Although many have responded to the Herald's "cut to the bone" price of subscription to and including Jan. 1, 1921, announced elsewhere, there are a number of blank receipts yet ready at this office, giving 12 months subscription for one little old dollar. After the time above mentioned, the price will remain at $1.50, regardless of the color of hair or good intentions.

W. C. Eggiman, the popular proprietor of the Tremont meat market, was a welcome caller at this office Monday, and renewed his allegiance to the Herald for another twelve months.

One-Third Off!

Up to and including JAN. 1, 1921, the subscription price of the Mt. Scott Herald will be $1.00, in advance, to all calling personally, or remitting by check or P. O. order.

BALLAD OF BAY OF BISCAY

"For Four Long Days We've Stood the Gaff," Writes Sailor in Rhyming Log.

Capt. Frank Rufus Pendleton, first officer of the freight steamer Andra, is handy with the pen and finds it easy to keep the log in rhyme. In a letter to his place in Belfast, Me., he thus describes the Andra's passage across the Bay of Biscay, according to a Bangor (Me.) dispatch to the New York World.

"The Bay of Biscay's on the bum, Old Neptune he is full of rum, and we are sorry to have come into the Bay of Biscay; We're nearly full of Biscay brine; we swallow quarts from time to time; I think we're pickled for all time with salty, bitter Biscay.

"The skipper at the clouds does stare; he jumps around and tears his hair, and says 'twould make an angel swear, this — old Bay of Biscay. The chief looks o'er his bunkers sharp, and says that it would be no lark if coal should fall short on this ark. In this old Bay of Biscay. Five passengers are with us here, and they have given up, I fear, all they've eaten for a year to hungry, hungry Biscay. Our parson puts all tears to rout, he trusts in God, his heart is stout, but wants to swing the lifeboat out, for the devil rules old Biscay. The good ship at the seas does bound; she tries in vain to knock them down, then backs away and goes out round the mountainous seas of Biscay.

"For days and days we bob around, our only motion's up and down, the old ship makes a — poor clown for acrobatic Biscay. The cooks are having lots of fun as after pots and pans they run, but dinner's always sure to come, they are the cooks for Biscay. The engineers down in the hole, they only say got blame my soul, just you see this old ship roll, on bloody, bloomin' Biscay. For four long days we've stood the gaff, but not discouraged, no, not half; we're getting used to Biscay's chaff, we'll soon be out of Biscay. There's one thing sure, I've lots of time to put this old bay into rhyme; we'd rather put it far behind, this restless Bay of Biscay.

"The good old ship she isn't weak, old Biscay cannot make her leak, or even make her timbers creak; she defies the Bay of Biscay. She's loaded deep with iron ore, it tries her to the very core; she doesn't even pinch a door, she laughs at rough old Biscay. Our company says the cap's a dear, as to the channel we draw near, because from Biscay he's won clear, a conqueror of Biscay. Now, today the weather's fine, we're leaving Biscay far behind; so I will close this awful rhyme, and bid good-by to Biscay."

Coal Mine Burning Since 1859. There is a burning coal mine between Summit Hill and Coldale, Pa. The fire started one morning in February, 1859, when a miner entering Slope No. 1 of the Lehigh Coal & Navigation company's mine stopped to warm his chilled fingers at a fire burning in a heap of rubbish. That fire is still burning.

Engineers, generations of them, have fought the fire and it breathed its sulphurous breath into their faces, and went on devouring coal. The stockholders of the Lehigh company are willing to pay roundly for the services of a successful fireman, for the company certainly does want that fire put out.

Many schemes to check the fire have been tried, and the latest is simplicity itself; that is, on paper. Taking the fuel away from the fire by means of a tunnel which will cut through the vein being consumed now is planned. When the fire arrives at the tunnel there will naturally be no coal, and no coal, no fire. It appears simple, but some of the best engineering talent in the world is busy on that tunnel, which is considered one of the most gigantic undertakings of its kind.

Want a Diamond? French scientists see in flooding of Paris jewelry market with millions of dollars' worth of diamonds, issuing from safety deposit vaults of war profiteers, a sign that French capitalists are regaining confidence in business future of the country. It is reliably estimated that 50,000,000 francs' worth of "war-profit" diamonds have been thrown on the French market in recent months.

A number of cases are on record where war profiteers, skeptical of the value of French paper money and government securities, turned their savings accounts, ranging from 1,000,000,000 to 3,000,000,000 francs, into diamonds.

Reassured as to the economic future of France, they are selling their diamond savings and employing the proceeds in development of national industries. One result has been a rapid decline in diamond prices.

China's Food for Powder. If, in a war, an enemy started killing Chinese soldiers at 1,000,000 men a year, and if China were using ten per cent of her population in that war. It would take 50 years to destroy her first armies, and in that period two further Chinese forces of 50,000,000 each would grow up to confront their enemy.—Basil Mathews in British Review of Reviews.

Strange, but Sometimes True. "I see where the daughter of a self-made man is about to marry a chap who writes verse."
