SOCIAL A SUCCESS

A very enjoyable evening was passed by those who attended the get-together social at the M. E. church last Friday evening. The dinner was served at 6 o'clock by the Ladies' Aid, consisting of the good things those ladies know so well how to make and serve, covers being laid for about two hundred. After the dinner had been thoroughly satisfied the following program was enjoyed, as was testified to by the hearty responses: Prayer, by Brother Waggoner; address by Dr. Youngson, who spoke very highly on the progress of the church; solo by Mrs. Mable Whitcomb; reading, "Aunt Sophronia at the Opera," by Miss Dorothy Farley of Laurelwood. Rev. F. T. Finley of the Laurelwood M. E. church gave a very interesting talk on "Generous Thinking, Living and Giving." Solo, by Mr. R. Wilkinson; reading by Mrs. Miles. Dr. Frank L. Wemett of Centenary M. E. church gave a very interesting after dinner talk. Mr. J. C. McGrew recited one of his own poems entitled "The Fir Tree." Duet, by Mrs. Whitcomb and Mr. Wilkinson. The official board was called forward and introduced by the pastor. The Junior league led in the closing song, "Hark to the Shepherd's Voice," after which ensued a pleasant social hour.

W. R. Lake of 3555 68th street, who has been an employe of the government since 1916, returned home Wednesday, October 20. He reports that the government under the skillful supervision of E. P. Rand, chief of the field division, is closing up the examination and classification of the Oregon-California land grant of over two million acres of land. It is now completed except a small tract on the Umpqua river and that will be finished next month. Mr. Lake says that the public will be very much disappointed when all is finished. The original idea was that the land should be settled up by homeseekers, but the public has been deceived. The best land adapted to agriculture is heavily timbered. The actual land classified as agricultural is rough and rocky and not adapted for that purpose, but is so classified because the law provides that it shall be.

Dan Kellaher for Mayor, means 5c car fare. Vote 99 X.—Pd. Advt.

COMMUNITY COMMITTEE PREPARING PRELIMINARIES

The committee appointed at the community meeting held at I. O. O. F. hall Wednesday evening, October 20, as reported in our last issue, met at the Multnomah State Bank Tuesday for the purpose of organizing and electing officers.

M. K. Hedge was elected president and Sherman Harkson secretary-treasurer.

It was decided at this meeting to divide the territory into four districts and these districts to be subdivided and assistants to the committee will be appointed to proceed with the work just as soon as the necessary maps and general data of information can be obtained.

Foster road and 92nd street is the proposed dividing line, including all territory between 82nd street and the city limits.

Besides making the Lents district a more desirable place to live in by securing paved streets and cement sidewalks, better fire protection will prevail and a material reduction on rates of insurance is assured.

Every resident of this community who has the best interests of Lents and its future prosperity at heart should give the committee their earnest support in assisting to secure the desired signatures of owners of real estate in this locality.

Further facts and figures relative to this most vital proposition for the welfare of this district will be given out by the committee and published in the Herald as soon as it can possibly be compiled.

It is evident that a bunch of live wires are at the head of this project, but they need your moral support. Get busy and be prepared to assist them in every way possible.

Room for Much Better Understanding Between Americans and British.

By ROBERT A. GARDNER, Chicago, Amateur Golfer.

The uppermost subject in my mind since my return is the need of a much better understanding between the majority of the people in the two countries. No, I won't say that. Rather I will say a better understanding in each country of the other country. The British and Americans must stand close to one another and I firmly believe that they will. I know that there is a certain class over there that is anti-American, just as we have an anti-British class over here. But from what I saw over there that class is not composed of the thinking people in any sense of the word, nor do I think that they are in control. From the very moment that we set foot on their soil they did everything in their power to make us feel that we were the guests of the nation. Everywhere we went we were entertained and made to feel at home—at Muirfield, St. Andrews and London.

The thing that made the strongest impression on me was their sportsmanship. It is apparent in their every act. Not only on the field of play but in their home life, and they even carry it to their business. The spirit of merciless competition that is everywhere on this side of the Atlantic is totally lacking over there. No matter what it costs them they always play fair. Not just for the sake of playing fair, but because it never seems to occur to them to act otherwise.

All the way through I met with the utmost cordiality and sportsmanship. And it occurred to me that this summer's invasion of our different athletes was doing a whole lot to clear up misconceptions between the two nations. They have created a country-wide interest in both the games and the Americans. I want to say again that I grew to have a very sincere feeling for the Englishman as I saw him in his own country. If I may be permitted, I will fall back on a bit of American slang, and say that I surely found them "regular guys."

GIRL BABIES PREDOMINATE

September proved to be a banner month for the birth of girl babies in Portland, for in this month the births of girls exceeded that of boys for the first time during any month in the year. A total of 224 girls were delivered by King Stork in September and 205 boys, according to the records of Ma Nyusbaum, registrar of births of the city health bureau.

In April, 1920, an equal number of girls and boys were born in Portland, 227 of each sex, but in every other month of the year the birth of boys has been greater than that of girls.

These hot lunches have been very successful and are helpful and convenient for both pupils and teachers who have to carry lunches. The small sum of five cents is charged to cover expenses, such as paying the help and buying foods and the necessary cooking utensils. Children who are not able to pay five cents are given their bowl of soup.

WILL HAVE VOTED FOR 16 PRESIDENTS

Lents, Ore., Oct. 27, 1920.

Editor Mt. Scott Herald:

I saw a statement in the press of a man who claims that when he votes next Tuesday he has voted for 14 presidents. Now I will go him two better. When I vote Tuesday it will make me 16 presidents. I voted for President Lincoln in 1860 the first time he ran for president. I have voted the republican ticket ever since and voted it straight. I claim the longevity of my life is largely prolonged by being a republican and would advise all democrats to come into the republican ranks. They will live longer and die happier.

While I have passed my 81st milestone I am just a kid yet. I served three years in the army of the civil war; was wounded at Gettysburg; am ready to match the winner in the next great battle of the heavyweight.

JOHN WALROD.

IF YOU CAN'T LAUGH—GRIN!
Mr. Davis, who is a well-known author living in San Antonio, Tex., thinks that fully 98 per cent of the people you know stand up and face their troubles like men.

"Relatively, mighty few of us, put up against it hard, ever quit," says Mr. Davis. "We meet Old Man Disability and laugh in his face. If we can't laugh, we grin."

"Perhaps some man who reads this is finding life's going a little rough, and is just the least bit tempted to quit that two per cent or less who quit. If so, go out and look at a few people who are worse off than you are. You can find them very easily. They take your soul over into a corner, back it up against the wall, look it squarely in the eye, and say:

"Did you see those people with all sorts of things the matter with them? Pretty fortunate we aren't in their shape, eh? Things don't happen to be coming their very best for us, but what of it? Suppose even that they were coming their very worst. Suppose that old call-boy with the hour-glass and scythe were standing right behind us, with his hand stretched out to tap us on the shoulder and tell us our cue had come to go away from here! Even so, look how long he let us stay. It is a mighty good world, a few bleating pessimists notwithstanding, and we were in luck to be allowed to come here at all. Think of the millions who didn't have as long a spell in it as we had. Think of the millions more who didn't have as happy a time while they were here as we have had. Soul, you belong to a lucky dog!"

"Then grin. You will be astonished, I dare say, at how promptly and cheerfully your soul will grin back."
