HERE AND THERE

Children's day exercises were held Sunday morning, also baptismal services. In the evening a pageant was given by the young people's class under the direction of Mrs. Nora Miles. In a few days there is to be an illustrated lecture on "Ben Hur," given by Dr. Clark of the Portland Ministerial association. And a possibility that there will be an illustrated lecture of the Passion Play Sunday evening.

MT. SCOTT M. E. NOTES

The vacation Bible school is progressing rapidly. There are fourteen teachers and Tuesday there were 94 paid enrollments. A small fee of 25c is charged and there are classes for all.
A banquet was given the members of the league cabinet by Herbert Blething, president of the Epworth League, Tuesday evening.
The fire alarm was sounded for the first time in many weeks in Lents last Friday evening to which volunteer firemen and Chief Goggins promptly responded. An automobile belonging to H. A. Garlock at 5318 85th street, was the cause of the commotion and was damaged to the amount of about $150 before the firemen extinguished the flames. Apropos the subject, this is a good time for the Herald to warn residents of this community that they cannot be too careful in endeavoring to beware of the fire fiend. Lents is not exceedingly well prepared to fight a real fire. In fact, with the present paraphernalia we would be helpless. Mr. Goggins says that if we could secure this community company consisting of a good truck and four men, this locality would be comparatively safe, but "what's the use of trying," saith Mr. Goggins, "as long as we have penny wise and pound foolish councilmen in Portland."

Arleta News Notes

prised Thursday evening, June 16, when about forty of his relatives from Fairview invaded his domicile, 6713 35th avenue, and gave him the surprise of his life. The company was served in cafeteria style. The attractive feature was a birthday cake with 62 candles, representing the 62 years of his life, which each person cut a slice from and made many wishes for a return of the day, success and happiness. A very pleasant evening was spent in visiting, games, music and song.

No Meal is Perfect Without Good Meat

Relishing a meal puts a fellow in a good humor (the ladies are always that way.) Without meat there is always a feeling of something lacking. And if you have meat, and it is not of the best, the relish is not there. The obvious thing, therefore, is to buy the BEST—meat that produces a relish; that puts you in good humor; that puts you in the pink of condition. The quality of the meat you eat is more important than the quantity. It has QUALITY if bought from us.
