J. F. Updyke and family are now riding in a new Mitchell car of the latest model, having discarded the Studebaker, which had seen many miles of wear and tear and had contracted a habit of stopping out in the country far from home—when out of gas.

Some old sacks smoldering in the basement of the residence of Emory Hart, residing on top of the hill on 92nd street, called out the fire department from Kern Park about 8:30 last Monday morning. No damage; just gave the neighbors something to talk about.

There will be a parent-teachers meeting for ladies only at the assembly room of the Lents schoolhouse on Friday evening, February 18. Dr. Margaret Haynie will address the meeting and there will be special music. All members are requested to be present, especially the mothers.

J. F. Wing has an advertisement on page four of this paper this week in which he offers to sell potatoes for $1.00 a sack and cracked corn for $2.50 per 100. Mr. Wing has the reputation of dealing fairly with all who bring him produce and grain to market, and there is no reason why such merchandise should be hauled in to Front street and then back again, with a high margin of profit and expense tacked on. It will pay those who have need for the merchandise Mr. Wing handles to consult him before buying elsewhere.

Lents Grange will meet next Saturday, February 14, at 10:30 a. m. The third and fourth degree will be put on at this time. For some reason the driver ran off the strip of paving in the center and in passing over the dirt siding struck a soft spot. The rear wheel sinking to the body of the machine, leaving the front wheel on the opposite side in the air. It was said that at some time in the past excavating had been done at that place and the truck wheel happened to strike a place where the earth had not been packed down. The load was transferred to another machine and the Chevrolet raised out of the hole on Wednesday, after considerable labor.
