COMMUNITY MEETING PROMISES RESULTS

The meeting at I. O. O. F. hall Wednesday evening in response to a numerously signed petition by nearly all the business men of Lents, the object to obtain facts and figures from city officials regarding much needed improvements in this district, was largely attended by local residents, Commissioners Barbur and Mann, Deputy County Attorney Thomason, Mr. Johnson, secretary to Mr. Barbur, and Mr. Goode, secretary to Mr. Mann, and Chief Engineer Langward.

M. K. Hedges presided as chairman of the meeting and the various possibilities for improvements desired were discussed pro and con.

On motion of Rev. Smith, vigorously supported by F. R. Peterson and others, Mr. Hedges was named as chairman of a general committee of five to procure signatures to a petition praying for an improvement district for the purpose of securing paving and sidewalks. Commissioner Barbur explained that to accomplish this desire at least 50 per cent of the owners of property in the proposed district would be required and assuring that the cost of completion of a 12-foot strip of pavement, cement curbs and sidewalks would not exceed $3 per front foot.

Chairman Hedges has appointed W. S. Sanders, S. Markson, F. R. Peterson and J. H. Donaldson to assist him on the committee. Other lieutenants and captains will be appointed later, including E. A. Smith and F. R. Sibley, who have signified that they will serve.

The Herald hopes to give details of the program of the committee in our next issue, being necessarily abbreviated by reason of the short time to prepare before going to press.

Where the White Race Stands as the Result of the Great World War.

By LOTHROP STODDARD, in "The Rising Tide of Color."

Turning to a racial instead of a political map, one sees that instead of being nine-tenths white, the world is, as a matter of racial fact, only four-tenths white. The rest is occupied by colored races.

Today, against the actual barriers of the white world, the barriers composed of white flesh and blood, the rising tide of color is beating, and will beat yet more fiercely as congesting population and quickened self-consciousness and a heightened sense of power impel the colored world to expansion and dominion.

This colored peril has three facets: The peril of arms, the peril of markets and the peril of migration.

As to the peril of arms we must realize that the brown and yellow races possess great military potentialities, likely to be organized at any time for revolt for reasons like overpopulation.

The second, or economic phase, though not a serious factor yet, must be reckoned with as something which will increasingly complicate the relations of the white and nonwhite worlds, and even today tends to intensify Asiatic desires for expansion.

The third facet, the question of Asiatic immigration, is incomparably the greatest external problem which today faces the white world. It infinitely transcends the peril of arms or markets, since it threatens not merely our supremacy or prosperity, but our very race existence.

The grim truth of the matter is this: The whole white race is exposed, immediately or ultimately, to the possibility of social sterilization and final replacement or absorption by the teeming colored races.

G. A. R. BEAN SUPPER A GRAND SUCCESS

The bean supper given by the G. A. R. at Odd Fellows hall last Saturday night, while not furnishing the many new-fangled dishes advertised, the best of wholesome and substantial food, prepared and served by the Ladies' Relief Corps. The beans were par excellence—simply grand, the potato salad, brown bread and other delicacies, including "pie like mother used to make," made the innards glad with no disastrous results of indigestion—at least so far as the writer was concerned, and he certainly gave it a try-out, or was trying to, when his better half kicked his shins under the table and whispered, "Don't make a pig of yourself; we are going to have company tomorrow and you'll probably get another square meal, if you don't kill yourself eating this time." Following the sumptuous banquet, a social hour was enjoyed by the many present, previous to the interesting program, rendered as follows:

Mr. Badley, recitation — James Whitcomb Riley.
Comrade Walrod, reading.
Phillip Drake and Boatright brothers, singing.
Alma Scheurman, recitation.

Dorothy and Lucille Parrish, aged 5 and 3, respectively, song, "Our Country's Flag."
Comrade Wagner, prayer.
The net proceeds of the entertainment were about $150.

DR. T. L. PERKINS

candidate for City Commissioner, informs The Herald that one of the greatest problems concerning the citizens of Portland in the near future is the motor tourist. In speaking of this matter a few days ago to a group of automobilists, he said: "The first thing I will do, if elected, I am going to give a great deal of attention to interest the citizens of this city to establish camping grounds and in information bureau for the motor tourists. I believe this will have to be an absolute necessity in a very short while and will be of an inestimable value as an asset to the city. These camping sites can be located in different sections of the city—equipped with modern comforts, such as water, fuel and comfort stations, and thousands of tourists would spend more time and money in passing through and eventually would make Portland a terminal center. A great many cities possess these accommodations for the motor tourists and it is only a matter of time before we will be compelled to follow suit."

Dr. T. L. Perkins, candidate for City Commissioner, says during his term of eight months as Finance Commissioner he introduced modern business methods in his department whereby the constantly increasing work was more rapidly expedited. In consequence thereof, useless help and expenditures were eliminated—saving thousands of dollars to the city.

OBITUARY

Herbert P. Trask was born in New Hampshire Feb. 14, 1855, and died Oct. 9, 1920, aged 65 years, 7 months and 25 days. His parents were David and Pally (Presby) Trask, both of English extraction. The elder Trask was a native of Maine, whence he moved in 1858 to Wisconsin. His death occurred in that state in 1866.

The mother was born in New Hampshire, Aug. 8, 1820, and died in Wisconsin April 19, 1862.

Herbert P. was obliged to shoulder the responsibilities of life at a very early age. His mother died when he was 7 years old and his father three years later. Thus left an orphan, he was obliged to support himself and did so by working on farms and whatsoever else he was able to do. In spite, however, of the many reverses to which he was subject during boyhood, he managed to obtain a practical education in the common schools of Wisconsin.

When 15 years of age he went to Kansas, where he remained for three years. In 1872 he came to Klickitat county, Wash. Upon his arrival he went into partnership with his uncle, John Preby, in the fruit growing business, at which vacation he was engaged many years.

In April, 1908, he moved to Pacific county, Wash., settling on a farm along the Palix river, where he lived till Sept. 14, 1920, when he moved to Portland, Ore., living only 24 days in his new home.

Mr. Trask was married at Lyle, Wash., Aug. 21, 1882, to Sarah Bateman, a native of Pennsylvania.

To this union were born 13 children, all of whom are living except John, who died when 3 years of age.

Besides these 12 children and the widow all of whom are present today, he leaves one sister, Mrs. Taylor, who is an invalid; one niece, Mrs. Wheelhouse, of Richland, Wash., and 11 grandchildren.
