News Happenings of Lents and Surrounding Country

Social Affairs Are Source of Pleasure to Many; Personal Items and Locals of Interest to Herald Readers Tersely Told

Dan Leitch of Kearney, Neb., is visiting with his brother, J. M. Leitch and family, on 89th street.

Fred Kelly is home from O. A. C. He is at the home place while his parents are visiting in the east.

Rev. Culver has returned from Bellingham. He expects Mrs. Culver home this week. They have been visiting her parents.

Julian has a good buy in No. 1 first growth cordwood; also some heavy country slab at lowest possible prices. Residence 9618 Foster road, phone 633-70.

Miss Alice Blowers, daughter of Judge L. N. Blowers, of Hood River, and Mrs. Wesley Incehall, of Salt Lake City, Utah, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hazen A. Wright this week.

The Yeager theater is advertising Wally Reid as the attraction for four days next week, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The film shown is "The Love Special," said to be Reid's best.

Miss Bertha Louise Kissner, 4710 52nd street, has had cards printed this week announcing that she will receive piano pupils. Miss Kissner is a pupil of Lillian Jefferys Petri. Her announcement appears on page four of this issue.

H. W. Evans, proprietor of Lents Furniture Store, is carrying his left arm in a sling, caused by coming in contact with the wheel of an engine, punching a hole in his hand, incapacitating Mr. Evans from strenuous labor for several days to come.

The Lents Furniture Co., on Foster Road just east of 92nd street, has on window display a seasonable selection of fireless cookers and aluminum utensils. This firm carries a stock of goods more extensive than usually handled in suburban stores and at reasonable prices.

Eberhard Bros. will give another of their popular dances at Elliott's hall, Damascus, next Saturday evening, the 18th. These young men are successful in promoting this series of social affairs, 94 attending one. They consider sponsoring a Fourth of July celebration if it can be arranged satisfactorily.

The spectacles advertised last week in our classified columns belonged to Mrs. C. M. Riley, who was visiting at the home of W. S. Owens, 5915 90th street. Mrs. Riley had advertised for them in the daily papers but failed to get results until the Herald found them for her. Yet there are a few people residing in this bailiwick that try to kid themselves into the belief that "advertising doesn't pay."

Lents housewives have been busy the past week canning berries, which have been within the reach of the average family. A further drop in price is said to be in prospect, with plenty of fruit still in sight and the demand slackening, as well as the demand for the raspberry season close at hand. Low-priced sugar, too, has served to greatly increase the amount of home canning this year, and it appears that the only cloud on the horizon is a prospective shortage of jars, which have not been in great demand in the recent years of high prices.

P. F. Black, who visits Lents distributing aluminum ware, lost his overcoat Tuesday and called at the Herald office Wednesday to insert an advertisement in an effort to locate it. Before he got through telling about it he had the coat back, it having been found and left here by Prof. Thaxter of Lents school, with the request that it be advertised. Both owner and finder was aware of the efficacy of Herald publicity and were not mistaken.

Samuel Radow and Roy Schirmerhorn are proud possessors of Dort cars, which are becoming famous for "Efficiency plus Beauty," and sold by the Lents Garage. A splendid photo of Mr. and Mrs. Radow will be reproduced in the space occupied by the Lents Garage in the Herald next week.

Dr. A. G. Atwood is taking an enforced vacation, on account of having accumulated the habit of cutting the family kindling wood, amputating a large slice of his left forefinger. No complications setting in, the doctor expects to be in his office again, probably by the time this paper is out, as the accident occurred the latter part of last week.

Ernest Johns, 6818 85th street, received a 90-day suspended sentence and a fine of $50 from Judge Bell on a plea of guilty to a charge of having a dog in his possession. No will was unearthed at his home by Deputies Beeman and Schirmer, but 50 gallons of prune mash and one gallon of finished product were found.

Funeral services for D. S. Dunbar, Oregon pioneer, who died on Wednesday of last week at the Portland sanitarium, were held at Kenworthy's parlors, Lents, Friday. Interment was in Mt. Scott Park cemetery.

Mr. Dunbar crossed the plains in an ox-train from Missouri in 1850. He was then six years old. His family settled on a tract of land near Fairview, where he had made his home practically all his life.

On October 19, 1865, he was married on a boat between Portland and Vancouver, the captain performing the ceremony. Following the marriage he filed on a tract of land at Fairview, part of which is now the county poor farm. From 1892 to 1899 he was in the mercantile business with his son, J. A. Dunbar, in Goldendale, Wash. He was born July 10, 1844, in St. Joseph, Mo.

Mr. Dunbar is survived by a son, J. A. Dunbar, husband of Sadie Orr-Dunbar.

Margaret Leitch wins money this week. With a total of 269,870 votes, Margaret Leitch is the winner of the $5 in the trade-at-home contest this week. Next week the Herald will publish the totals to date. Only three more weeks remain in the contest.

Reed's Transfer is the name selected for the contest. This concern is located on Foster Road near 94th. Find the missing letters and send in your coupons as usual.

Arso Yonovich, 561 Overton street, drew a fine of $250 and a sentence of 30 days in jail in court Monday. He was accused by a man by the name of Chenoweth of having sold moonshine to the latter's wife and to have taken the woman's ring as a pledge of payment. A search warrant was sworn by Chenoweth and three gallons of liquor discovered in Yonovich's home.

While the present whereabouts of Wilcox are unknown, he has been seen several times in the Mt. Scott district within the past week.

Beckman-Warren John Beckman and Miss Leona Warren of 72nd street and Foster Road were married at her home one day last week by Rev. Finley of the Laurelwood M. E. church. There was quite a wedding, as there were a number of out-of-town guests from Seattle and California. The bride was dressed in white satin and carried a bouquet of roses. The house was beautifully decorated and the wedding party sat down to bountiful refreshments.

Daily Vacation Bible School The Arleta daily vacation Bible school is planning to care for 500 students. This year the curriculum is more varied and more systematic than before. At the bi-weekly assembly hour there will be addresses by various capable people on subjects which will be of much value to the boys and girls and grownups. Among those who will speak will be Mrs. M. Frances Swope, who will talk on some phase of the temperance question; Rev. Henry White, who will lecture on Siam; Rev. Mr. Austin and Rev. A. B. Snyder, both of whom will tell of work in foreign fields. Another new feature will be the 35-minute tri-weekly mission-study hour, which will be conducted by each teacher in her own particular class group. Mrs. J. J. Handsaker, principal, concluding arrangements as rapidly as possible, so that every possible means for the profit and entertainment of the students may be secured.

Victory Chapter Meets Victory Chapter No. 130, Eastern Star, of Archer Place, had last week as guests of honor the grand worthy matron of the state, Mrs. Umbeck, also the grand worthy patron, Leslie Parker. The grand worthy matron was presented with an oil painting of Mt. Hood. Seven were initiated: Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson, Mrs. Mowery, Mrs. Thompson and J. Edgar Wells.

Kellogg School The officers for the ensuing year of the parent-teacher association are Mrs. G. W. Chilson, president; H. H. Jozah, vice-president; Maud Michel, secretary; Emily Woods, treasurer. A class party was given to the graduating class Wednesday evening by the parent-teacher association, with the parents of the class in attendance. A pleasant evening was spent in getting acquainted with one another.

Thursday afternoon and evening the moving pictures of "Caromys' Corners" will be shown. School closes this week but most of the teachers will remain in Portland this summer vacation.

W. C. T. U. Observes Flag Day Arleta W. C. T. U. observed Flag day on June 14th with a delightful program in the afternoon at the library. Rev. Cham of the Chinese mission told the story of the flag of the new republic of China, illustrating it with a flag he brought with him from that country. He also told of what China expected of us. Little Mary Brown gave the salute to the flag and recited the story of "The Three Little Sisters," a pretty version of the making of the flag. Mrs. Wilson, president of the union, is going to the Dalles to live and the union presented her with a handsome slumber robe made by the members.

Arleta Congregational Church Children's day services will be held next Sunday at the Congregational church. It will be combined with the morning service beginning at 10:30. The Christian Endeavor held their election of officers last Sunday evening. The following officers were elected: President, Arthur Anderson; vice president, Samuel Thurston; secretary, Vera Pratten; treasurer, Morrison Handsaker; chorister, Irene Tenney; organist, Lois Handsaker. The retiring president was Miss Bicknell, who will leave soon with her sister for Detroit, Mich. They will be missed very much from the church activities.

Thursday, June 23, the ladies' aid will serve luncheon at Luecky cottage for which a nominal sum will be charged.

Anabel Presbyterian Church Mrs. J. Edgar Wells, 5222 40th avenue, will on June 22, from 2 to 5 p. m., give a silver tea. The proceeds go to the carpet fund. It is the first of a series of social events for that fund. She will be assisted by Mrs. Rosenberg and Mrs. Himey.

Sunday was children's day. A fine program was given in the morning and after a short sermonette by the pastor, Rev. Mixsell, the Portable Moving Picture Co. of Portland put on three or four films of interest to the children.

M. E. Church In the morning Rev. Finley will speak on "Our Common Needs." In the evening the children will give the program as their part of children's day service.

The W. M. A. society met on Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Perry, 4924 66th street. Prayer meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. Choir practice Wednesday at 8 p. m. Faye Finley, daughter of Rev. Finley and wife, came home Wednesday from Willamette University at Salem where she is not only taking a college course but also a special musical course. She is contemplating teaching music this summer. Donald Lockwood, also of Willamette University, will spend the summer vacation with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lockwood of Arleta. A week from Tuesday there will be a father and son banquet given by the fathers of the men's Bible class. There has been a contest on between the boys and men for the past month. The boys won with an average of 30 in attendance each Sunday. They are asked to bring their fathers and there will be an interesting program also.

Arleta Baptist The morning topic, Rev. Day, speaker, is: "Does God Believe in Us?" At 8 p. m., the popular evening service, with a choir of 40 voices; topic, "Looking Backward or Forward?" A strawberry social will be given at the church Thursday evening at 8 p. m. Strawberries, cake and cream, 15 cents.

Millard Ave. Presbyterian Rev. A. B. Carr, returned missionary from the Pameran colony, West Africa, will speak in the absence of the pastor, Rev. White. Morning subject, "Blessings in Christ." Evening: "Experiences in West Africa." Mrs. Lina Jasper, formerly of Lents, will sing "In the Secret of His Presence" and Mrs. Fred J. Stock will be the soloist for the evening.

Mrs. W. J. Jefferys of 6848 60th street, who has a most beautiful flower garden, which one of her friends styles her outdoor parlor, contributed to the queen's float in the rose festival last week over 800 stems of the blue delphinium. She also had charge of the decorations for children's day last Sunday. Mrs. Jefferys is a natural decorator and the decorations were beautifully designed, the rose being the predominant flower and the special features were two hanging baskets made of the delphinium and Oriental poppies. The primary and beginners gave the program in the morning Sunday and from the juniors to the adult in the evening.

Local and Personal Manager White, of Arleta theater, is announcing some interesting pictures for his theater next week. The latter part of the month he will show Pola Negi in the famous film, "Passion." See his ad on the trade-at-home page. Rev. E. O. Shepherd went to Philomath to attend the commencement exercises of the college. His daughter Velma has been attending that institution the past year. Albert Guthrie, who has been a student at Philomath college the past year, came home the 15th. Dr. Oliver H. Clark of Myrtle Point visited Ben Hill Court, N. 9 Friday evening. The court will hold a picnic Saturday, June 18th, at 6 p. m., at the home of Geo. Slyger on 82nd street. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Robinson and wife of 7022 Millard avenue, motored to the beach last Sunday. Rev. John Handsaker leaves for Armenia June 22, where he has been called to personally superintend the Near East Relief work, in which he has been engaged for some time. A farewell party was given the Misses Mary and Norma Bicknell, students of Franklin high school, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Briggs, 34th avenue and 49th street, Tuesday last. They will leave shortly after the closing of school for Detroit, Mich., where they will make their home with relatives, one of whom is teaching in the schools of that city. Next fall they will enter Detroit University. Mrs. Sadie Orr-Dunbar, executive secretary of the Oregon Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, has gone to New York City to take six weeks intensive instruction along her line of work. Dr. and Mrs. Briggs leave next week for their summer home at Fairview. The women's missionary society of the Millard Avenue church held an all-day meeting at Mrs. S. W. Hickling's Wednesday. There was a goodly number present. Mrs. Armstrong presided. Chas. Sneedgar, wife and children, arrived from Lincoln, Cal., Wednesday morning. They left here last July, spending the winter in California. Mr. Sneedgar reports the temperature at 102 in the shade when he left on the 13th. He and his family say Oregon is good enough for them. They will be at home at 6316 70th street after July 1. P. L. Whitbeck of 5720 70th street, an employe of the S. P. & S., left the 14th for California, visiting his mother near Pasadena. H. L. Jones is building two houses on 67th street near Division for a Mr. Ellis. The first raspberries of the season were picked Wednesday on the C. H. Blanchard's berry patch. (Continued on page four.)

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE; TEN THROWN TO STREET

The accident occurred when a light car driven by C. W. Bramblett, and loaded with ten persons, collided with a heavy car driven by V. C. Gault of 495 E. 22nd street, and occupied by seven passengers. None of the passengers in the big machine was injured. The little car was turned completely over and its occupants spilled about the street. Those injured were: Mrs. J. C. Whalon of Nampa, Idaho, broken nose, cuts and bruises; her two children, Calvin, 4, and Evelyn, 2, cuts and bruises. Mrs. Julia C. Kellogg, Idaho, sister of Mrs. Whalon, injuries to left eye, left arm and left leg; her daughter, Violet, 2 years old, injured about the head and left heel; Mrs. C. W. Bramblett, 5015 58th avenue, another sister, lacerations; her daughter, Katherine, 1, laceration of the left cheek; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Lavender, aged 62 and 56 years respectively, of 6609 58th avenue, parents of the three women, both cut and bruised. Mr. Bramblett was uninjured.

Gault's vision of the corner was obscured by a high bank. Neither machine was going at a high rate of speed. Bramblett's front hub caught the rear wheel of the big machine and the Ford forthwith went over. The big machine was barely scratched. Gault's small daughter was thrown out of the car, but her father caught her before she had gone out completely and she was uninjured. All of the injured persons were taken to St. Vincent's hospital for treatment.

John Glamer, husband of Emma Glamer, residing on 82nd street at Maple, died June 3, aged 54 years. Funeral services were held on the 7th at the German church. Rev. Lien Kemper officiating. Interment was in Mt. Scott cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Crawford Rosch died on June 10 at the family home, 4316 85th street. Funeral services were held Tuesday at Kenworthy's parlors, Lents, Rev. Owen A. Day of Arleta Baptist church officiating. Interment was in Mt. Scott cemetery. The deceased was 54 years of age.

M. Hansen & Co. were the low bidders for improving 69th street from 45th to 46th avenue, with an estimate of $492.50. The same company submitted a figure of $3953 on the improvement of 89th street from 53rd to 56th avenues. Both estimates were below those of the city engineer.

Work is rapidly progressing on the first new residence of C. E. Kennedy, which is being built on south 92nd street. Mr. Kennedy was in town Wednesday arranging for brick, which he reports as still quite high in price; in fact, he says, the brick-makers don't seem to realize the war is over.

Samuel Radow and Roy Schirmerhorn are proud possessors of Dort cars, which are becoming famous for "Efficiency plus Beauty," and sold by the Lents Garage. A splendid photo of Mr. and Mrs. Radow will be reproduced in the space occupied by the Lents Garage in the Herald next week.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE CITY

Little Items of Interest to Herald Readers Culled From All Over the Rose City.

The school teachers have a ticket up for election as directors Saturday. Both the high school teachers and grade teachers association have endorsed W. J. H. Clark, W. E. Kimsey, George P. Eisman and James E. Martin. There was not a dissenting vote against the four. Ten candidates are on the ballot, with four to be chosen.

After characterizing their action as reckless, Federal Judge Bean Monday refused to grant the government a new trial for the five prohibition agents who, in attempting to arrest Robert W. Hedderly for selling liquor, shot and killed him as he sped away in his automobile. Judge Bean said the agents at the time of the shooting had no warrant for Hedderly's arrest and that they had not revealed their status to Hedderly. "All used their mistat apparently with a great deal of indiscretion," he said. A verdict of $1500 damages had been obtained against three of the officers and it was in a motion to set aside this judgment that the judge's remarks were made. A similar case against the other two officers remains to be disposed of.

O. W. Mielke, president of the Rose Festival, reported Monday that a balance of $2500 remained in the treasury as a nestegg for the next festival, after all expenses of this year had been paid. He presented 40 prizes to floral parade winners.

Mystery surrounding the death of Harry Agee, whose throat was cut as he slept in his St. Johns home, 1770 74th street, apparently was solved as a result of an inquiry by Dr. Earl Smith, coroner, Monday night. The jury found that Agee came to his death from cuts made by some sharp instrument in the hands of an unknown person.

The deceased was the wife of Philip T. Evans and a daughter of the pioneer, O. P. Lents, who came to Oregon in 1852, settling what is now Lents. She was born November 12, 1867, on the old homestead and lived in Portland almost all her life, attending the Lents school and growing to womanhood here. She was a sister of Attorney Geo. P. Lent, F. L. Lent and O. E. Lent, and Mrs. J. C. McGrew, all of Portland. Oliver W. Lent and Mrs. F. Wood of Pullerton, Cal., and Mrs. C. Whitlock of Silverton, Ore.

Funeral services were held Monday, June 13, at Kenworthy's parlors, with a large number of relatives and friends in attendance. Rev. F. M. Jansen officiated, assisted by Rev. Sibley of the M. E. church. Appropriate music was rendered by Mrs. Jasper and Mrs. Sells. There was a wealth of beautiful floral tributes, testifying to the esteem in which the deceased was held. Interment was in the family plot in Multnomah cemetery.

Two moonshiners found in Mount Scott district. Bert Donley, arrested at the junction of 104th street and Gilbert Road Saturday morning by Deputy Sheriff Schirmer and Beeman, was fined $250 for bootlegging by District Judge Bell on his plea of guilty. A 12-gallon still and 160 gallons of prune mash was found by the deputies. This is said to be the place in which Kasper Wilcox, local real estate man, took refuge after he colluded with the Reed truck recently, and would account also for the desire of the owner to keep the police from entering upon that occasion.

Ernest Johns, 6818 85th street, received a 90-day suspended sentence and a fine of $50 from Judge Bell on a plea of guilty to a charge of having a dog in his possession. No will was unearthed at his home by Deputies Beeman and Schirmer, but 50 gallons of prune mash and one gallon of finished product were found.

Funeral services for D. S. Dunbar, Oregon pioneer, who died on Wednesday of last week at the Portland sanitarium, were held at Kenworthy's parlors, Lents, Friday. Interment was in Mt. Scott Park cemetery.

Mr. Dunbar crossed the plains in an ox-train from Missouri in 1850. He was then six years old. His family settled on a tract of land near Fairview, where he had made his home practically all his life.

On October 19, 1865, he was married on a boat between Portland and Vancouver, the captain performing the ceremony. Following the marriage he filed on a tract of land at Fairview, part of which is now the county poor farm. From 1892 to 1899 he was in the mercantile business with his son, J. A. Dunbar, in Goldendale, Wash. He was born July 10, 1844, in St. Joseph, Mo.

Mr. Dunbar is survived by a son, J. A. Dunbar, husband of Sadie Orr-Dunbar.

Margaret Leitch wins money this week. With a total of 269,870 votes, Margaret Leitch is the winner of the $5 in the trade-at-home contest this week. Next week the Herald will publish the totals to date. Only three more weeks remain in the contest.

Reed's Transfer is the name selected for the contest. This concern is located on Foster Road near 94th. Find the missing letters and send in your coupons as usual.

Arso Yonovich, 561 Overton street, drew a fine of $250 and a sentence of 30 days in jail in court Monday. He was accused by a man by the name of Chenoweth of having sold moonshine to the latter's wife and to have taken the woman's ring as a pledge of payment. A search warrant was sworn by Chenoweth and three gallons of liquor discovered in Yonovich's home.

While the present whereabouts of Wilcox are unknown, he has been seen several times in the Mt. Scott district within the past week.

Intelligent people emphasize their quality by the use of simple language. It is only the weak minded who wrap their tongues around words of which they know not the meaning.
