The Compass Plant

On the prairies and plains of Utah, Texas and southern Minnesota there grows a wonderful plant which has proved useful to travelers wandering over these vast tracts of country. It is called the compass plant, or pilot plant, because of a peculiarity in the growth of the leaves, which grow alternately along the stalk, and point precisely north and south. The Indians followed the direction given them by these pointing leaves, and told the white men about it. This plant belongs to the family of the Compositae, and looks very much like the sunflower. It has a strong, resinous odor, somewhat like turpentine, and sometimes goes by the name of "turpentine plant."—Christian Science Monitor.

BUTTE BOOSTERS' PARODY

There's a lovely highway leading Out to the land we love best, Where nature smiles her sweetest In the Golden West.

To God's wonderland 'twill lead you; Take your autos then and drive And meet us all in Oregon In 1925. —F. R. G.

There is a long, long trail a-winding, And it ends on Highway Butte, Where the minstrels are a-singing, To the music of the lute. The hills are all about it; The lakes lay still and mute; The world will be there to greet you At Columbia Highway Butte. —W. W. A.

BOOST

Boost your city, boost your friend; Boost the lodge that you attend, Boost the street on which you're dwelling.

Boost the goods that you are selling. Boost the people round about you; They can get along without you, But success will quicker find them If they know that you're behind them.

Boost for every forward movement; Boost for every new improvement; Boost the man for whom you labor; Boost the stranger and the neighbor. Cease to be a chronic knocker, Cease to be a progress blocker. If you'd make your city better, Boost it to the final letter. —Contributed by C. S. Cable.

Testing Pearls

Two professors in physics at London university, England, are conducting exhaustive tests, on behalf of the Daily Mail, with a view to finding a possible difference between ordinary and Japanese pearls. A Japanese pearl is produced by inserting a seed pearl or mother of pearl into the liver of an oyster. Alfred E. Calvert, a fellow of the Chemical society, stated recently that the several specimens of Japanese pearls he possesses are identical in weight, color and luster with ordinary pearls, and they are produced by the oyster with the same materials and by the same process as the other variety.

F. J. Mitchellree sold a house to J. C. Frye, 40th avenue and 54th street, for $2575, recently.
