candidates. Those that failed to make good, should be remembered and relegated to the rear next November, regardless of party affiliations.

L. A. Parker of the Economy Furniture Store has gone to his farm near Monroe, Benton county, for a couple of weeks, accompanied by his daughter Mildred. F. M. Barker, son of the first named gentleman will have charge of the store during his father's absence.

On Friday the 11th Mrs. Charles Wards of 5704 92nd street, entertained at luncheon at 1 o'clock the other four members of the Royal Five. Plates were laid for Mesdames Rayburn, Walrod, Wright, Leman and Wards.

The Rev. E. A. Smith of the Lents Baptist church left Tuesday the 7th for Corvallis to attend the State Convention of Baptists held last Saturday.

OFFICERS MUST PAY FOR GAS

County Commissioners Hoyt and Holman will have to pay to the Standard and Associated Oil companies the value of such proportions of coupon books for gasoline, issued to them as compensation for the use of their private cars in county business. The court has ordered.

The suit was brought by John W. Kaste against County Clerk Beveridge, County Treasurer Lewis, the county commissioners and the oil companies issuing the coupon books. The matter went before Circuit Judge Percy R. Kelly of Linn county and its final phase transpired just before the summer court holidays. Judge Kelly has just filed with the circuit court here his findings.

He holds that the facts are, as per stipulation, that reasonable value for the use of the county commissioners' had been fully compensated up to the time of the filing of the suit; that coupon books for gasoline were issued to the value of $110.50 each of the three county commissioners; that Commissioner Muck used his coupons for gasoline used in county owned car and for the transaction of county business.

His conclusions are that the agreement that the county commissioners should have issued to them such coupon books as compensation for the use of their private cars is void, because it is against public policy; that Beveridge and Lewis shall be perpetually restrained from issuing or paying the warrants for such coupon books; that Commissioners Hoyt and Holman should make payment to the oil companies for the coupon books they received which were not used in the performance of county business; that the county should pay the costs of the suit, as it was instituted for the benefit of the county.

GILBERT DISTRICT

The fine $20,000 residence of Max Smith, retired florist, on Spring road, adjoining Johnson creek, is nearing completion.

Jesse Farnsworth and bride have re-opened the store at Gilbert Station and their many friends will wish them well in their new business venture.

Mr. Appernotta and family have moved into their new residence on Foster road and McMay avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Hants Harvey have moved into their new house in the Gilbert district.

The Bell Rose Community Club will give another delightful party at their club rooms the 25th inst.

P. S. Sanches has sold the Perfection Confectionery and Lunch Room at 9143 Foster road, to Mrs. Fred Miller, formerly proprietor of this popular place. Mrs. Miller is a former owner of the "Perfection" and invites all old customers, as well as new to call.

An important election of great consequence to the Gilbert district is to be held at the school house, Saturday, Sept. 18, from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. and every voter interested in the welfare of this section should be present and register their preference. The proposition is to vote on a new water district to cover about 1000 acres at an approximate cost of $40,000. The commissioners named on the ballot are Andrew Heiman, Wm. Gilbert and Mr. Pile.

The game of "caterpillar" included nearly every one present, and was enjoyed by those who looked on as well. From the sound of laughter the entire game and the pace at which they moved wasn't slow. The room was beautifully decorated with the Y. P. A. colors, orange and black crepe paper also ferns and yellow flowers added to the beauty.

The Woodmere Parent-Teacher association held its first regular monthly meeting in the assembly hall, Thursday of last week. Mrs. Fred Peters presided. She stated that the aim of the work this year, in the words of the general P.-T. A. president, is to assist in giving "Every child a chance in every way," and that co-operation will be the keynote of all endeavor.

On Tuesday of this week the registration at the Lents school amounted to 775 and that at Kellogg had reached 525. Prof. Slatting of Kellogg announces that the organization of his school was largely effected Tuesday of last week and that now the work of the school is going smoothly.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick of Ogden, Utah and their four children, spent the night of the 10th, with J. M. Leitch and family on 89th street. Mr. Fredrick and Mrs. Leitch were childhood school mates in Odessa, Nebraska, and hadn't met for 20 years. The Fredricks have been visiting in Canada and other points on their route.

The city federation of Parent-teachers associations had an official luncheon at the Hotel Portland last Saturday at 12:00 o'clock, at which there were about 250 women. Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, president of the T. A., reports a good representation from the various P.-T. A. organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McIntyre and uncle, Charles Palmer of Pittsburg, Pa., are visiting their son Charles McIntyre. They also stopped at Salt Lake City at their son George's home for a two week's visit. They think the west a fine country only they don't care about the rain.

Mrs. Inez L. S. Gulliks will soon be ready to open for fall work, Millinery of all kinds. Our opening advertisement in next weeks Herald.

MOTOR PARTY VISITS WARM SPRINGS RESORT

A motor party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Malloy, Sr. and Miss Mebel Malloy of 7593 Woodstock avenue recently returned from a most interesting trip into Central Oregon, where Mr. Malloy has 160 acres near Ashwood. The sight seers went up the Columbia Highway as far as The Dalles, where they turned off on the Wasco Road. While Ashwood was their chief destination they made several side trips, including an excursion to the Warm Springs Reservation, where are literally hot springs, oily and sulphurous in quality. These springs are leased from an Indian woman by the name of Pepper, who intends building a hotel for next year's season to replace the tent bath-house now in use. Mr. Malloy describes the Deschutes river as having walls overgrown with sage brush even down to the water's edge; and he says that the scenery along the John Day river is positively grand. By the aid of irrigation, Mr. Malloy says, all the country drained by these rivers named may be made to yield splendid crops of wheat. In his opinion, the half of the beauties and possibilities of Central Oregon is not known by the people of Portland. On their way home the Malloy party was joined by Mrs. J. E. Edwards, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malloy, and her little daughter, Helen Ray. The trip was made with only one serious accident, was backing a car down one of the long declines on a narrow road. By some unforeseen mishance he struck the bank on one side of the road and the machine careened over the bank pinning Mr. Malloy beneath it. He managed to work his way out, having sustained some chest bruises, which were fortunately pronounced by a physician as probably of only temporary seriousness.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Kellogg school will receive the teachers of that school next Tuesday afternoon following the regular business meeting which will be held at 2:30 o'clock. The object of the reception is to greet the new teachers and to facilitate acquaintance between the parents and the teachers. The room which is represented by the greatest number of parents is to be awarded a box of candy. The meeting and the reception will take place in the assembly hall. Mrs. James Welch, the president of the Kellogg P.-T. A., will announce through this paper the names of the members of the various committees as soon as they are appointed.

Prof. Hershner of 5906 80th street, is again principal of the Creston school. He reports that the attendance is larger there than it was last year.

Word has been received from A. Earl Kenworthy, of the Kenworthy Undertaking Co. of Lents, who left for the oil fields of Texas. Mr. Kenworthy was at Denver when he wrote.

L. S. Erly left a want ad, at this office last Monday forenoon, desiring to sell a horse. He found a buyer within three hours. Pretty quick results. Those classified ads in the Herald work while you sleep.

Mrs. F. A. Dodge of Forest Grove visited her mother and sister, Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Gulliks, Mrs. Loren W. Young and two babies o Mt. Sole Wn., were also guests of Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Gulliks this week.

Mr. V. O. Sampson, wife and daughter, Lola of Woodland, Wash., visited Mr. Sampson's mother, Mrs. Kate M. Wagner and sister, Mrs. Inez Gulliks the first of the week.

Emmett Hancock, alias Neil Hart self-confessed slaver of Til Taylor, sheriff of Umatilla county, has been sentenced by court to hang at Salem.
