GOVERNOR PARKER SCORES THE KLAN

LOUISIANA EXECUTIVE IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT CHICAGO ANTI-KLAN CONVENTION

A NATIONAL MOVEMENT

CONFERENCE IS CALLED FOR MAY 1 TO DEAL WITH SECRET SOCIETY

Chicago, Ill.—By N. C. W. C.—A national convention, at which leading men of all creeds and political affiliations will be called together, to make a national fight for the suppression of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, is to be held in Chicago about May 1, as a result of a conference held here in connection with the opening of a six night "all nations anti-Ku Klux rally" begun here Monday evening, and continued at the Coliseum all week.

The opening attack on the hooded secret organization was made by Gov. John M. Parker, of Louisiana, who uncovered and is prosecuting those responsible for the Mer Rouge murders. Gov. Parker addressed close to 20,000 persons jammed into the Coliseum. He was followed by former Senator Leroy Percy, of Mississippi. Both of them denounced the Klan as an un-American association and a menace to the peace of communities and to national unity and discipline.

The plan of the national movement to prevent sworn Klansmen from occupying public office in the United States was made at a conference preceding the mass meeting and involves the following tentative provisions:

Plan to Suppress Klan

The calling together of leaders in the north and south in a national gathering in this city, organizing every community throughout the United States against the Klan, and arousing the people generally to an appreciation of the Klan's menace.

The organization will be non-political and non-sectarian in its membership, and its purpose will be to prevent the entrance into public life of all who have by their Klan oath fore sworn their loyalty to the constitution of the United States, which guarantees full religious liberty.

One of the first battles of the organization will be to prevent the seating in the United States Senate of U. S. Senator-elect Mayfield of Texas.

The six night all nations rally was called by the American Unity League, the anti-Ku Klux organization formed in Chicago by men of all creeds and of which Attorney Patrick H. O'Donnell is the president. Monday night's meeting was presided over by Justice Michael L. McKinley, chief justice of the criminal court, who has barred Klansmen from jury service.

Gov. Parker's Appeal

On the platform with the speakers were many of Chicago's leading citizens of the type of Jacob M. Dickinson, former Secretary of War. They applauded the attack on the Klan made by Gov. Parker, when he said:

"You people should arouse yourselves to the menace of this monstrous thing. It is up to you to act and to act immediately and drastically."

"Every State in the Union should declare itself against masked men and mob violence in such unmistakable terms and with such severe penalties that none would dare wear the hood and robes that conceal murder and outrage under a traitorous pretense of law enforcement."

"The Klan is endeavoring to tear assunder community ties and lifelong friendship, by injecting into our lives issues against which Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt repeatedly warned us."

"The time has come for the most drastic action conceivable."

"The Ku Klux Klan has as much right as any society to organize, but no organization has the right to work under cover of darkness, hoods and masks to commit crimes and outrages and take us back to the ages of barbarism. We cannot at this late date mix religion and politics, thus tearing families and communities assunder and creating bitterness and discord where peace should prevail."

"The Klan is a menace to the political liberties of the people. It strikes at freedom and religious conscience. It pretends to punish lesser offenses, but instead commits greater crimes. It is the deadly enemy of law and order."

Gov. Parker charged the Mer Rouge murders to the Klan and declared that because of the secret machinations of the Klan, it would be impossible to punish the guilty. He asserted his belief that even the grand jury would be prevented from indicting the guilty men. He said:

"The acts of the Klan at Mer Rouge show us to what uses Klanism may be put. No one who reads of Mer Rouge can doubt that the time has come to unmask the Klan forever, to compel its members to stand out and be judged."

"Action—vigorous action is needed. You men and women who love your families and your country and your blessings—it is time for you to get to work against this menace. The answer is up to you."

Former Senator Percy termed the Klan a "monstrous, sinister piece of buffoonery."

MOUNT SCOTT IMPROVEMENT CLUB MEETS

The Mount Scott Improvement club met at the Arleta library Tuesday evening. An address on "Juvenile Delinquency" was given by W. S. Hale, probation officer. A resolution was passed by the club promising co-operation with other organizations of the southeast part of the city for the securing of a Community House at 72d street and 55th avenue.

Dr. Lundburg of Lents, presented the subject. It was decided to call the attention of the proper city authorities to the need of some safety device for pedestrians at 72d street and Foster Road. Five streets come together here and it is a wide, dangerous crossing. It also was decided to invite Mrs. Florence Holmes Gerke to speak at the next meeting on plans for beautifying this part of the city.

Girl Scouts Hike

Last Saturday morning the two troops of Girl Scouts from the Woodmere and Arleta school, under the leadership of Mrs. Ruth Demeter, hiked to Rock creek, beyond Clackamas. Here the girls had a "weinie" roast, found some early spring blossoms and had a delightful time. On the way home in the evening they were fortunate in getting a couple of "lifts" in auto trucks which were especially acceptable to the younger girls. Those who went were: Misses Margaret Drew, Florence Beckelmyer, Josephine Lehman, Pearl Howe, Ernestine Stoner, Pearl Watson, Fay Atwood, Fay and Frances Dilliam, Virginia and Harriet Hanson, Doris Denham, Achso Powell, Dorothy Hyatt, Bonita Lamar, Shiela Cook, Bonnie and Nova Royce, Lucile Lawrence, Olive Hobson, Esther Anderson, Evelyn Hill, Maxine Dickson, Sylvia Hoskin, Alice Johns. The chaperones were: Mesdames Lamar, Edwards, Demeter, Bryson and Miss Hobson.

Sunday School Holds Social

About 35 members and friends of the young married people's class of the Kern Park Christian church, sat down to dinner together on Friday evening, March 2. After the dinner a social evening was enjoyed and new officers elected. Mrs. W. Browning was chosen president and Mrs. Sam Ennis secretary. Ward Swope is the efficient teacher of this flourishing class.

Autoist Breaks Lad's Leg

A confused motorist broke 4-year-old Willard Heath's leg last week. The child was playing near the Wilson Auto Service garage at Grays Crossing when the automobile driver, in attempting to drive into an alley, stepped on the gas instead of the brake.

Local Man Makes Big Catch

L. H. Fishburn, 4715 71st street, is with the Southern Pacific carpenter crew at Bay View a month. He reports a delightful time fishing and clamming out of working hours. Among his adventures was the capturing and landing of a large skate measuring about four feet across.

Wages Law Argued

Washington.—Briefs have been filed in the Supreme Court attacking the constitutionality of the minimum wage law of the District of Columbia. The case is of national importance because the attorneys-general of several states have intervened in defense of the law.

The law, which was passed by Congress in 1918, creates a board which prescribes the minimum wages paid to women in the District of Columbia if engaged in mercantile establishments, hotels, boarding houses or laundries. The minimum wage fixed was $16.50 a week.

The decision will affect similar laws in twelve or thirteen states including Oregon.

SOUTH MOUNT TABOR, RESERVOIR PARK AND VICINITY

W. R. Lake, of 68th street, left for Ione, Or., last Sunday on a business trip. On his return he will stop at The Dalles and Goldendale, Wash., where he will visit Mr. Bolster, an old-time friend.

O. M. Wingrove of Morton, Wash., was a visitor of C. W. Gray and family on Thursday. Messrs. Gray and Wingrove left Friday morning for a week-end trip to Rockaway beach to visit relatives.

The annual meeting of the Third United Brethren church women's missionary association, met at the home of Mrs. Jenken, of 66th street. After a business meeting election of officers for the ensuing year were as follows: Mrs. W. Jarvis president, Mrs. R. Senor vice-president, Mrs. G. Spangenberg secretary, Mrs. G. Bonville treasurer, Mrs. Jenken secretary of literature, Mrs. W. Stevens secretary of thank offering.

The fourth annual tea of the Women's Missionary association of the four United Brethren churches of this city was held at the home of W. Jarvis, of 66th street, Thursday, from 2 till 4. An interesting musical and literary program was rendered, followed by serving of light refreshments.

The Christian Endeavor will give an entertainment in the form of a rare musical treat, on Friday, March 16, at Joseph Kellogg school at 8 o'clock. P. W. Davis, a musician of national reputation, will play his "triple-toned, golden chimes." All music lovers should attend.

Elvira and David Steel entertained the Science club of Franklin high school at their home on 58th street Wednesday. The reception rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion. Lively games and dancing were followed by a delicious supper served at 12 o'clock.

The Hi-Y club spent a very enjoyable week end at Seaside. The club motored in three cars. At Astoria the boys took pictures of the burned area.

The Franklin high school is giving the big Postamble dance in the gym March 9. This promises to be a merry affair. Frank Vaughn's orchestra will play.

The Kie Kloe club will give their initial hop at the Portland hotel March 17.

This week's issue of School Daze was printed on green paper, and dedicated to the 300 freshmen who entered school in the February term.

The funeral services of Mrs. E. Bell were held at the East Side Funeral Directors' parlors Monday, 4. Mrs. Bell died on her 32d birthday, March 2. Besides her husband she leaves a son, Oswald, and daughter, Mabel.

Mr. White, of the Arleta theater, is showing three pictures next week that have been indorsed by the national picture league. Your children will enjoy seeing these shows.

Herbert L. Stevens Dead

Funeral services for Herbert L. Stevens, manufacturers' representative, who had resided in Portland for 13 years up to his death Friday at his home at Foster and Deardorf roads, was held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Finley chapel. Knights Templar were in charge of the services. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery. Mr. Stevens was 59 years of age. Survivors are his widow, Alice M. Stevens, and three sons—Earl L., Howard C. and Bruce E. Stevens, all of Portland. He was a member of Lents Masonic lodge No. 156, White Shrine No. 1, Mount Scott chapter 110. Oregon commandery, and Al Kader temple. His former home was in Auburn, N. Y. Mr. Stevens was for several years proprietor of the Stevens department store at 5807 Ninety-second street.

Bride-Elect Entertained

On Thursday evening, March 1, Miss Stella Hulse, 5229 41st avenue, gave a miscellaneous dinner for Miss Jennie Lee, bride-elect. About 60 were present and many beautiful presents were received. Miss Lee is employed at the Tabor exchange of the telephone company.

Mr. Lynde Remodeling Building

J. F. Lynde is preparing to remodel his store building and flats at 6142 and 6150 Foster Road. This is made necessary by the fact that in grading and paving Foster Road, his buildings were left about two feet above the sidewalk. Many of the merchants on the south side of Foster Road find themselves in the same predicament since the paving is completed.

COURT HEARS OF OREGON STATUTE

NEW YORK ATTORNEYS INTERVENE IN NEBRASKA CASE BEFORE SUPREME COURT

FREEDOM OF EDUCATION

REPRESSIVE PROHIBITIONS SHOULD BE KEPT OUT OF THIS FIELD

The attention of the United States supreme court has been called to the Oregon compulsory public school attendance law though no case directly involving the law has been presented to the courts. There is before the supreme court a Nebraska case arising out of a statute forbidding the use of foreign languages in the elementary school grades and it was in connection with this that the Oregon law was brought to the notice of the court by William D. Guthrie and Bernard Herakopf, New York lawyers, who, as amici curiae, were permitted to file a brief in which the Oregon law is declared to be in conflict with the fundamental principles on which American institutions are founded.

Mr. Guthrie and his associates said that it was not their purpose to attack the Nebraska statute. "It has, however," they added, "been urged in the course of this controversy that the police power of a state over the education of minors is virtually unlimited; that a state may make education its own exclusive monopoly, and that it may prohibit any instruction of children in addition to the studies prescribed by it for all. With these contentions we most earnestly differ."

"Were there no more than that however, we should, nevertheless, not feel warranted in importuning the court in causes not our own. But, unfortunately, the views to which we have alluded and which we deem destructive of individual liberty and freedom of religion, have already found legislative expression in an enactment of the most serious character and far-reaching effect. In November of last year the people of the State of Oregon, acting under the initiative conferred upon them by the state constitution, adopted a law which attempts to abolish and prohibit, with some trivial exceptions, all instruction of children in private schools and to compel all the children of the state to attend the public schools, the desires of their parents and guardians to the contrary notwithstanding—and in Michigan, Oklahoma and California efforts to enact similar laws have been made but thus far failed of success. * * *

"It is undoubtedly true that the state may prescribe certain minimum standards for the education of minors. It may also prohibit certain species of additional instruction duly found to be inimical to the public welfare. Perhaps, therefore, it may be right for the legislature to declare that a foreign language shall not be taught to a child until after it has passed through the eighth grade. We need venture no opinion one way or the other upon that issue. But it transcends anything reasonably required for the decision of the question to argue (1) that the state may take all education of children to itself exclusively, or (2) that it may properly forbid any and all instruction of the child which is in addition to the prescribed course of study."

"The logical outcome of the latter contention is, perhaps, its own best refutation. Such a rule would not only prohibit private instruction of a right and healthy child in music, the arts and athletics, beyond or in addition to what was prescribed by the state, but it would also make unlawful the private teaching of religion to children. That that would be unconstitutional, we submit, is not open to doubt. If there be any field of human endeavor in which sweeping and repressive prohibitions are almost certain to be unjustifiable, we submit that it is the field of education."

OVERSEAS SOLDIERS BURIED

W. Edward Sherrow, aged 27 years, an overseas veteran, was buried Monday afternoon with military honors, in the soldiers' plot of the Mount Scott cemetery. A squad of soldiers from the Vancouver barracks fired a volley. The funeral services, held in the parlors of Holman & Sons, was conducted by Rev. J. F. Ghormley, pastor of the Kern Park Christian church. Sherrow, at the time of his death, was in the middle west.
