Among the numbers of interest to Lents folk will be violin selections by Mrs. Marie Chapman MacDonald and vocal numbers, comprising quartette, Messrs. Sault and Elkins and Mrs. M. Boland and Miss Eowan, and duet by Messrs. Sault and Elkins.

ARLETA NOTES

The Arleta union of the W. C. T. U. is planning a huge campaign for membership, hoping to double their present number of members. The plans were perfected Tuesday afternoon at Arleta library.

The Arleta W. C. T. U. meets regularly every two weeks, and a good program with good refreshments are always the order of the day.

At 3:30 Wednesday afternoon at the Arleta Baptist church, "Bruce" Evans entertained the boys and girls of junior age with a "weenie" party.

The ministers of the city enjoyed the address made by "Bruce" Evans at the Y. M. C. A. Monday morning. His subject was "The Spirit of Evangelism."

Rev. Owen A. Day was chapel speaker at Reed College last week. Following the address a pleasant hour was spent in the social hall.

The meetings at Arleta Baptist church still continue to fill the house each night. A lively song service precedes the lecture and begins at 7:45. The meetings will continue all week, including Saturday evening.

Mrs. Dana Hendrickson of 6315 63rd street left Thursday morning for Texas, where her son is very ill, according to a telegram received by Mrs. Hendrickson.

Mrs. R. O. Drips of 6850 59th avenue was united in marriage to Samuel J. Roebacker Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Drips. Rev. Henry White officiated at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Dana Hendrickson were guests. Mr. and Mrs. Roebacker's many friends extend heartfelt congratulations to the happy couple.

Rev. Henry White will speak on the following subjects at Millard avenue church Sunday, March 13: A. M., "Behold the Man"; P. M., "What Christ Did for One Business Man."

Mr. and Mrs. K. I. Dixon of 7334 55th avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of an eight pound baby girl, born March 6. Dr. Marzason was present at the time and everyone seems to be doing nicely.

Little Gordon Hallin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hallin, 7530 55th avenue, is visiting relatives in Liberty Bond, Wash.

Mrs. Emily Leaman, mother of Mrs. Victor Hallin, 7530 55th avenue, is visiting a daughter at Liberty Bond, Wash., this winter and spring.

The Arleta gym class meets every Monday night in the assembly hall of Arleta school. Mrs. Hodgson, a Reed college student, instructs the class. The average attendance has fallen from 25 members this year to about 20 this term.

A particular phase of the safety first campaign in this city is noticeable in the actions of the Franklin high school students who board the car at 26th avenue and 50th street. Instead of the pushing, crowding, untidy crowd we were accustomed to see pile on to a car at that point, we now see an orderly line, single file, of students, who quickly, easily and safely board the car, in the minimum space of time and with a total absence of danger. It is a fine sight and a big help in bringing down the enormous number of traffic accidents.

On March 4, a banquet was given for the new C. E. officers of the young people of Laurelwood Congregational church. The decorations were patriotic in scheme, flags and bunting being used abundantly and the place cards were red, white and blue shields. About 20 were at the table. Afterward games were enjoyed until 9:30, when all repaired to the kitchen for K. P. duty. Every lad and lassie did their bit. It was an enjoyable evening.

An interesting talk was given by Mr. Povey, a young sailor boy who spent 13 months in China; Mr. Povey spoke to the Sunday school of the Laurelwood Congregational church. He said he had not been into the worst part of the Chinese suffering, but what he did know and tell was enough to horrify his hearers.

Copies of "Anchored Secure," the words and music of which were written by Bruce Evans, are given out at the meetings at Arleta Baptist church each night. It is requested that those who have copies at home bring them to the service with them.

Mrs. Nelson was a delightful hostess Wednesday afternoon at her home at 1795 Division street, when she entertained the Ladies Aid Society of Third U. R. church. Sixteen were present and enjoyed the delicious luncheon of hot buns, salad, coffee, candy. The decorations were in honor of St. Patrick's day and very clever. Those present were appreciative of Mrs. Nelson's hospitality.

On April 13 a spring sale and cafeteria dinner will be held at the Third U. R. church. Special emphasis will be placed on pillow cases—big, little, trimmed and untrimmed—and besides there will be arns and fancy work of all kinds. The sale will be held in the church.

Numerous Europeans are ready to migrate to this country. They should be welcomed only on the understanding that they will become citizens in good faith and put such money as they may lay by in American savings banks.

We have almost reached the point when a man who is told that there is a political slush fund will exclaim: "Oh, slush!"

You can't enforce a short-day diet on a growing crop. You've got to work it to the limit, or it won't grow and yield.

Another thing about a live check is, it can dry a woman's tears without even getting wet.

One difference between the horse and the automobile is that the horse gets some rest.

FRIENDS CHURCH

Portland quarterly meeting of the Friends church Friday and Saturday and Sunday afternoon. There was a large attendance. An excellent dinner was served in the new dormitory, Terrell hall.

At the business meeting Saturday night an interesting discussion was held in regard to the support of the boards of the five years' meeting. The meeting voted as a unit for the proposition of Rev. Cox, which would give all men liberty to support the boards according to their conscience.

Rev. Sims filled the pulpit Sunday morning and Rev. Hare of Kansas in the evening. Rev. Schwab of Salem is expected to preach Sunday.

The C. E.'s are planning a social for Friday night.

A brand new junior society started off talking alone Sunday.

The young people took on new life and started out to do their best work for the coming year.

Famine is said to menace 40,000,000 Chinese to the extent that fathers are poisoning their families to save them the slower pangs of starvation. Yet, in the order of nature, with all its generosity, there ought to be no such thing as famine; it is one of the artificial perils which men bring upon themselves and which comes from the human perversity which makes as much needless suffering in the world, says Baltimore American. What the war has done in this way will probably never be known in its full extent, as every day develops more that is due to its terrible initiative.

There once lived a near-genius named Prentice Mulford. Many who have read the papers that he left behind him have felt that under other circumstances Mulford might have been a truly great man. Few ever heard of him. He was in the ministry for a short time. "Why did you stop preaching?" he was once asked, to which he replied: "Nobody asked me to go on." That is the tragedy of many who might have done great things, says Chicago Journal. Nobody asked them to go on, and the result was that they stopped.

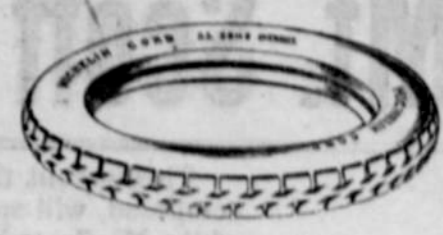

As the subject of education is now a prominent one, it would be well to look into the activities of the regular schools established here by the Reds for the purpose of instructing children in their pernicious doctrines and inflaming their youthful imaginations by propaganda against law and order, says Baltimore American. That these schools are running are known to many, and their mischievous results have already been demonstrated too clearly to deserve any toleration.

The new president of Mexico is quoted as saying he would rather teach the Mexicans the use of a toothbrush than of a rifle, and would rather see them in schools than on battlefields. With aspirations of this kind encouraged by a progressive leader, Mexico's prospects for the higher civilization are brighter than they have been before.

Wonder should not be excited by tales of the difficulty of issuing newspapers in European countries when so many of the lightning presses are running day and night printing paper money with a purchasing power of possibly one-tenth of its assertive face value.

It is astonishing that Captain Amundsen should choose to brave the terrors of ice floes and fields by boat, sledge or foot, when he could make the trip to the pole by airplane in the time required for a Sabbath day's journey.

Make Us Prove It!

THE leading magazines contain an intensely interesting interview with Mr. Edison, which you should read. He says:

"I am very glad that the records of all the principal talking machine companies can be played on the New Edison with the best possible results."

We shall be glad to prove Mr. Edison's statement. Lateral cut (needle machine) records sound better on the New Edison than they do on the talking machines for which they were made. Don't forget we are anxious to prove this to you.

Understand, please, they will not sound like Edison RECREATIONS, but they will sound better than you ever heard them sound before.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Would you like to know Mr. Edison's favorite tunes? Ask us for a copy of "What Edison Likes in Music." Would you be interested in the favorite music of other great American men and women? We are running a straw ballot to determine the men and women in whose tastes the people are most interested. Will you vote? If so we will give you a Portrait Etching of Thomas A. Edison drawn by Franklin Booth, the celebrated American artist, who has also made famous etchings of Lincoln and Roosevelt. Size 12 1/2 x 19. Suited to framing.
